READING BROKE.

The Fierce War Between McLeod and the Vanderbilts Ended Disastrously to the Former Today.

There Was a Regular Panic on New York Exchange, Reading and Allied Stocks Dropping Rapidly.

As a Result of the Heavy Break, Three Firms Have Failed and Others Are Tottering.

President McLeod, Chief Justice Paxson and E. P. Wilbur Appointed Receivers of the Reading Road.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The third day of the great battle between the Vanderbilt and the McLeod forces opened on the stock exchange this morning when the slaughter of Friday and Saturday was continued and Reading was routed, horse, foot and artillery. The moment the exchange was opened for business, huge blocks of Reading were thrown on the market and inside of twelve minutes, the price was hammered down six and a half points. Then the usual reaction set in and the velocity of the descent was momentarily checked.

The scenes at the exchange throughout the morning were exciting. The galleries were packed to suffocation by an immense crowd which was interested and amused at what it saw. On the floor pandemonium reigned. Around the Reading post, there was a wild, struggling mass of panic-stricken humanity. Brokers jumped, roared, yelled, gesticulated; the roar arising from the babel of thousands of voices extending beyond the walls of the building, causing passers-by to stop in amazement.

It was a panic. Brokers tumbled over each other in their wild eagerness to unload. Reading was also rattled by the big blocks of from 1 to 11,000 shares at a time and snatched up by the bears at ruling prices. Reading's first, second and third income bonds dropped a point a minute.

Northern Pacific was also affected, and, owing to the reports of the investigating committee against Henry Villard and the present management, dropped several points. New York & New England stock was also rattled by the brokers. It closed Saturday at 41½, opened at 40 and broke rapidly to 34½. No failures were announced up to noon. It was said today that the Lehigh Valley would pass its dividend. It is due in April. This would be the first time in its history.

The tension of the market was terrific, the strain was too great for many firms, and shortly after noon some failures began to be announced. The first to go by the board was W. F. Russell, of No. 51 New Street. While the added excitement was still fresh came the announcement of another failure, that of T. J. Delaney, of No. 74 Broadway. Close on the heels of this came a third, that of G. S. Fleet, of No. 60 Broadway. The amount of their liabilities is unknown, but it is not believed to be large.

No reasons are given for the terrific onslaught on Reading and kindred. The heavy liquidation in these stocks, which was begun on Friday, had evidently not been exhausted and the buyers of the former step at 6 or thereabouts could not get rid of their holdings soon enough. The cause of weakness in Reading is believed on Wall Street to be the attitude assumed by the Vanderbilts and J. Pierpont Morgan toward Mr. McLeod and his associates for contemplating entering their territory. It is reported that a conference was held yesterday between Mr. Morgan and Mr. McLeod, but this cannot be confirmed. Another reason given for the great slump in Reading is that Speyer & Co. have called in the loan they made to the Reading last January for the purpose of paying off the interest on the 3 per cent bonds.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED.
The Reading Road Now in the Hands of the Court.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.—A meeting of the board of directors of the Reading & Philadelphia company was held this morning and the result was the appointment of a receiver for the company. The application for a receiver was made by the company and in the petition to the court asking that the receiver be appointed it was stated that it was believed that the best interest of the stockholders of the road would be preserved by the appointment of a receiver.

The court granted the application and appointed as receivers A. A. McLeod, president of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, Edward Paxson, chief justice of the supreme court of the state of Pennsylvania, and E. P. Wilbur, of the Lehigh Valley division of the Reading.

Later—the announcement that application for receivers for the Reading had been made to the court was prominent. The application had not been presented up to 3 o'clock this afternoon. The excitement at the opening of the stock exchange was intense and a panic prevailed. The first sale of Reading was at 15, a loss of 3½ over the closing quotations Saturday. Following this drop, the stock steadily declined and at 10:15 was quoted at 14. The stock of the roads allied with the Reading were also broken. The Lehigh Valley showed a loss of 1½ per cent on the opening sale at 40, while it soon dropped to 34½. Lehigh Valley started at 33, a loss of ½ per cent, and had not risen in twelve minutes to 42½.

Minister Ransom Dead.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Jos. M. Ransom, Mexican minister to Japan, died at midnight last night from dyspepsia.

THE CHEROKEE BOOMERS.

Will Take Possession of the Strip to Split Congress.

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Feb. 20.—Cherokee strip matters have taken a new and somewhat sensational turn, since the publication of the fact that congress is not likely to ratify the treaty at this session.

A permanent organization has been formed to occupy the lands of the strip immediately, without awaiting the action of congress. A general mass meeting of all "boomers" has been called to meet at Colorado, just over the line south of this place, on next Wednesday, to set the day for their march and the systematic plan of procedure.

Thousands of boomers awaiting here are very much aroused over the delay of congress, and they have fully determined to go upon the lands in utter disregard of consequences. They have been waiting, here some of them, for years and have disposed of their former homes and spent the proceeds. Still they are not able to rent farms.

The misery and want that will be the result of their not going upon the strip in time to make a crop is fully discussed, and they have made up their minds to go ahead without the consent of congress.

ITALIAN BANK SCANDALS.

Dupuy Zerebi's Death Removes One of the Chief of the Accused.

ROME, Feb. 20.—Deputy Zerebi, whose name has been prominently connected with the bank scandals, is dead. A command of the chamber of deputies recently reported in favor of delivering Deputy Zerebi to the public prosecutor to be dealt with on the courts on the charge of having received large bribes to induce him to support the interests of the Banca Romana in legislation.

Zerebi was very much prostrated by the charges against him and is known to have been physically as well as mentally affected by the prospect of facing a public prosecution. His death, nevertheless, excites surprise similar to the cause in France of the death of Baron Reinach.

Zerebi was accused of having received 200,000 francs within three years, from the Banca Romana, and Signor Sessa, a lawyer, was put under arrest on the charge of having been an intermediary between Zerebi and the bank. The death of Zerebi removes not only the chief among the accused parties, but also deprives the government of a valuable source of evidence.

HAVE PROBABLY PERISHED.

Four People Supposed to Have Died in a Blizzard.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 20.—A special to the News from Cadillac, Mich., says: A man named Holt and wife, with another man and woman left here yesterday afternoon in a sleigh, on their way to drive to Jennings, twelve miles distant. This morning one horse was found at Jennings but none of the party have shown.

They road they took an unfrequented one across the pine plains, and there are no houses on the way. It is said that the sleigh was overturned in a terrible storm that was raging at that time, the thermometer registering 15 degrees below zero. Searching parties are out.

Later—Searching parties have found Mr. Holt and wife and Mr. Dolquist and wife. The party started from here for Jennings yesterday afternoon. All were badly frozen and one of the woman's hands and feet will have to be amputated. They had cut the horses loose to give the alarm.

WILL NOW BE HANGED.

A Wife Murderer Who Feigned Insanity Was Declared Sane.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The court which has been investigating the alleged insanity of Howard J. Schneider who murdered his wife and brother-in-law in this city, has adjudged him sane, and he has been re-sentenced to death, to be hanged on March 17.

The investigating has recalled many of the incidents of the Guiteau trial. The judge who preside (Judge Cox) was the same who tried Guiteau, the leading government expert who testified that the murderer was simply feigning insanity was the same who passed upon the sanity of Guiteau, and other surrounding circumstances established close similarity between the two cases.

Killed By a Train.

GREENFIELD, O., Feb. 20.—In attempting to drive across the track of the Ohio Southern railroad near Fruitdale this morning, Capt. James C. Crawford and his son William, aged 17, were run down and instantly killed. The horse was also killed and the buggy demolished. Capt. Crawford was a successful farmer, and served with distinction in the Eighty-first Ohio regiment during the war of the rebellion. He leaves a widow and several children.

CONGRATULATED THE POPE.

ROME, Feb. 20.—The zaritz has telegraphed his congratulations to the pope on the occasion of the pontiff's episcopal jubilee. There were 60,000 people at St. Peter's yesterday when Pope Leo officiated at the special jubilee mass. His energy of voice and gesture astonished the people.

AN UNFOUNDED REPORT.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 20.—The reports sent out yesterday to the effect that the steamer Odell had sunk in the Upper Cumberland river, with a loss of thirty-eight lives, are unfounded. She will arrive here this afternoon. The river is still rising.

IN A SERIOUS CONDITION.

Mrs. Cora McCormack, nee Brooke, is dying at her home on West Fifth street with tuberculosis and other serious complications. She is unable to see any but her physician and nurse, and has not been for some weeks. As Miss Brooke she will be remembered as one of the most successful and respected teachers in the Duluth public schools, and the news of her serious illness will be received with deep regret.

A FIERCE BLIZZARD.

Pennsylvania Visited by a Severe Wind and Snow Storm Last Night Which Did Much Damage.

The Roof of a Large Block in Allegheny Stripped Off and One of the Inmates Injured.

A Woman so Badly Frightened by the Storm That She Dropped Dead in the Street.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 20.—During the blizzard which swooped down upon the two cities last evening, the Boyle block on Federal street, Allegheny, was wrecked. About forty feet of its roof was torn off and shingles and timbers crashed through upon the floor. The occupants in the upper stories rushed pell mell from the building. Mary McFall was struck by pieces from the building and seriously injured.

A Knoxville incline car was blown off by the wind. Mrs. Mary Hughes, on 435 South Thirty-fourth street, who was walking on the street when the storm broke, was so badly frightened that she fell to the pavement and was picked up dead. It is stated that she was subject to epilepsy. It is supposed she was taken with a fit, and the light proved too much for her.

VIOLENT WIND STORM.

It Came Very Suddenly and Did Considerable Damage.

STURBEVILLE, O., Feb. 20.—The most violent wind storm which has visited this city for years occurred last night. A heavy snow storm was in progress at that time. Suddenly and without any warning, a terrific wind struck the city. It became so dark that the electric lights had to be turned on.

The falling snow was driven in every direction and pedestrians were unable to find their way along the street. The heavy plate glass in the court house block was blown in, signs wrenched from their fastenings and hurled down the street.

VESSELS ARE IN DISTRESS.

Blowing a Gale at Sandy Hook and a Heavy Sea Running.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—It is blowing a gale at Sandy Hook and a very heavy sea is running. Tugs and small craft about the bay are having a hard time buffeting the wind and waves, and reports are beginning to come in of vessels in distress at Sandy Hook city island and other places along the shore. Schomner J. Butler of New York, bound from Amboy to Sandy Hook with coal for the engineers department there, has sunk alongside the government dock. An unknown bark anchored in the lower bay is dragging her anchor and is likely to go ashore on the beach at Sandy Hook. A steamer, apparently the Santa, with a barge in tow, is near the tail end of Romers Point and the barge is aground.

FLOODS IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Wind Blowing a Fearful Gale and Waves Twenty Feet High.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 20.—The river is now higher than any time since the disastrous floods of 1888. The wind is blowing a fearful gale and the waves are ten or twenty feet high. There has been much damage to wharf boats and other floating properties.

Nine small house boats sank yesterday and last night, the occupants in some cases barely escaping with their lives.

Towns adjacent to Huntington are suffering very much. Houses have been swept and washed away, involving the loss of hundreds of dollars. If the river continues to rise much longer Huntington will also be in danger.

A THREATENING ASPECT.

The River Still Rising at Cincinnati and Alarm Felt.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 20.—The river has assumed the threatening aspect. It continued to rise during Saturday night and all of Sunday. From noon Sunday to 3 o'clock this morning it rose just one foot four and a half inches. The flood has now created real alarm. Trade and traffic is interfered with. Newport is already suffering in the lower streets. Mill Creek is flooded almost to the top of the banks, and the water has crept into some cellars on the upper side of Front street.

At 8 o'clock this morning the Big Four and the Chesapeake & Ohio trains were the only ones running into the Grand Central depot. The Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern does not come in farther than Eighth street. The Cincinnati Southern is making its depot at McLean avenue and the Ohio & Mississippi at Mill street. The Big Four and Columbus & Ohio trains are running like boats through a foot of water at the foot of Smith's Mound and other streets.

The switchmen, clad in rubber boots, are working the switches with the water up to their knees. The depot master at the Grand Central depot said: "No trains can come into the depot at a stage of fifty-five feet in the river. At fifty-five feet the water will cover the lower end of the platform, but it will take a foot or more to bring it up to the gates."

The general opinion was expressed by rivermen Monday that the water will reach a stage of fifty-six feet. The indications above are still favorable to a rise, while the Southern streams are still full.

Governor Turney Better.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 20.—Governor Turney has almost entirely recovered from his recent illness and will assume the duties of his office tomorrow.

GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Temporary Quarters to be Occupied by the President-elect.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—A gossiping correspondent writes as follows in regard to the temporary quarters selected for the president-elect at the Arlington: The particular rooms which already go glibly as the "Cleveland rooms" are on the second floor and include parlor, dining room and three bed rooms for the especial use of Mr. Cleveland's family. Col. Lamont and a parlor and three bed rooms for Mr. Dickinson.

Entering a hall, where an exquisite Venetian lamp burns softly in lieu of sunshine, which is shut out, to the right opens Mrs. Cleveland's spacious parlor. Here five windows afford a flood of light, subdued by draperies of delicately wrought lace and lustrous silk. Leading from the drawing room is Mr. Cleveland's bed room. In the adjoining bedroom a small white and gold bedstead is assigned to Baby Ruth. Beyond this is Miss Cleveland's room.

Opening to the left from the hall is the dining room, which is furnished in oak, with a glittering array of china and cut glass. It is interesting to know that Mrs. Cleveland will use a knife, fork and spoon which were once the property of the Empress Eugenie, and that the president elect will drink his coffee from a cup that at one time belonged to Napoleon Bonaparte.

Col. Lamont's parlor communicates with the dining room, with Mr. Dickinson's directly opposite. The entire suite is so placed that it can be wholly separating to trusts and providing for acceptance of same by cities; George Wilson's bill providing for incorporation of villages having 150 inhabitants.

The reapportionment committee have yet done but little toward the plan of re-districting the state. The clerk of the committee has been collecting the necessary statistics. J. E. Cooley has sent in statistics giving the registered vote in St. Louis county at the last election at not far short of 17,000. This will result no doubt in giving St. Louis county more senators and representatives. Hennepin county with five and Ramsey with four senators gives the Twin Cities an undue influence as compared with Duluth, which has only one senator.

Kelly's anti-cigarette bill was endorsed to have been a joke but endorsements are coming in from all over the country and it is liable now to be taken seriously. The amended and passed if the agitation keeps up.

It begins to look like rocky sledding for all grand warehouse and elevator bills in the house committee.

J. A. TAYLOR ARRESTED.

His Uncle Chances Him With Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses.

Joseph A. Taylor was arrested late Saturday afternoon on requisition papers obtained by Chicago parties and was taken to St. Paul Saturday night and last night to Chicago. He was arrested on complaint of his uncle, Mr. M. D. Edmunds, of Chicago. He charges Taylor with having induced him to invest $2000 in a stock company organized to work a Jasper quarry on a piece of land near Dorion, Ont., which he claimed to have an option on. Edmunds claims that there was no Jasper on the land as reported and that Taylor procured his samples elsewhere.

Mr. Taylor was greatly surprised when arrested, and claimed that the matter could be easily settled, and that there was no ground for the charge. He was manager of the Lackawanna Iron company until about six months ago. Dr. J. A. Smealie denies the statement in the morning paper that he joined with Dr. Edmunds in the complaint and says that he is in no way interested.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

The Different Views of the London Papers on the Measure.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The News this morning maintains that nearly nine tenths of the difficulties raised in debate by opponents of the home rule bill have been removed by publication of the text of the measure. The News discusses the financial clause of the measure at great length, pointing out the immense cost of the troops and armed police in Ireland which will be saved to the British taxpayer if the bill becomes law.

The Telegraph says that the measure is even more recklessly perilous to the peace and safety of the empire and that it is more fruitful of difficulty and complication in details than the bill of 1886. The Post says that the bill is capriciously framed to catch by its brilliant vagueness the vote of those who might stickle at its lines were they more precise.

A DEMOCRATIC SENATOR.

W. N. Roach Elected Senator by the North Dakota Legislature.

BISMARCK, N. D., Feb. 20.—W. N. Roach, Democrat, of Grand Forks was elected United States senator on the sixty-first ballot today. Roach has been a resident of Dakota for the past thirteen years, coming to Grand Forks county from the District of Columbia.

He was born in Loudon county, Virginia, and is now 43 years of age. He has a family of four children and is now a widower. He has stood for his party as its candidate for governor on two different occasions, being defeated both times. He is an extensive wheat grower.

PEOPLE ARE SUFFERING.

Twenty-Eight Houses Destroyed By Fire in Alaska.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 20.—A letter has been received from New Metakanta, Alaska, known as "Father Dunkan Mission," giving particulars of a fire there Feb. 7, in which twenty-eight houses were destroyed in two hours.

The people are suffering for want of clothing and shelter. The fire destroyed about a quarter of the town, entailing a loss of $2000. Requests for aid have resulted in $300 being subscribed in the city so far, and more will be forthcoming.

To Enfranchise Mormons.

BOISE, Utah, Feb. 20.—The story election bill providing for the enfranchisement of the Mormons of this state has passed both the senate and the house and will be approved by the governor. The bill annuls the retroactive law passed at the last session of the Idaho legislature which disfranchised all persons who, since Jan. 1, 1883, have been members of Mormon church.

Gutted by Fire.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Feb. 20.—Fire gutted the Hartman block this morning. The building was occupied by a branch of the Faber Brewing company, M. J. Dillon, liquors and cigars; L. Croze, saloon, and seven secret societies.

MANY BILLS PASSED.

The Senate Could Not Muster a Quorum Today but the House Settled Down to Business.

St. Louis County is Likely to Get More Senators and Representatives in the Coming Reapportionment.

There is Now a Fair Probability That Pat Kelly's Anti-Cigarette Bill Will be Passed.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—The senate could scarcely muster a quorum this morning, and the session went over until the afternoon until more were present, when the calendar is to be taken up. In the house, general orders were considered, and the following bills were recommended to pass: Anderson's bill compelling all trains to stop at county seats; Horton's bill to appropriate $15,000 to build a monument on the field of Chippewa in honor of the Second Minnesota regiment; H. M. Richardson's bill amending the law relating to trusts and providing for acceptance of same by cities; George Wilson's bill providing for incorporation of villages having 150 inhabitants.

The reapportionment committee have yet done but little toward the plan of re-districting the state. The clerk of the committee has been collecting the necessary statistics. J. E. ## THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Rev. C. F. Southworth Discourses on the Changed Attitude of the Roman Catholics Toward Them.

The Success of the Liberal Branch of the Church He Believes Means Much to Americans.

Some Remarks as to the Exclusion of Politics and Religion From the Schools.

Rev. F. C. Southworth preached yesterday morning at the Unitarian church on "The Roman Catholic Church and the Public Schools." As the sermon dealt with a question which is very prominent in the public mind at present, a synopsis will be interesting. The text was Gal. vi. 10: "So then as we have opportunity let us work that which is good toward all men." In opening Mr. Southworth said:

"Violent and bitter have been the attacks and counter attacks and the charges and counter charges of the last few months and years in the religious warfare that has been going on between certain American citizens who call themselves Catholics and certain others who call themselves Protestants, on the subject of American public schools. Much intemperate language has been used on both sides. The incessant Catholic criticism of the public school system of the country and the numerous unfair and un-Christian statements which have been made in this connection have, I think, been fully balanced by like unfairness on the other side. The crowds and the applause which have attended the coarse abuse that has been heaped on the whole Catholic church in public lectures delivered lately in this city are something of an indication of the present state of public opinion here. Such attacks are easy to make on either side. The absurd Catholic claim to a religious institution which has come down through the ages without a single change has laid the church open to the criticism for the acts of her representatives during the dark ages and enticed her to falsify history in the attempt to substantiate her claims."

Leo XIII, the speaker said, has been held responsible for the excesses of Constantine and the church of the Nineteenth century is reproached with the reign of Bloody Mary and the massacre of St. Bartholomew. All the horrors of mediæval barbarism have been raked out of misty histories and charged directly to the influence of the only church then existing. As to these charges, he said, that no matter how jealous people were of the encroachments on the public school system nothing could be gained by an intemperate and unfair method of dealing with facts. The just and fair-minded Protestant is beginning to see that there are bright pages in the record of the Catholic church as well as dark, and when told of the enormities of the mediæval church is apt to balance them in his mind by the self-sacrificing devotion of Catholic missionaries and the countless deeds of sisters of charity who in their quiet and unobtrusive way are doing what they can to alleviate suffering and uplift humanity.

Speaking of the demands of the church upon its followers Mr. Southworth said that he believed the statement of Gladstone in his pamphlet on the Vatican decrees, that "no one can become a convert to Rome without renouncing his moral and his mental freedom and placing his loyalty and duty at the mercy of another." This he declared to be the legitimate outcome of the Catholic doctrine which places allegiance to the pope before allegiance to country but at the same time, he said that he had little patience with the demands of certain Protestants who would exact from their Catholic brother a conformity to the articles of this faith which they would be unwilling to submit themselves. "Let us not demand one standard of the Catholic and another of the Protestant," he said. "Neither could he be a good citizen and live strictly in accordance with the creed that he professes. But if I were obliged to govern my life by either I should choose the Catholic rather than the Calvinistic."

Continuing the speaker said that it is not true that a Catholic's oath of allegiance to the pope makes him a bad citizen for the pope knows that the moment the crisis comes when his country needs him he is going to answer to the call. To show Catholic patriotism, he cited Sheridan and Catholic company at Gettysburg. "Read the address of Archbishop Ireland at the opening of the World's fair," said he, "and ask yourselves if that is the utterance of a patriotic American. No friends it may be that the Catholic oath of allegiance puts the pope first and country last, but when the Catholic himself is put to the test it is usually found that if the pope gets in the way when his country needs him he is obliged to get out again as best he may."

When the air is filled with reports of two great Protestant heresy trials it is a bad time in which to reproach another church as an especial opponent of progress, the speaker said. Father McGlynn, the boldest heretic of modern times, is today having a better time among the Catholics than Prof. Smith among the Protestants. Catherine de Medici was fully as tolerant as Archbishop Laud, and the modern heretic stands a better chance with Pope Leo XIII. than before the majority of Protestant tribunals.

"I have perhaps lingered too long in the endeavor to show that no religious body has a monopoly of the intolerance and bigotry of the world," continued Mr. Southworth. "Let us turn now from past history and look at a thing which is more immediately to our purpose, the present attitude of the Roman church toward the public school system of our country. I wish to consider the question this morning because I believe that recent events of the most far-reaching significance have changed the entire aspect of the question, and have made our duty to our Roman Catholic brethren stand out in an entirely different light. Let me mention in a few words as possible some of these events which seem to me so significant."

"The controversy by which the entire Catholic church is now shaken came first to the surface as a result of the now famous Faribault plan, by which Archbishop Ireland proposed as an experiment to turn over to the civil authorities the parochial school buildings of two parishes at a nominal rent, asking only that Catholic teachers be retained. Most vehement and bitter opposition to this plan was at once awakened throughout the entire American church, and as a result archbishops, bishops, priests and laymen were soon ranged over against each other in two opposing parties. Archbishop Ireland the leader of the liberal or if I may so call it, the American party, Archbishop Corrigan of New York, the leader of the high church or the Roman party. In the midst of this controversy Archbishop Ireland proceeded to Rome to secure papal endorsement of his plan, and as recent events have shown, was eminently successful in his mission."

"Following his departure was the issue of the Bouquillon pamphlet, which stirred up further discussion throughout the church, but whose significance the Protestant world is only just beginning to appreciate. Dr. Bouquillon is a professor of moral theology in the Catholic university at Washington, and his pamphlet defines the respective functions of church and state, in a way which from a Roman Catholic standpoint is simply revolutionary. Let me quote a few sentences from this pamphlet, written by one so high in authority in the Catholic church. 'The church has not received the mission to make known the human sciences. She has not been established for the progress of the nation in arts and sciences no more than to render them powerful and wealthy. Her duty in teaching human science is only indirect—a work of charity or necessity, of charity when they are not sufficiently taught by others who have that duty, of necessity when they are badly taught, that is, in a sense opposed to supernatural truth and morality. * * * We affirm that the state has authority over education. This authority is included in that general authority with which the state is invested for promoting the common good, for guaranteeing to each his rights, for preventing abuses. * * * If the state may exact on the part of teachers evidences of capability, on the part of children a minimum of instruction, if it may punish negligent parents, it follows that it may prescribe the teaching of this or that branch, the knowledge of which is deemed necessary to the majority of the citizens.'"

"You will see at once the opposition which such a pamphlet must have excited among that large body of Catholics who had opposed the sending of Catholic children to the public schools, for it concedes the whole principle on which our public school system is founded, namely the right of the state to educate her children for her own protection and her own welfare. Moreover it yields the point on which liberal American Catholics have so strenuously insisted, and admits that it is not for the church but for the state to give Catholic children their secular education. The future of the church to perform that office comes in only when it is badly done by the state or when the state is unable to do it. We are not here concerned with the question whether the education of a child can be divided up in that way, and its secular education given to one school while its religious education goes to another. I believe that it cannot. But what we need to notice here is that by the provisions of this pamphlet, with which the pope and the papal delegate and the large liberal Catholic party in America are in thorough sympathy, the opposition to the public schools must cease, and the public school must in the future derive its loyal support from the good Catholics as from the good Protestants."

"Another instance of the change in front of Catholicism is the case of Father McGlynn. Commanded to discontinue his support of the single tax theory of Henry George, he refused to obey the injunction, was excommunicated, but continued to advocate the same doctrine and, in spite of bitter Catholic opposition, to oppose strenuously any public appropriation for parochial schools. Summoned to Rome to answer at the highest bar of the church for his misdeeds, he refused to obey the summons, asserting against the supreme authority of the church his rights as a man and an American. It is commonly believed that the opposition to him arose much from his hostility to parochial schools as from his advocacy of a single tax. And now the glad news comes to us that he has been triumphantly vindicated, and that without detracting a single syllable, he will continue to teach as he has taught before, with the full support of Rome."

"We now come to the climax of the recent important events, the sending of the papal delegate to America, the cardinal support which he has rendered to the liberal party, the slanders set in motion against him by Archbishop Corrigan, the attempt made by him to secure Satolli's recall, and the vindication of the latter by the pope in his appointment as permanent papal delegate. Listen to the epoch-making words, which I believe mean more for the cause of freedom in America than any message since the last proclamation of President Lincoln: 'We strictly forbid anyone, whether bishop or priest, and this is the expressed prohibition of the sovereign pontiff through the sacred congregation, either by act or threat, to exclude from the sacraments as unworthy parents who choose to send their children to the public schools. As regards the children themselves this enactment applies with still greater force. A new papal attack upon the public schools are the words with which a prominent religious monthly, edited by a man who has often lectured in this city, labels the address of Mgr. Satolli to the assembled bishops at Baltimore. I do not thus understand the logic of his utterance. However illogical may be the Catholic position as to the religious education of children, and I shall speak of that in a moment, this proposition from the papal delegate is, as I believe, the beginning of the death-knell of the parochial schools as a permanent American institution."

"Mr. Southworth next took up the question of what the public schools are, to which the Catholic schools seem about to lend their public as well as private support. The army of the illiterate is a sighter force than any foreign power that ever invaded this country. It is they who breed the hosts of unemployed and discontented ones who have wrought the horrors at Homestead and inaugurated a reign of terror in the far West. The problem of how to deal rightly with them is a much more complicated one than that of foreign affairs. It is to the teacher in the American public school that we must look for help in this hour of need. The object of the American school is to make the American citizen. "When I see a body of men," said the speaker, "who have heretofore appeared to me indifferent to its success, coming forward and offering to co-operate with me in making it better, whether they be Catholics or Protestants or Buddhists or Mohammedans I propose to take them by the hand and see if we cannot work together for a common end."

As to the cry that politics and religion must be banished from the schools, he said that it is a natural and at first thought a reasonable demand, and yet would it not defeat the very end for which the school exists. What is politics but the old Greek word for citizenship and what is religion but the reality of life, the one thing which is needed to make the perfect man and therefore the perfect citizen."

The demand that a child should be taught in one place what is sacred and in another what is secular is based on a misapprehension of what makes a thing sacred or secular. When the Catholic church undertakes to provide for the religious education of its children it means that it will teach them the Roman Catholic catechism and church history, but it does not necessarily mean that it will make them any more religious than they might become without it. Skill in manipulating a catechism is not religion and the fact that the Bible has been read in the public schools need not imply that any or all of its pupils are religious. Neither does the fact that a text book on ethics has been studied imply that those who have studied it are living in any closer accord with the dictates of morality. The atmosphere of sincerity, earnestness and reverence which may surround the humblest school will do more to stimulate real religion than the study of the most elaborate catechism or the most finely spun theory of morals. It is not then politics and religion in the deepest sense which we would exclude from the schools, but it is partisanship in politics and sectarianism in religion which we would gladly banish."

"The recent great victory for the liberal party in the Catholic church in America," continued Mr. Southworth, "is one which every true American may truly view with pride. The reign of the common people has begun, and Leo the Thirteenth has been keen enough to see it coming. In Germany, France and England he has put the church in accord with the party of progress. And now he is coming with a strong arm to the assistance of the progressive Catholics here. A papal trick, you say: a shifting of ground by which he may strengthen his own power, and finally grasp the reins of government himself. It may be. He would certainly be a poor Catholic if he were not working in the interests of his church. The motives which actuate him is a matter into which I do not care to enter. I am only claiming that the policy of the men to whom he is at present giving his support in this country is one which will make true citizens and true Americans out of the American youth who but for the public schools would swell the constantly increasing ranks of the dangerous classes."

"Do you fear that the Catholic youth educated in this land of freedom and inculcated with the spirit of patriotism which should pervade every free school in this republic will ever submit to political dictation from a foreign potentate? The triumphant vindication of Dr. McGlynn is an answer to such fears. The present policy of the pope, shrewd as it may be for the perpetuation of the system which he represents, is one which will defeat every attempt to destroy the republic. The more that love of country is infused into the breasts of its children and the better they understand the principles on which our government is founded, the harder will it be to overturn our constitution or to render it ineffective. Only let us realize the situation with which we are confronted; let us welcome as brethren in a common cause the men who have received hard knocks in fighting their way to our side, and let us join with them in the attempt to work out a better educational system than we now possess."

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Feb. 20.—A cold wave has moved down suddenly from the North and covers the lake region with temperatures below zero here. Fort Arthur & Marquette & Duluth & La Crosse & Detroit & St. Paul
& the warmest place is Fort Smith, Ark. 41.

A few places in the lake report precipitation during the past twenty-four hours, the heaviest of which was two inches of snow at Marquette.

The temperature went up to 25 above yesterday morning at this place, and fell again during the night to below.

tomorrow: For Minnesota: Light local snows
in northern portions; generally fair in southern portions; southwest winds; warmer Tuesday morning; probably warmer Tuesday evening.

Duluth and the Southwest.

The long projected Duluth & Duluth
railroad, designed to run from Sioux City to Pueblo and Denver, appears to have been revived, and if the reports now published be true, considerable life
has been infused into the enterprise.

It is asserted that the Canadian Pacific railway is back of the scheme, with the idea of making a connection with the great systems of the Southwest.

Whether this part of the story, which is told at length in the news columns today, is correct or not, it is certain that surveys have been at work on the route from Sioux City to Denver for over a year and that the survey is now complete, and there are indications that the work of constructing the line is to be begun in the near future.

When this company was organized about three years ago, its promoters announced that arrangements had been made for connections with lines already built from the Missouri river to Duluth,
and it was inferred that the Sioux City & Northern and the Great Northern roads were meant. A glance at the map of the Northwest will show that this would be a valuable addition to Duluth's railway system, giving direct connection between this city and a rich district that would contribute a large amount of traffic for handling at this point.

The building of the Pueblo & Duluth arrangements with connecting lines to Duluth would give a very direct line
from the head of the lakes to Denver,
tapping a fine country that is nearer to Duluth than to Chicago and which, with proper rail connections, would transact
here the business that it does in Chicago.
Duluth people will therefore trust that the current rumors are correct and that the present year will witness the building of such a desirable connection.

This is a good time to again direct attention to the need of a direct line from Duluth to Omaha. This is a subject that has been frequently discussed,
but no effort has ever been made to carry the idea into execution. The Omaha Bee has frequently insisted on the necessity of having an air line from that city to Duluth and has pointed out the great benefit that both cities would derive from it.

Would it not be a good idea to agitate
this question and see if some measures cannot be adopted to further the important enterprise? Duluth is now virtually shut out of the Northwestern business by lack of a direct rail connection, and yet that section is much nearer to Duluth than Chicago on an air line.

Crass Stupidity.

The sleepy old News Tribune is both stupid and uninteresting. It is stupid because it apparently imagines that the people put any credence in what it says
in favor of the bridge bill which its owners are endeavoring in vain to get through congress, or in its denial of the charge that they have blocked the passage of the Transfer company's Grassy Point bridge bill, in order to bluff the Transfer people into supporting their scheme to secure a bridge at Rice's Point that would give the Duluth street railway a monopoly of the interurban traffic. It is infinitely stupid when it expects the public now to believe that
"the promoters of the Duluth-Superior Bridge" company's bill are most friendly to the Transfer company's scheme," when a few days ago it insisted that the Transfer company's bill should not be passed unless the Duluth-Superior company's bill was passed at the same time.

The uninteresting feature of the News
Tribune is found in its senseless questioning of the authenticity of The Herald's Washington dispatches. Such an exhibition of enterprise as the employment of a Washington correspondent by The Herald is beyond the conception of the kindergarten journalists in the Sixth avenue cellar, but if it will inquire at the North American telegraph office it will learn that The Herald really does receive specials from Washington almost daily.

A Notable Convert.

One of the most conspicuous political conversions of the day is that of the New York Sun from a believer in the protective idea to a supporter of the free trade policy. Heretofore the Cleveland Democrats have asserted that the Sun was not a true blue Democrat, because it clung to the protective principles advocated by the late Samuel J. Randall and others and refused to support the tariff reform campaign. It refused in the November election to discuss tariff reform
as the issue and made the force bill the prominent issue.

Mr. Dana, however, has been convinced that the people declared in favor of tariff reform in November, and he bows to the popular will, hence the following statement in a recent issue of the Sun: "We believe that the majority of the people
voted for it, and so far as we are concerned, we earnestly desire and intend that the experiment of free trade shall be thoroughly, faithfully, and persistently made in accordance therewith.
There may be a few members of the Democratic party who do not share in our conviction respecting this subject, and who mean to evade and falsify the solemn and unequivocal declaration of the party; and we hold it to be the duty
of all journals that mean to deal frankly and uprightly by the people, to expose and denounce such tergiversation and evasion."

The Educational Exhibit.

Minnesota's educational institutions will be well represented at the World's fair. This much is assured from the description of the exhibit which is in course of preparation by the committee having the matter in charge. The details are given in another column in an article written by the secretary of the committee, and they show that our excellent school system will be shown to good advantage.

The exhibit will embrace all grades of educational work carefully classified and arranged. The floor space allotted to this exhibit amounts to 2400 square feet,
which is limited indeed, but the committee feel confident that even with such a small amount of room it is possible to make a complete and effective showing of the educational work of the state.

One of the features of the exhibit will be photographs of the best educational buildings in Minnesota, and in this particular Duluth will stand at the head
with her handsome new high school building, that is the pride of the city and an object of admiration by all visitors.
Special contributions of work will also be made by the Duluth schools, and it is safe to say they will not be inferior to those coming from any other part of the state.

The Herald learns with pleasure that Senator Daugherty is in favor of Mr.
Markham's bill taxing railroad lands
and that it is receiving his hearty support in the senate. This measure will benefit St. Louis county, as well as nearly every county in the northern part of the state, and naturally Senator Daugherty will vote for it. The indications now are that the bill will pass the senate, and it is safe to say that if it does it will receive Governor Nelson's approval and become a law.

The News Tribune yesterday gave it the name of "stereographic report" of Mr. Hill's speech at the Jobbers' union banquet, and yet it was not as complete as the report given in The Herald on the day after the banquet. And then just think of Mr. Hill being represented by the morning paper as referring to
"the late Jay Cooke!"

The victory of the Merritts, by the denial of the injunction asked by W. L.
Brown, of Chicago, to prevent the deal with the Rockefeller syndicate, is pleasing to Duluth. It completely knocks out the people who have been trying to wreck the great enterprise which means
so much for the prosperity of Duluth.

The statement that Governor McKinley is likely to be reduced to comparative poverty by endorsing the paper of an old friend who has failed will be received with regret. The governor will have the sympathy of every person who adores his ability, even if all do not agree with his political views.

Talking of "fakes," how about that "special" from Tower in yesterday's News Tribune, telling about a probable murder? The story appeared in the Vermilion Iron Journal, which was issued on Friday and reached Duluth Saturday afternoon.

What a pity it is that the quarantine
authorities were not able to keep Charlie Mitchell out of the country. Some people would prefer cholera to the daily dispatches filled with his bombast and bluster.

Duluth's bank clearings last week
showed an increase of 10.7 per cent over the corresponding period of 1892, while those of Minneapolis stood stationary.
Is Minneapolis drooping?

The New York Sun intimates that his real name is Hoax Smith. This is probably because Dave Hill's claim of carrying Georgia was turned into a hoax by Mr. Smith.

Maj. Baldwin has induced the Indian commissioner to recommend the location of an Indian school at Duluth. The major is doing good work at Washington.

The A. P. A.

The Two Harbor News says: A special from Duluth Saturday evening brought up about sixty-five members of the American Protective association of that city, who organized an association
here. The meeting was held at Norden hall. Not having seen a prospectus of the order, we are not familiar with its work.

No Modification.

A Washington special says: J. W.
Midgely, chairman of the Central Traffic association, has appeared before the interstate commerce commission and asked that the order of the commission in the Minneapolis grain rate cases be modified in many particulars. Attorney Brown, for the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, claimed that the propositions of Midgely would have the effect of totally upsetting all that had been asked and argued by the Minneapolis chamber very quickly decided not to grant the modifications asked.

Read the following from grateful parents:
"To C. H. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"We think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most valuable medicine on the market for blood and skin diseases. Our two children suffered terribly for two years. We had three physicians at that time, but neither of them succeeded in curing them of even in giving them a little relief. At last we tried Hood's Sarsaparilla

TWO LARGE OUTPUTS

reparations Being Made at the Minnesota and Chandler Mines for Heavy Shipments This Year.

argest Hoisting Plant in the Lake Superior Region Started at the Minnesota Today.

heridan Iron Company Struck Ore at a Depth of Eighty-five Feet on the Rouchleau.

The new Webster, Camp & Lane hoisting plant was started at the Minnesota mine today, the change of cables from shafts 7 and 8 being taken down. This is one of the largest hoisting plants in the Lake Superior iron district. The engines are of the Corliss type, the cylinders being 22 by 48 inches. The rums, of which there are four, are 10 feet in diameter and weigh eight tons each. This very complete and modern equipment will hoist one cubic yard in No. 7, and eventually one in No. 8. Chief Carpenter Fraser was found by a iron Journal reporter busy drafting plans for the buildings and timber work which will soon be commenced for the commodation of the two new ore crushers, that are ordered. The 22-ton crusher at No. 8 is being taken down and new are already cutting away the ground preparatory to the erection of these new buildings and the framework for the screening apparatus that is to be put in. The new crushers will be 60-ton machines and will have a mouth 30x30 inches, thus enabling it to take much larger chunks of ore than the one that has been used. These new crushers will be built on the same general plan as the crusher now in use, but a few slight changes being embodied in the plans.

The report that the Minnesota company had laid off 170 men is not correct. Although it is correct for estimates the Minnesota people do not regard 60,000 tons for the Minnesota and 700,000 tons for the Chandler as an impossibility for 1893.

NEW FIND NEAR MCKINLEY.

The Sheridan Iron Company Strikes Ore on the Rouchleau.

The Sheridan Iron Company, which began explorations on Rouchleau lands near McKinley three months ago, succeeded in striking ore at a depth of 85 feet about ten days ago. The Range representative made a visit to the property last week and took a look behind the scenes. The shaft was down 102 feet and in 15 feet of ore was not yet entirely clean, but that at the bottom looks very well.

A second shaft is down 30 feet, but so much water was encountered that work was suspended last Wednesday, the No. 3 Cameron pump being unable to take care of the water.

At the first shaft, which is well timbered and 51x50 feet in size, there is a joint with two-foot drum, and a No. 5 Cameron pump. There is also considerable water here but the pump easily disposes of it. Drifting will soon be commenced from this shaft.

The northeast corner of the property adjoins the southwest corner of the McKinley township and is conveniently located, the Duluth & Iron Range running directly through it. The crew is in charge of Capt. William White, who was formerly engaged at the Silver Island mine in Lake Superior.

The two shafts spoken of are located one on either side of a swamp, which is about 400 feet wide, and Superintendent White is of opinion that a considerable body will be found in the depression.

More Explorations. The Standard ore company recently acquired a lease of the Schor property in section 10, 38-48, formerly worked by Capt. Cummings, and last week sent a large crew of men in charge of Capt. J. E. Drouillard, to begin extensive explorations thereon. The machinery originally purchased for the Hale property, consisting of a hoisting plant, boiler and pump, were sent to the new field.

This property is considered a good one, Capt. Cummings having discovered ore thereon, but he encountered so much water that he was driven out soon after reaching the ore. It is hoped with the aid of a good pump, to show up a large body of ore.

At the Cincinnati. Mesaba Range: Up to Saturday night last the Cincinnati had shipped about 2,000 tons of ore to the West Duluth blast furnace. There is nothing particularly new at this mine to report this week. Sinking is still going on and considerable regular work will soon commence there. Superintendent Gundy says the present working shaft will be abandoned in the spring, as he finds it is not located in the proper place for economical working of the property.

Have Got an Opinion. Ishpeming Iron Ore: Messrs. W. C. Uren and F. Braastad, of this city, W. J. Officer, of Tracy, Minn., and J. F. Foley, of Neegaunee, have secured an option of Mesaba range lands and will test them for iron ore. They are mining men of long experience and have good ideas as to what is needed for success, and will proceed on the best plans for developing their holdings.

SCHOOLS AT THE FAIR.

How Minnesota's Educational Exhibit Has Been Laid Out.

Frank T. Wilson, general secretary of the committee having in charge the work of preparing the World's fair educational exhibit, has about completed arrangements for the exhibit to be prepared by the schools and colleges of this state. The work has progressed so rapidly and is so nearly completed that he has prepared a special paper giving the details of the exhibit. His paper is as follows:

"Space has finally been awarded the state, located in the southwest corner of the gallery of the manufactures' and liberal arts building. The location is peculiar. It comprises two distinct parallel galleries about 60 feet in width running around the entire outer wall. An idea of the enormous magnitude of the building is obtained when the fact is recognized that these galleries are 100 feet apart and still the inner one is apparently closed to the outer wall. Bridge 50 feet in width and 100 feet apart connect the two galleries. Each bridge gives 2,000 square feet of floor space. The total space afforded by these bridges amounts to 80,000 square feet. About 100,000 square feet of floor space in the southern end of the gallery is devoted to the educational interests of the United States. It is divided approximately as follows: 20,000 feet to Catholic parochial schools; 25,000 feet to colleges and universities; 35,000 feet to special educational institutions; 45,000 feet to the public schools.

"Minnesota and Wisconsin will occupy one bridge. A central aisle 10 feet wide runs lengthwise of the bridge. The total available floor space for Minnesota exhibit amounts to 2,500 square feet. This space will be divided into alcoves with partition walls 10 feet high. This will afford about 600 running feet of wall surface for the display of work. In addition six tables 12 feet long, with shelves and drawers, will furnish room for bound volumes, and work which cannot be displayed on the wall.

"Even with this limited space it is quite possible to make a complete and effective showing of the educational work of this state. The work must be thoroughly classified and all contributions confined to the illustration of the courses of study practiced in the school. The general scheme of classification contemplates the department of public instruction, higher education, normal schools, country schools and city schools. The normal common schools will be further subdivided to show courses of work in mathematics, science, language, geography, history, drawing and manual training. Apparatus and appliances used in teaching the subject will also be a feature of the exhibit.

"The course of work, illustrated by a few selections of pupils' work from each grade, is the unit for contribution. Each city or county may thus make as many contributions as there are subjects taught in the schools. The contributions will be in the form of bound volumes of written work, portfolios of illustrations, or a combination of the two. From here they went out into Nebraska and spent about two weeks going over the surveys of the Pueblo & Duluth. When they returned to the state at once for the East with some important propositions from Mr. Garretson, president of the Terminal company and of the Short Line and Sioux City railways. The report was a very favorable one.

"Since he left it has been learned that the Pueblo & Duluth has never suspended operations, but has had a force of engineers at work for over a year past at Neligh, working up the notes of the surveys from Sioux City to Pueblo, and Denver, and that these are now about finished, so that the company has the profiles and estimates of the work on nearly the entire line. This work has been carried on very quietly.

"It has also been learned on good authority that the Canadian Pacific has been working on the line from Denver, and that these are now about finished, so that the company has the profiles and estimates of the work on nearly the entire line. This work has been carried on very quietly.

DULUTH AND DENVER

Indications Are Apparent That the Projected Pueblo & Duluth Road Will Yet Be Built to Denver.

Connection to be Made With Duluth by the Sioux City & Northern and Great Northern.

The Project Said to Be Backed by the Canadian Pacific and the Surveys Completed.

A Sioux City special says: The evidence that the Canadian Pacific system is getting ready to provide itself with a connection with the great systems of the Southwest are attracting more attention here than at any time since it became evident that that company was interested in some of the operations in this section.

Nearly three years ago the Pueblo & Duluth was incorporated in Nebraska, its declared intention being to build a road from the Missouri river to Pueblo and Denver. It was stated in the prospectus of the company that arrangements had already been made for securing connections with lines already built from the Missouri river to the great lakes.

The organization of the company was of Nebraska men, the president being David Hitchcock, of Neligh. Mr. Hitchcock had extended experience in railroad building, having built several lines in Illinois and the South. In these enterprises he was associated with men who are now prominent in the councils of the Canadian Pacific road.

The new company began making surveys of a line from Sioux City to Pueblo, and this work was kept up for nearly a year. The officers of the new company made frequent visits to Sioux City, and as a result of those conferences it was stated by Mr. Hitchcock that arrangements had been made by which the new company would enter Sioux City over the tracks and bridge of the Pacific Short line. When the surveys were completed the enterprise was gradually lost sight of, until it was almost forgotten.

A few weeks ago it was recalled by the visit of President Hitchcock to Sioux City, accompanied by R. G. Harvey, of New York, another associate in several railroad enterprises of the Canadian Pacific people. Hon. Jack McNelly of Lincoln, Neb., one of the wealthy men of Central Nebraska, was with them. They were here two or three days, and in the terminal facilities, and in conference with A. S. Garretson, president of the Terminal company and of the Short Line and Sioux City railways.

From here they went out into Nebraska and spent about two weeks going over the surveys of the Pueblo & Duluth. When they returned to the state at once for the East with some important propositions from Mr. Garretson, president of the Terminal company and of the Short Line and Sioux City railways. The report was a very favorable one.

"Since he left it has been learned that the Pueblo & Duluth has never suspended operations, but has had a force of engineers at work for over a year past at Neligh, working up the notes of the surveys from Sioux City to Pueblo, and Denver, and that these are now about finished, so that the company has the profiles and estimates of the work on nearly the entire line. This work has been carried on very quietly.

"It has also been learned on good authority that the Canadian Pacific has been working on the line from Denver, and that these are now about finished, so that the company has the profiles and estimates of the work on nearly the entire line. This work has been carried on very quietly.

"The fact that the Canadian Pacific has been working on the line from Denver, and that these are now about finished, so that the company has the profiles and estimates of the work on nearly the entire line. This work has been carried on very quietly.

STOVE IN HIS SKULL.

Row in a Tower Saloon That Ended in a Probable Murder.

Hendrickson & Carlson's saloon, one of the most disorderly Finn saloons in Tower, was the scene of a terrible affray last Thursday afternoon. From the evidence adduced at the preliminary examination before Judge Campaigne, it appears that John Johnson and Chas. Hill, became involved in a quarrel and in an encounter that followed Hill was knocked insensible by Johnson, being struck over the head with a large cast iron cuspidor, weighing twelve or fifteen pounds.

Hill sustained two terrible cuts, and it is quite certain that his skull is fractured, although owing to the swelling, there is some difficulty in determining. Johnson pleads self defense and claims that Hill, having hit him with an open knife. The testimony on this point is somewhat conflicting and it is questionable. Officer Beatty, who made the arrest, after considerable investigation of the case, believes it was a premeditated assault on the part of Johnson, and states also that the Finns generally share the same opinion.

Johnson was held for trial at the district court, and was to have been brought to the county jail on Saturday, but on Friday Officer Beatty returned with the fellow's dinner Friday his prisoner had disappeared and no trace of him has as yet been found. How he managed to escape jail is as yet a mystery, excepting possibly by the officer.

Cheap Rates to the Inauguration. For the inauguration of Cleveland and Stevenson at Washington on March 4th, excursion tickets, reading via Baltimore & Ohio railway, "The Picturesque Route," will be placed on sale at the ticket offices of principal railroads of the West, as well as at the ticket offices of the Baltimore & Ohio company. The fare from Chicago will be $17.50 for the round trip. These tickets will be sold from February 28th to March 3rd inclusive, and will be valid for return journey until March 31st inclusive.

The Baltimore & Ohio is the shortest route to Washington from nearly all points west. Its trains are vestibuled from end to end, and carry Pullman sleeping cars.

No railroad in America is better equipped than the B. & O. to transport with dispatch, safety and comfort the large crowd which will visit Washington to witness the inauguration ceremonies. Its long experience in transporting crowds to former inaugurations, G. A. R. encampments, Knights of Templar convocations and similar gatherings, on an extensive scale, will prove most valuable in arranging for the coming inauguration.

JOHNSON ON TRIAL

Judge Ensign Takes Up the Criminal Calendar and the Ely Murderer's Case Came First.

The Jury Was Quickly Drawn and the Case
Was Opened With C. O. Baldwin Defending.

Solomon Lampman, the State's Chief Witness, Related the Story of the Crime
This Morning.

Judge Ensign took up the criminal calendar this morning and the first case
on was that of the state of Minnesota vs.
Elias Johnson indicted for murder in the first degree for the killing of Matt
Volli at Ely on Dec. 26 last. County Attorney C. C. Tear appeared for the state and C. O. Baldwin is conducting the defense.

The jury was drawn without much trouble only eighteen names being taken from the box before the panel was filled.
The selected jurors are L. Barber, W.
P. Marx, W. A. Holgate, R. M. Gray,
D. R. McKinley, T. J. Monahan, M. J.
Davis, G. S. Brower, K. McGregor, E. E.
Fitzgerald, A. C. Parsons and F. V.
DeVey.

The trial had only progressed a little
when Judge Ensign found Jurors Parsons and DeVey were taking notes of the testimony and he cautioned the entire jury against any such action, saying they must rely on their memory, because as they were not shorthand reporters while they were engaged in taking down their notes in longhand some other portion of the testimony would be unheard or unheard.

Solomon Lampman was the first witness for the state. In his direct examination he told how the murder occurred.
None of the party were drunk, although all had been drinking in Martin's saloon.
Volli, the murdered man, went out of the saloon and was followed by Johnson,
who without any apparent provocation picked up a stick of stove wood lying at the side of the saloon and struck Volli
a blow on the head from the effects of which he died. Johnson then told the witnesses not to say anything about it or he would be liable to lose his life also. The witness was very much frightened and kept quiet until the authorities questioned him and assured him of their protection. His cross examination, by Mr. Baldwin was very short and he spoke through an interpreter.

John Matson, another Findlander, was placed on the stand and is still giving his testimony. The trial will probably be concluded tomorrow morning.

The following set of cases has been made by the bench of judges:
Monday—138, 139, 140, 156.
Tuesday—157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162.
Wednesday—24, 25, 33, 39, 40, 44, 47.
Thursday—48, 49, 72, 76, 77, 103.
Friday—135, 75, 101, 111, 73.

Before Judge Brown in room 2, the case of John Nevins et al. vs. M. Fitzgerald et al. is now on trial.

unfortunate man's antecedents with the result as stated.

Because of rigorous weather and the hazard to health from rushing from heated rooms into the winter air the further practice of fire drills until warmer season, were done away with.
The new chimneys in the high school clock
came in for some criticism several members of the board apparently not considering that a monumental success. One thought that they did not ring loud enough. Another could not see the hands and face of the mammoth time piece, another objected to the ringing of the bells in the small hours and thus it went.

An estimate of $2300 was allowed the contractors on the work of putting in the heating plant and electric wires at the new Lakeside school. The project of connecting the various schools with the central high school by telephone was discussed, but will not be decided until some future occasion. Mr. Pearson submitted the plans for plumbing and wiring
the Lakeside and Jackson schools, which will be passed upon by the building committee at an early date.

KELLER IS SARCASTIC

The Rosebud Statesman Has a Bill to Appropriate Twenty Million Dollars to Build Elevators.

Emerson Cole's Bill Fixing Penalties in Cases of Delinquent Taxes is Receiving Strong Support.

Merritt Has a Bill Regulating the Opening, Working and Operating of Coal Mines.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 21.—[Special to The Herald.]—A big grist of petitions was introduced in the senate this morning against all religious legislation and against a new capital and in favor of a free wheat market. The bills introduced were as follows: By Daugherty, a bill to allow cities and villages to appropriate money for exhibits at the World's fair at Chicago; by Keller, a sarcastic bill providing for an appropriation of $20,000,000 to build elevators at Duluth, Buffalo and Liverpool and hiring a line of boats on Lake Superior and allowing the grain and warehouse commission to make annual trips abroad to inspect the elevator system; by Smith, regulating fishing in waters on the northern border of Minnesota and preventing the use of nets.

Mr. Donnelly introduced a bill providing that the supreme court must pass on applications for a second trial; providing that no verdict of a jury shall be set aside unless no evidence sustains it and providing that no verdict or award be set aside; also bill amending the constitution, extending the jury trial to equity cases and providing that five-sixths of a jury may return a verdict.

Mr. Tawney introduced a bill to authorize municipalities to aid in the construction of canals and improved waterways and providing for an exchange of municipal bonds for stock or bonds of the company which constructs the canal on authority of a vote of qualified electors; also a bill providing that one-sixth of the state board of health shall go out of office each year and appointments be made in their places.

Mr. Wyman, of Hennepin, has prepared a bill placing the fees of the surveyor general of logs and lumber at $500 a year and the rest to go to the state.

Delegates representing Minneapolis, Duluth, St. Paul and one or two members representing interior counties met yesterday to consider the following bills: fixing penalties in cases of delinquent taxes. It was decided to support the pending house bill which Emerson Cole, of Hennepin, has introduced. The bill is a stated interest penalty fixed at 10 or possibly 12 per cent. The bill is now before the committee on laws which agreed on a rate of 9½ per cent.

The house was at work on the calendar all morning and passed the following bills: Horton's bill providing for an appropriation of $1,000 to erect a monument on the battlefield of Chickamauga; Richardson's bill relating to uses and trusts, providing that cities and villages may receive requests of property to be held in trust; Keener's bill for a rebate on liquor licenses not running a full year; Wilson's bill providing for incorporation of villages; Cotton's bill providing for punishment of those interfering with steam boilers and engines while running; providing for the practice of medicine by surgery and requiring men who practice to have diplomas, and Horton's, providing for a medical corps in the national guard.

Lon Merritt asked unanimous consent and introduced a bill to provide for opening, working and operating mines and quarries of coal, etc. The bill provides that where such mining property belongs to a plurality of owners, any one of the owners may bring suit in the district court to open such mine on the property, and the court is empowered to allow the majority owners to work the mine under its direction while the minority of the property owners are obstructive.

Ex-Senator Spencer Dead.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The funeral of ex-Senator George E. Spencer, of Alabama, took place this morning. His wife was the only relative present. The remains were interred in Arlington cemetery. The honorary pall bearers were Senators Teller, Platt, Stewart, Chandler, ex-Senator Kellogg and George C. Corham.

A Bank Suspended.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 21.—The Farmers' bank, at Third and Market streets, Peter K. Boyd president, closed its doors yesterday, pending an investigation by State Banking Superintendent Krumpholtz. It is expected that the depositors will be paid in full, but the stockholders may lose 40 per cent of their stock.

Honkey Mill Burned.
MOUNT VERNON, Ind., Feb. 21.—The large honkey mill of the Shudnut company, of Terre Haute, located here, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday, the loss being about $100,000, fully insured. The fire was started by spontaneous combustion in one of the warerooms.

No Action at Present.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The World's fair committee of the house yesterday further discussed the several propositions relative to the Sunday opening of the exposition. The discussion of the measures was general, but no conclusion was reached and the committee adjourned sine die. A member of the committee said, after the meeting, that he thought it safe to say that no action would be taken at this session of congress.

JERRY RUSK'S SUCCESSOR.

J. Sterling Morton Talks About His Coming Appointment.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—J. Sterling Morton, who will be next secretary of agriculture, reached Chicago Saturday afternoon from New York. "Was my appointment expected?" said Mr. Morton smilingly, as he repeated the question that he had been asked. "Indesit was. I received a telegram from Mr. Cleveland asking if I could go to Lakewood to see him. I replied in the affirmative, and he offered me the appointment, before I had been five minutes in his home."

Speaking of other places yet unfilled, Mr. Morton said: "I have not the slightest idea as to who will be asked to fill them and no one I met in New York seem to know anything definite. One thing I did notice, and that was that there did not seem to be any jealousy in the East regarding the prizes that have fallen to Illinois."

"How do the majority of Eastern Democrats seem to take Judge Gresham's elevation?" was asked. "I heard no complaints there and the Democrats as a body, wherever I have been, seem pleased with the selection. Personally I think it was good. Judge Gresham has a strong following. I cannot say much concerning the Populists' senatorial vote, but I can speak regarding Judge Allen of Nebraska, for I have his own word for it that he will vote with the Democrats on all administrative measures. He is a man of remarkable ability and sterling worth and will be an ally worth having."

"Regarding my policy on the anti-opium bill I see that some interviews have been published, but I have only this to say, that I am opposed to all class legislation. I am gratified to think that Mr. Cleveland chose me to fill the place of secretary of agriculture, and I shall do my best to aid the farming classes, but I have not formulated any plans yet. It would be too much like a physician prescribing for a patient before he had seen him or examined his ills."

A NEW CITY HALL.

New York Will Erect a Handsome Municipal Building.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The advisory committee of architects reported to the municipal building committee the outlines of a plan for the new municipal building. The new building will be six stories high. It will have sixty thousand square feet of floor space on each floor. The present city hall will be torn down. The northerly line of the new building will be fifty feet south of the county court house and 200 feet north of the post office. The easterly and westerly lines must not be nearer than fifty feet to the curb stones of Broadway and Park Row.

DEBTS OF ONE MILLION.

The Doors of the Manhattan Athletic Club House Closed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The doors of the club house of the Manhattan Athletic club were closed today by orders of Receiver Friedman, and the club is no more. In a few days the receiver will sever the club from the building and furniture for sale.

The club house is one of the largest and most elegant in the world. It is said the debt of the club foot up nearly a million dollars.

Fixed for Contempt.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Lawyers Jerome and Goff were before the recorder yesterday to receive punishment for contempt of court during the trial of Charles Gardner. The recorder discharged the proceedings in the case of Mr. Jerome, but adjudged Mr. Goff guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $200 and to stand committed to jail for a period not exceeding thirty days until such fine shall be paid. Mr. Goff paid the amount.

Burned to Death.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—Martha E. Buchanan, aged 17 years, was burned to death at her home, No. 214 Carson street yesterday. The girl was alone and the cause of the fire is being attempted to extinguish a lamp by blowing down the chimney. Burning oil was thrown over her, and death resulted before a physician could be summoned.

Fire at Peoria.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 21.—A fire broke out this morning about 5 o'clock in the headquarters of the whisky trust, which will occasion a loss of about $200. The fire caught from a defective flue in the upper story near the roof, which was partially consumed.

Probably Six Lost.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 21.—A Block Island special says that in addition to the four men lost in the wreck of the barge Reliance the body of a woman about 35 years old, probably the captain's wife, has come ashore. A doll was found on the beach also, indicating that there was a child on board the vessel.

Eno Surrendered.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—John C. Eno, the defaulting bank president who has been missing for many years, has surrendered himself in the United States court. He had with him G. W. Bliss as counsel, and is prepared to give back all having bonds ready.

The Unity Club.

The Unity club held a regular meeting at the Unitarian church last night and discussed the Indian question. J. W. Hunt read an excellent paper favoring the humanitarian policy now pursued by the government. This was ably replied to by J. F. Cargill who took the opposite side of the question. The humanitarians had rather the best of the argument when the meeting adjourned.

Is Recovering.

George McBain, the workman who was injured yesterday morning by falling from the scaffolding at the old Farquison building, is getting along all right, no bones being broken and no internal injuries apparent. In falling, he struck upon his hip, which is very stiff and sore from the bruises received from the tumble.

WILL QUIT POLITICS

Treachery of An Old Friend Has Plunged Governor McKinley Into Utter Financial Ruin.

In Order to Pay His Debts He Will Leave Politics and Practice His Profession.

He Will Probably Resign the Governorship of Ohio As the Salary is Altogether Insufficient.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—H. H. Kohlsaat, proprietor and publisher of the Chicago Inter Ocean, who has been appointed one of Governor McKinley's trustees, considers that the governor is the victim of most aggravated treachery. "He never knew," says Mr. Kohlsaat, "to what extent he was becoming involved, because he trusted implicitly in the judgment of his friends. The exposure of his falsity completely unnerved the victim, and while political reverses were accepted as a part of a political life he is almost unable to endure the present crash. But, honest man that he always has been, he sadly told me he would begin again, and no man should lose a cent who lent him money by reason of his name."

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

"It is probable Myron T. Merrick, treasurer of the Society of Savings, of Cleveland, will act with me as trustee. At present it is not possible to say how the financial end of the calamity will be settled. The governor will turn over every penny he has, but this will only be a drop compared with aggregate liabilities. He said his wife was thoroughly decided to help out with her own means, which I think will amount to about $70,000 if sold at auction. The possessions consist of farm land near Canton and some other unimproved property. However, even if it will not cover the debts since, when I left Mr. McKinley, we figured at least $20,000 liabilities, and they are increasing almost hourly."

"The governor will retire from politics, since he cannot hold office and again get up financially. He said he would begin his law practice again and make it his object in life to pay all the debts since, when I left Mr. McKinley, we figured at least $20,000 liabilities, and they are increasing almost hourly."

"Will the governor resign?" "Well it is hardly possible to see what else he can do. It will be quite necessary, since he proposes to settle dollar for dollar, and there is no money in being governor of any state. He once had a good practice and his brilliant reputation will add to it."

A WEST SHORE WRECK.

Three Men Were Killed and Eight Persons Were Injured.

PALMYRE, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Train No. 5 on the West Shore coming west was derailed about a mile east of Palmyra and was thrown down an embankment fifteen feet high at 10:05 o'clock this morning.

Three were killed and eight persons were injured. James Corrigan, a resident of Newark, N. Y., was slightly injured. Others slightly injured are Mrs. C. P. H. Vary, of Newark, N. Y.; James Coyle, of Newark, N. Y.; and M. W. Kellogg, a druggist. The names of the killed are unknown.

March Weather.

The records of the weather bureau of the observations for the month of March taken here for twenty-three years show the normal temperature to have been 24 degrees. The warmest March was in 1861, when it was 34.5 degrees, and the lowest in 1883, 38 inches. The prevailing winds have been from the northeast and the highest velocity attained in any March was 62 miles on the 10th, 1878.

For the World's Fair.

At a 9 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was a meeting at the real estate exchange of representatives of the different trade and commercial bodies to take some steps looking to a proper advertising of Duluth at the Chicago fair also to take steps for the procuring of proper excursion rates from Chicago to this section during the continuance of the fair. Preliminary steps were taken towards accomplishing these objects.

JOHNSON'S TESTIMONY

The Ely Murderer Was Put On The Stand In His Own Defense This Morning.

He Made Several Bad Breaks in His Story of the Crime and His Own Actions.

The Case May Go to the Jury Tonight—Two Judgments Against the City of Duluth.

The case of the state of Minnesota vs. Elias Johnson, charged with murder in the first degree, is still on trial before Judge Ensign but will reach the jury and probably a verdict this evening.

The defendant, Johnson, was on the stand nearly all the morning and told his version of the murder. He made one or two very bad breaks in his testimony. At one time he said he did not know Volti had been hurt; at another time he said he saw him struck; at another time that Volti left the saloon ten or fifteen minutes before he, the defendant, did, and at another time he said they all went out together.

Martin, the saloon proprietor, Anderson, a merchant, John Jensen, who was at first employed as attorney, and one or two Finlanders were sworn and testified but with the exception of Anderson their evidence was unimportant.

Anderson was playing cards in the saloon and says there was no quarrel; that the men were simply boasting of their powers in the old country. This was in rebuttal of the defense who claimed there had been some quarrel going on all the time.

Saloonkeeper Martin did not want to testify, but Judge Ensign said sharply: "Come here; stand up; hold up your hand," and Martin testified. He said he could not understand English, but Attorney Baldwin said: "Oh, yes, you can; you acted as interpreter for me at Ely." The usual motion for dismissal was made by Mr. Baldwin, but it was overruled and here the case closed at noon.

Before Judge Brown in room 2, a verdict for the plaintiff for $1118 was rendered from the same defendant in the same case in F. Sheridan vs. the City of Duluth and David Sang et al. recovered manner. The case of C. d'Autremont vs. O. L. Young was continued by consent, and a similar case between the same parties was stricken from the calendar.

The case of W. F. Norton vs. Charles Joy et al. is now on trial.

A BUILDERS' EXCHANGE.
A Meeting to be Held Tonight for the Purpose of Organizing One.
A meeting will be held this evening at the office of the Howard Lumber company for the purpose of organizing a builders' exchange on a plan very much similar to the Minneapolis institution of that nature. All builders and contractors are to be admitted and builders' supply men as well. The object of exchange is to mutually benefit all concerned by establishing harmony and general good feeling.
A club room or rooms will be rented and will not only be fitted up for social enjoyment but is to be a meeting place where builders and contractors may confer. Each member is expected to be at the exchange every day at noon and to remain for half an hour or more. In this way an opportunity for consultation may be had whenever desired with very little trouble.

A DEADLY CRASH

The Southern Express From Washington For New York Crashed Into an Accommodation Train Today.

Four People in the Latter Train Were Killed and Ten Injured By the Wreck.

In a Collision on the Schuylkill Valley Road Three Men Were Killed and Two Injured.

A Train on the Pennsylvania Road Went Through a Bridge and Six Persons Were Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22.—The Southern express on the Pennsylvania railroad which left Broad street station at 10:20 this morning collided with the Morton, Pa., accommodation train near South street station, West Philadelphia. Three cars of the accommodation train were wrecked.

A rumor gained wide circulation that the special train bearing President Harrison from Washington to New York was one of the trains in collision. This, however, was untrue. The president's special train passed through here for New York about on schedule time.

The train was crossing a switch to pull into South street station. All the cars but the last one had crossed when the Southern express came rushing down the track and struck the local passenger car that was upon the switch full in the middle. The express was made up entirely of heavy Pullmans and the light passenger car was hurled fifty feet from the track, broken and smashed by the terrible force of the blow.

The express train escaped injury and the engineer immediately stopped his train. The crash of the colliding trains and the screams of the passengers of the unfortunate people pinned down beneath the broken timbers of the wrecked car speedily attracted an excited crowd to the scene.

The twenty-first district police station is but a few squares away from where the accident occurred, and a squad of officers was soon on the scene to the work of extricating the injured passengers was soon accomplished. Five persons were killed and a dozen injured. The hurt were hurried to the University hospital two blocks away and their injuries are being attended to.

It has since been learned that it was the north bound Southern express from Washington for New York that crashed into the Morton accommodation on the central division of the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore road. The president was on a special train following the express. His train was delayed about half an hour and then proceeded to New York.

The accident happened at 10:35 o'clock. The tracks of the central division and the main line cross this point. The former trains running into the thirty-second and Chestnut street station and the latter running into Broad street station. The accommodation had the right-of-way, the express being blocked, but owing to the slippery condition of the tracks the engineer of the express was unable to control his train and the locomotive crashed into the third car of the accommodation.

The engineer of the express was unhurt as was also the fireman. No one on the express was injured and the engine was damaged so slightly that it proceeded to New York with the train an hour afterward when the tracks had been cleared.

The killed and injured were confined to the third car of the accommodation, and this was completely wrecked. Four persons were killed and ten injured. Of the injured none are dangerously hurt. Of the killed, Miss Maria Read, of Media, and Rev. James Walker, of Lenni.

Injured: George W. Haines, of Media; Miss Genevieve Zane, of Swarthmore; Rev. Jacob Wiseman, of Clifton Heights; Miss Rachel W. Heilborn, of Swarthmore; Mrs. James Walker, wife of the Mr. Walker killed; Miss Kate Karcher, of Morton; Mrs. W. H. Liner-muth, of Morton; J. H. Hunter, of Swarthmore; Miss Lillie M. Lewis; George Turner. Nearly all the hurt were injured about the head and face.

THREE MEN ARE DEAD.
Collision Between a Shifting-Engine and a Freight Train.

READING, Pa., Feb. 22.—A wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania, Schuylkill Valley railroad, between Phoenixville and Spring City last night. A shifting engine, going east with an empty train of forty coal cars, collided with an extra freight running west, about one and a half miles west of Spring City.

The shifting engine was totally demolished and both engines lay on their sides with fourteen coal cars completely broken up. Watson Weller, John Dennis and Walter Brunner, employed by the company at Spring City, were on the shifting engine on their way home to Norristown. Weller and Dennis were killed.

Fireman McCord and Flagman Davis, of the shifting crew, who reside at Phoenixville, were seriously injured. John Forrester, the engineer of the shifter, was also badly hurt. Fireman McCord died while being removed to his home. The accident was the result of a misjudgment of distance.

ANOTHER BAD WRECK.
Six Persons Reported to be Killed and Many Injured.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 22.—It is reported that train No. 20 on the Pennsylvania road, due here at 12:20, went through a bridge near Columbia City and that six persons were killed and many injured.

Later—The east bound mail and express train on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, due here at 1:50 p. m., was wrecked two miles east of Columbia City, Ind., fifteen miles west of Fort Wayne, by a broken rail.

The engine, mail and baggage cars passed over the broken rail, but the last two cars of the train were precipitated down an embankment twenty feet, the cars turning completely over and being badly wrecked.

Five people were killed, fifteen dangerously injured, some of the latter no doubt fatally. The names of dead and injured cannot be learned. A special car left Fort Wayne for the scene of the wreck at 1 p. m., with half a dozen surgeons on board.

A number of Fort Wayne people are known to be on the train. One of the killed is said to be John W. Paramour, of Hebron, Ind.

HE WILL RIDE WITH BEN.
President-elect Cleveland's Desires Regarding the Inaugural Ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Oliver T. Beaumont, chairman of the committee on carriages, has received the following explanatory autograph letter from President-elect Cleveland:

"In reply to your letter of the 6th instant, I have to say that I desire the ideas of President Harrison carried out as to the conveyance to the inaugural ceremonies. A very sensible suggestion is attributed to him in the newspapers, and that is that I ride in his carriage as he did in mine on the 4th of March 1889."

Mr. Cleveland will return from the capital in the morning and will be accompanied by a messenger in the presidential carriage furnished by the senate committee on arrangements. Albert Hawkins, Mr. Cleveland's old driver, who has been employed as a messenger in the pension office, will be on the box.

It is said that the turnout will be the finest that ever came up Pennsylvania avenue. The vehicle will be drawn by four jet black horses, the harnesses will be white and each horse will be attended by a footman in white livery.

IT ENDED IN A DRAW.
A Hard Fight at Frisco Between Jim Burge and Charley Johnson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Jim Burge, the "iron man," of Australia, and Charley Johnson, of St. Paul, welterweights, fought at the club last night.

Johnson forced the fighting up to the eighth round and considerable hard fighting resulted. Burge played almost entirely for the ribs. Johnson never whipped himself trying to finish the Australian, but in the thirteenth to the twenty-fifth rounds was very weak.

Burge shot his bolt in the twenty-fifth trying to finish Johnson, and from then to the end of the fight he was a draw was declared at the end of the thirty-sixth round. Johnson was much the stronger of the two at the finish and was unmarked.

SPECIAL DAYS FOR NATIONS.
Days at the World's Fair to be Set Apart for the Various Countries.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Representatives of the various foreign governments in this city have received from the managers of the Chicago World's fair, a request to severally select some day in the course of the exposition which shall be recognized as the special day of the nation for which they come.

The intention is to have a program of exercises, each including the peculiar characteristics of the nation. The South and Central American republics will probably observe, as far as possible, the days of their liberation, corresponding to our fourth of July.

THE GRASSY POINT BRIDGE.
Efforts to Induce Hartley and Mendenhall to Cease Opposing It.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—[Special To The Herald.]—O. H. Simonds, G. G. Hartley and Luther Mendenhall, all of Duluth, returned to Washington today, probably in regard to the bill for a contract for the Duluth Transfer company at Grassy Point.

The Transfer company is trying to get Hartley and Mendenhall to quit opposing the bill, so that it may pass at this session.

Alderman C. A. Long, who has been seceding in the legislature, is in Duluth, is recovering but is still too weak to leave his room.

A Jail Burned.
MUSKOGEE, I. T., Feb. 22.—The United States jail here was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. When the fire was discovered there were sixty-six prisoners confined in the building. They were shackled together and safely lodged in the United States court building. "The fire caught from a defective flue."

A Postmaster Became Insane.
KINGSTON, N. Y., Feb. 22.—Brooding over the impending loss of his office, Postmaster James Judson, of Prattsville, Green county, has become violently insane, and threatened to kill certain Democrats who he blamed for his political misfortune. He was brought to Catskill for examination. Judge Sanderson on Monday sent him to the Poughkeepsie asylum.

IS HEAVILY IN DEBT

The United States and Brazil Steamship Company Is Reported In a Bad Way Financially.

Its Vessels Are Not Likely to Make Many More Voyages to South American Waters.

Although Receiving Heavy Subsidies the Company's Business Was Not Sufficient to Pay Its Debts.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The United States and Brazil Steamship company is in a bad way financially, unless the stockholders go pretty deep into their pockets. Collis P. Huntington, one of the directors, said last night that its vessels are not likely to make many more voyages to South American waters. The condition of the company was made public by libels filed in the United States court yesterday on four of its vessels.

Solomon Sayles has for the last eight or nine years supplied the ships with meat. His claims amount to $5000. His lawyers filed a libel against the steamer Atlantica, which arrived here yesterday, for $1,485; one against the Vigilance for $1,837 and against the Advance for $588.

For many years the business of the United States and Brazil Steamship company has not enabled it to pay its debts.

Wm. Ivens, president of the company, returned from Brazil a few days ago after making arrangements with the Brazilian government to continue its annual subsidy of about $100,000 to the line. The company also secures a considerable sum from the government of this country for carrying the mails.

A meeting of the stockholders will probably be called soon, when the question whether the company will continue in existence will be decided upon.

JOHNSON CONDEMNED.
Held Responsible for Election of Roach in North Dakota.

BISMARCK, N. D., Feb. 22.—The following telegram, signed by seventeen are Republican members of the North Dakota legislature, has been sent to the Republican congressman from that state:

"Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 22.—To Hon. M. N. Johnson, Washington, D. C.: Dear Sir, notwithstanding your assurance to the contrary, the result of your action in the senatorial contest, here in opposition to Mr. Casey is now apparent in the election of a Democratic senator. The Republican party of North Dakota is deeply indebted to you, personally responsible for this result."

TO RAISE THE FLAG.
President Harrison at an Important Event in New York Today.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The president, undeterred by the inclement incidents of snow and ice, which threatened to mar the travel difficulties, rose by gaslight this morning and took the special train for New York awaiting him at the Pennsylvania railroad station at 7 o'clock for the flag raising on the "City of New York."

Secretary Elkins and some others of the invited guests had wisely gone ahead yesterday. The unfavorable weather, the prolonged sessions of congress the night before, and the eccentricity which apparently governed the issue of the invitation combined to make the special party less numerous and representative than was expected.

Two to be Hanged.
MACON, Ga., Feb. 22.—Lewis Lewis and Henry Jackson, both negroes, will be hanged on the same scaffold here some time next month. Lewis is a wife murderer and Jackson shot another negro whom he suspected of undue intimacy with his wife. The supreme court has just refused a new trial in both cases.

A Defaulting Cashier.
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 22.—The directors of the Gate City National bank last night announced that Assistant Cashier Lewis Redwine is a defaulter. No amount is given. The capital of the bank is declared to be unimpaired. The people interested will give no particulars. Redwine was in the bank until the closing hour, but has not been seen since.

A Warfare By Hatch.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—There is a fight on in the house. Mr. Hatch, the champion of the anti-option bill, has started a warfare against the appropriation bills, antagonizing his measure, the postoffice appropriation bill.

Took His Own Life.
LONDON, Feb. 22.—Hilton Barker, one of the principal members of the firm of G. Barker & Co., late of No. 52 Mark Lane, who failed on June 22 last, committed suicide today in a railway carriage near Putney. The failure caused much excitement, being for the sum of $3,250,000.

Bank Robbers Arrested.
CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 22.—Yesterday two men named Evarado Espinosa and Antonio Neira were arrested on suspicion of robbing the vaults of the Bank of London several weeks ago. The men had in their possession a $1000 bill which they claimed have found on the roadside. It is believed they belong to a gang of bank robbers.

Cyclone in Texas.
JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Feb. 22.—A cyclone struck this place shortly after midnight last night. The residence of Jas. A. Campbell was torn from its foundations and wrecked. Mr. Campbell and his family were sleeping at the time, but were not injured. Several houses in the vicinity were slightly injured. Chimneys, out buildings and fences were destroyed.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

Report of the American Delegates Presented to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The president yesterday sent to the senate the report of the American delegates to the international monetary conference held at Brussels, beginning November 22, 1892, accompanied by a translation of the proceedings and an appendix consisting of a series of documents relating to the monetary laws and monetary situation of various countries.

In their report the delegates say they are glad to bear testimony to the earnest wish of the conference that a plan for the enlarged use of silver as money, acceptable to the nations as adequate to the monetary situation, may result from its deliberations. No recommendations or suggestions of any kind are made.

The report is signed by W. B. Allison, chairman, John P. Jones, James B. McRae, Henry Wilson and E. B. Andrews.

Representative McCrory, of Kentucky, who was one of the members who signed the international monetary conference report presented to the Senate yesterday, saw Mr. Cleveland recently at Lakewood and laid before him a story of what had been done in the conference.

Mr. McCrory, when asked last night whether or not the conference would re-assemble on May 30, said the adjournment had been taken by a substantially unanimous vote of all the nations represented.

It would be a mistake to say, he added, that Mr. Cleveland had any fixed policy about the conference. His sentiment towards the idea of an international monetary conference could best be described as "pleasant."

The president-elect took a deep interest in the proceedings of the conference, and Mr. McCrory said he was glad to find him so well informed as to what had taken place. Mr. Cleveland had said that after his inauguration and when he could spare time from more pressing matters, he would take up the subject of a monetary conference and would give it careful and earnest consideration.

Mr. McCrory could not express any opinion as to the personnel of the commission which would probably be sent to the next conference. Whether an entirely new commission or the present commission, or a partly new commission would go, he could not say. As it stands at present, it is Republican in its majority.

TO FORM ANOTHER COMBINE.
Heating and Ventilating Companies Getting Ready to Organize.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 22.—There were in Toledo last night representatives of all the great heating and ventilating companies in the world. They are quartered at the Boody house and all are mum as oysters. There are about thirty of them. The French heating and ventilating companies being represented by agents.

By Isaac D. Smead, this city, it is learned the object of meeting is to effect an organization whose object shall be the control of the market of supplies dealt in and be free from unnecessary competition. Yesterday afternoon hearing men gathered from all parts of the country, and there is no doubt but that they will effect as complete a combine as can be found anywhere.

HIS BACKER IS SICK

Charley Mitchell's Financial Support Appears to Be Disgusted With the Business of Match-Making.

Will Cut Himself From Further Connection With Mitchell and His Proposed Fight With Corbett.

At Present Charley Has the Best of It, Having $10,000 of Squire Abington's Money.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The Herald says there is a possibility of a separation between Charley Mitchell and Squire Abington, his backer. The police interference and the various annoyances to which the Mitchell party has been subjected since their arrival in this country is said to have made the squire heartily sick of the whole business of match-making.

So when the temporary stakeholder prepared to hand the $20,000 posted with him back to the rival parties, the squire made up his mind to get his $10,000 and cut himself off from further connection with Mitchell and his proposed fight with Corbett.

Accordingly he went to the Dramatic News office, ready to grab his money at the first opportunity. Somebody, however, told Mitchell about the squire's scheme and the wily Englishman induced two of his companions to keep Abington out of the room until he had secured the money himself.

In the squire's absence, the temporary stakeholder handed $10,000 to Brady and Barney Abrahams put his hand out for the squire's money. Mitchell then very adroitly waved Abrahams aside and taking the bills thrust them quickly into his pocket. When the squire was allowed to enter the room he promptly asked Mitchell for the money, but the latter told him he must take a "chance" inasmuch as he posted the money in good faith.

Deprived of this little nest egg, there was nothing left for the squire to do but to go to his bankers and draw $10,000 with which to enjoy the beauties of America. But at the same time Mitchell's action did not leave a very good impression. Indeed the squire may force Mitchell to hand over the money before long.

MAY BE A LYNCHING.
Negroes in Tennessee Threaten to Adopt the Whites' Tactics.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 22.—The negroes of Clarksville and vicinity, about twenty-five miles from here, are threatening to lynch two young white men named Matthis and Elliott, in jail for taking part in outraging Joseph Vanier's wife, daughter, and another woman, all colored. Several other white men are wanted for complicity in these crimes, but have not been arrested, although officers are hunting them.

A strong guard of white citizens has been placed at the jail by the sheriff. The trouble is said to be caused by the Vanier's girl being accused of stealing $40 from Matthis.

A crowd of white youths forcibly entered Vanier's home a few nights ago and instituted a search, and not finding the money brutally mistreated the family, beating them and dragging the women out and repeatedly assaulting them. The negroes are greatly excited and swear they will lynch the white prisoners.

GRESHAM WILL NOT RESIGN.
Will Remain Judge Until Confirmed as Secretary of State.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—A special to the Press from St. Paul says: A letter received yesterday by a friend, from Judge Gresham empowers him to announce that the judge will not resign his position until he is confirmed secretary of state by the senate.

The influences which were potent against Gresham in 1888 before the Republican convention, and which were strong enough to induce the Populist convention to drop his name last summer, will be used to prevent his confirmation.

It is said that there are many Democratic senators who will accept any good reasons offered upon which to vote in executive session against the confirmation of the man who has belonged to three parties in three months, and that Gresham realizes this.

SHOT BY A MEXICAN.
A Texas Ranchman Murdered in His Own Pasture.

KENNESAW, Tex., Feb. 22.—Monday night Brunson Robbins, a ranchman, was murdered by a Mexican named Gonzales. Robbins missed two horses, which he found in Gonzales' pasture. Gonzales said he had killed a Mexican to capture the horses, and would relinquish them for $40.

Robbins signed a due bill for that amount and started back with the horses. Just as he was entering his own pasture Gonzales rode up, and without warning murdered Robbins and badly wounded Dick Slater. He escaped, but a posse is in pursuit and he will be lynched.

South Dakota's Divorce Law.
PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 22.—Yesterday Senator Brockway moved to amend the house divorce bill so as to require three months' residence, except where personal service is procured, but the senate defeated it by an almost unanimous vote.

Erastus Wiman Withdrawn.
NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The mercantile agency of R. G. Dunn & Co., at 314 Broadway, has caused a notice to be published to the effect that by mutual consent Erastus Wiman's connection with the business of R. G. Dunn has been terminated.

MEMORIES OF A HERO

Some Facts Regarding the Life of George Washington Which Come to Mind On His Birthday.

Was Designed By Heaven For Politics, Said His Father, In Spite of His Exceeding Truthfulness.

Never Was Pestered By Professional Lobbyists in the Interest of Duluth-Superior Bridge Bills.

One hundred and sixty years ago today down in "Old Virginia" was born a little boy about the size and color of a boiled lobster, if the babies of that day looked anything like those of this age of politics and approaching crime.

That little green baby was George Washington, of cherry tree fame. Being brought into notice by the easy way in which he swung the axe in early boyhood, pater familias said to mother families: "George is designed by heaven for politics, and while his old fashioned ideas of truthfulness will always stand in his way, yet I think he can live down that disadvantage and some day be the boss of his ward."

So George was sent to school and after that, his farseeing father having died some years previous, he surveyed public lands and possibly gave his neighbors tips where to take stone and timber claims with rich traces of Red Hemlock that he fought the French and Indians. Then came seven long years of fighting to drive the English and Anglonians out of the colonies. When the war closed Washington was able to write the word "General" before his name when he registered at the hotels.

When the constitution was adopted he was elected on the fusion ticket to the highest office within the gift of the American people, the presidency of the United States. Like Grover Cleveland he was a second term, but unlike Grant, he knew when he had enough and instead of raising a big rumpus and lots of bad blood trying to ride over the "machine" and grab a third term, he gracefully retired to the privacy of his own vine and fig tree and was more than satisfied with the title "Father of his country"—by-the-way, the only title of nobility ever conferred by the people of these United States.

Washington is under one great disadvantage today—his dead. But his memory still lives and will still be as green as a parula and was more than a memory still when the dust of ages has buried the memories of "Red" Clarkson, John D. Gill, Duluth's army of perpetual aspirants for aldermanic honors and the hosts of patriots who hang around to get on the jury.

It is unnecessary to enter into the details of Washington's memorable distinguished life. The most minute details are in this day taught to every school boy. It has been written and is written in an old manuscript that the work of Washington with that new hatchet in his father's back yard, led to the discovery of the famous Wild Cherry, and that is of little interest to any one except a Kansas prohibitionist and but few of them read the Herald.

The custom-worn of a comparison of some of the features of Father Washington's time with those of the present year of grace, 1893, may possibly cause thinking persons to stop and ponder, and nothing but good can come from that.

Washington never saw a caucus packed. He never went through a partisan campaign. He never rode on a railroad pass when he went from his farm down to the city. He never was pestered with professional lobbyists in the interests of innumerable bridges between Duluth and Superior. He never knew the meaning of "evil reform" and never peddled out postoffices to the political boss who could deliver the most votes. Washington never rode on an electric street car nor felt his heart beat with pity upon beholding the motor men performing their duties without weather screens when the mercury registered 40° below the ice mark.

In early boyhood, Washington came near chasing a seaman's life, yet in those days McDougal's whalebacks existed not even in fancy. Modern steamships, ocean cables, telegraph lines, incline railways, steam heat, gas, electric lights, sewing machines, corks in the cork and wheat markets, were as much undiscovered as was America before the days of Christopher Columbus. Stealing public lands and timber was unprofitable and killing Indians and stray Frenchmen out of season was a mark of patriotism at the beginning of this distinguished career.

In the early days of the republic fair damsels spurred the lords and dukes from the British isles and were more than content with honest American yeomen. A Britisher was not in it and dukes were not invented. Washington would not have made a good Corbett or Mitchell for he fought with his brains and muscle and not with his mouth. He bet on horse races, it is true, but he never was guilty of playing progressive euchre. He was a man of truth, honor, gravity and ability. He was all wool, a yard wide and would wash. He endured cold, hardships and ate crusts at Valley Forge that the people of the great American republic might in all the years to come toast their shins by steam heat as they drink the champagne and eat the pie of prosperity and greatness. He walloped the British so that a free nation might exist and thereby afford the bankrupt nobility of old Albion to enjoy a free market in which they might exchange titles for wives of wealth.

But the Herald has not space to review all. The thoughts advanced will set the wheels of the most obtuse minds in motion and the remainder can be thought out, gentle reader, in your booth—if you have one. If not, call on those who are advertising boudoirs in these columns cheap for cash.

On Feb. 22, A. D. 1893, this nation of free and prosperous people, with many virtues and some serious faults, will let up for a few hours in the wild chase for wealth and honor and think of the immortal man who, while he never was a saint and daddy, yet able to say "I'm a daddy," yet nevertheless is the revered and sainted father of 65,000,000 boys and girls, men and women. From the pine woods, mines and farms of the Northwest to the cotton fields of the sunny South; from Cape Cod and the wooden nutmeg groves of the valley of the Connecticut, to the gold fields of the Rockies, the rolling waters of the Oregon, and the real estate booms of the Pacific slope; from the prairies of the great central plain, the borders of the great lakes, in every city, village and township the great birthday celebration is in progress today. Schools are closed and Washington is thanked for a holiday. Public business is at a standstill and as the eyes of this nation run along the line of heroes, statesmen and patriots—Blaine, Garfield, Lincoln—all gone to the better land—with tearful emotions they behold the first and greatest. Hearts fill, heads are bowed and the lips of a matchless nation burst forth in the psalm:

"Bless'd be the day and kindly sun
That gave to the world a Washington."

AMUSEMENTS.

MacLean and Prescott.

"L'Absintheur" was given its initial performance last evening at the Temple before a small audience by the MacLean-Prescott company. The new play is written by Marie Prescott, and demonstrates that she is not only a capable actress but that she is an authoress of no mean ability. As is to be expected, however, there are some strong defects. The lines are good, excellent in some places. The story is rather morbid and there seems to have been a desire to kill everybody off. The play is designed to set forth the evil effects of absinthe drinking among Parisians. To the average person, ignorant of the power and effect of the liquor, the play would seem fearfully overdrawn, and yet to one who has seen the terrible state to which its continual use brings a human being there is something terribly realistic about it. It seems hard to believe that Gaston Beauvais, a man of high family and fine intellectual quality, could be reduced to such a stage as he is brought to during the progress of the play, through the use of absinthe, yet the liquor is in many respects worse than opium and the terrible effects of the latter drug are well known.

One of the chief defects of the play is that it runs too much to monologues, which, although good, will eventually tire an audience. It is too much to expect one character to individually hold the attention of an audience for ten or fifteen minutes. The greatest of actors fail when required to do that and it is expecting too much of MacLean. On the whole, however, the play is undoubtedly a good one though whether it will acquire any great popularity is questionable because of its morbidness. It certainly is intense.

R. D. MacLean gives to the character of Gaston Beauvais all that it demands. He carries the once handsome and intellectual son of the Parisian banker, down to an awful abyss of degradation, too far many might think, yet is quite possible in real life and being so is certainly permissible. In his strong scenes, the murder of the priest, his last meeting with Pauline and his death in the morgue, his work was remarkably strong and aroused intense interest.

The part of Pauline can hardly be said to be suited to Marie Prescott, and those who have seen her in other characters she was a disappointment. If she designed Pauline as a character the portrayal of her would be fitted to her own peculiar abilities, she certainly is mistaken in what direction her talents lie. It does not give her the opportunity she ought to have and while in the first three acts she makes a good impression, in the suicide she is disappointing. When the curtain drops on a third evening there was not a sound of applause for at least fifteen seconds and then it was very weak yet it is her strongest scene.

There is one character in the play which has been cleverly and faithfully drawn that of Ardre Gessouneux, the once famous artist but a slave to absinthe on him and it is of a ghastly sort but is good. Harry Johnston gives this character an excellent interpretation and is by far the strongest member of the cast. Miss Glynn as Heloise and Marc Robbins as Beauvais are decidedly weak. Dorey as Silvain, Grindon and Lawrence Grant as Pere Vaudron are fairly good.

"L'Absintheur" is being presented at midnight performance this afternoon and will be repeated this evening.

box not larger than your hand bonbons for the children, a bushel of paper and a live duck; covers the stage with the flag of all nations and is a small piece of paper and hundreds of yards of various colored ribbons going to all parts of the theater, and many, many other things.

This is not all, however. Edward L. Baxter, the impersonator, comes upon the stage and you smile and forget your troubles, or laugh at some of your foolish fancies as he reflects them in the mirror of nature. Here and there is blended in a sweet strain of music from the mandolin and guitars of the Orpheus trio. And as you leave the theater you feel that you have been transported to some unknown fairland, and then brought back to laugh and cry and laugh again, all through which a glad strain of sweetest music soothed every heart into peace and quietude.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, Minn.,
Feb. 22.—Owing to today being a holiday only few reports from the Northwest portion of the country have been received. In that section generally cloudy weather prevails with light variable winds and temperatures ranging closely to the freezing point. An area of moderately low barometric pressure is centered over the North Dakota and the country immediately
north of there, moving eastward.
The only low temperatures this morning are 2
below zero at Winnipeg and zero at Port Arthur. It is warmer at Duluth than in the surrounding country, the thermometer registering 15 here, while at Moorhead it is 5 and at St.
Paul 6. The warmest place in the Northwest is Milwaukee, Minn., 31.
It is probable that fair weather will prevail in this section today, somewhat except perhaps some light flurries of snow this evening,
and there is no sign of cold weather for the present.
The temperature went up to 25 yesterday and fell to 17 during the night.

Local Forecast Official.
B. H. BRONSON.
DULUTH, Feb. 22.—Generally fair, possibly followed by light flurries of snow tonight;
slight advance in temperature; winds shifting to southeast and west.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: For Minnesota: Generally fair
Wednesday; northern part of the state warmer in northern portion; colder followed by warmer in southern portion.

Liberty of the Press.
An interesting case involving a gross attack upon the liberty of the press, has arisen in California. The editor and publisher of the San Jose Mercury has been fined $100 for publishing a report of a divorce suit (Price vs. Price) which was tried in private chambers, the judge ordering that no publication be made in regard to the trial.

The Mercury in its discharge of public duty obtained a report of the trial and published a truthful and clean account.
No complaint is made but that the report was fair and unbiased, and the news
given in a wholesome manner, though in the testimony a good deal of witness came out. The alleged contempt consists in making any publication at all after the court had ordered none should be made.

The constitution of California provides that "no law shall be passed to restrain the liberty of speech or of the press." A section of the penal code protects the reporter, editor or proprietor of any newspaper from any prosecution for a fair and true report of any judicial proceeding except upon proof of express malice. Another section of the code of civil procedure provides that in an action for a divorce * * * the court may direct the trial of any issue of fact joined therein to be private, and may exclude all persons except the officers of the court, the parties, the witnesses and counsel. The act of 1891 regarding contempt of court provides that contempt shall consist, among other things,
in disobedience of any lawful order of the court.

While the law thus appears to give the judge the right to hold the trial behind closed doors, there is nothing
whatever in the law which gives him authority to say that a newspaper shall not publish an account of the trial. The editor of the Mercury took this view and was fined for contempt. He has appealed to the supreme court from this unwarranted attempt to muzzle the press,
and thus put an end to its freedom guaranteed by the constitution of the land.
It is notable, in this connection, that some judges are very much addicted to fining people for contempt, and oftentimes without the slightest authority.
The fact is that the power of judges to punish for contempt of court is very limited—much more limited than most people imagine.

Foreigners Need Not Apply.
A Parisian gentleman has written to Mayor Washburne, of Chicago, asking for a permit to reproduce the celebrated gambling establishment of Monte Carlo and run it in connection with the World's fair. The beautiful architecture, tesselated floors, shimmering gaslights and other features would, thinks the Parisian, receive much attention. Visitors, moreover, would be fascinated with the allu-ments of the roulette wheel, the rouge et noir and the fare bank.

The splendor of the gliding of the kind of vice to be seen at Monte Carlo is admitted. Unluckily the Parisian, like one or two other individuals, labors
under a misapprehension in this matter,
says the Chicago News-Record. "The World's fair and all its incidental features are designed to exhibit the progress of man—not his backsliding. Exhibits of gambling, or shoplifting or petty larceny are not wanted."

It may also be added that the Parisian labors under another misapprehension. No visitor to Chicago need depart with any yearning for the attractions of Monte Carlo unsatisfied. His offer will be declined, ostensibly on high moral grounds, but really because the Chicago authorities
do not intend to allow competition with home industries. It has not been very profitable for the home gamblers in recent years, and Chicago does not propose that any Frenchman or other foreigner shall reap the great profits sure to accrue from this thriving industry during the World's fair year. Chicago is also desirous of retaining this money at home, and the only way this can be done

is by shutting out the foreign gamblers who desire to ply their vocation. Chicago needs no reproduction of Monte Carlo.
It has several now.

"Only Paint it Red."
Cardinal Gibbons, in his sermon, delivered in Baltimore Sunday on the occasion of the pope's jubilee services, said:
"A yearning has gone forth from many noble and earnest hearts for the union of Christianity. That earnest desire has my heartfelt sympathy, and I would make any sacrifice, even of life itself, for the consummation of so great a blessing."
* * * But there can be only one secure basis for this union—that established by Christ himself—the recognition of Peter and his successor as the center
of spiritual authority.

The good cardinal's yearning for the unity of Christianity under the conditions mentioned brings to the recollection of the Milwaukee Wisconsin the old story of the meeting of a volunteer fire company to decide the important question as to what color the "machine" should be painted. During the debate on the subject the biggest and a much feared member of the company bowed to the will of the majority in a pointed speech, remarking, "I don't care
a cent what color you paint the machine
if you only paint it red."

Probably Presbyterians, Baptists,
Methodists, and all other kinds of lists
are in favor of the unity of Christianity under the same conditions. Each, one would undoubtedly exclaim, in the words of a recent edict from the Vatican,
"tolerant potest."

An Important Event.
An interesting ceremony was performed at New York today, which marks
an important event in the history of America's mercantile marine. It was the hoisting by President Harrison of the stars and stripes on the steamer
New York, formerly the City of New York of the Inman line, signifying the transfer of this fine vessel from the British to the American register.

The New York was admitted to American register with her sister ship the Paris—formerly City of Paris—in compliance with an agreement which requires the steamship company to build at least two ships of equal tonnage and of the same character. The owners of the steamers are doing more than this. The Cramp Shipbuilding company is at work upon five new ships, four of which will be similar in size and design to the New York and Paris, and the fifth, a much larger vessel, that will be constructed with a view to beating the new Cunard-ers Lucania and Campania. The steel for these ships is to be made in the United States. The policy that has resulted in this addition to our merchant vessels must be heartily commended.

A Washington dispatch to the Pioneer Press yesterday stated that Mr. Willard, representing the Duluth Transfer company, had gone to New York to meet Messrs. Mendenhall and Hartley and try to arrange a compromise regarding the Grassy Point bridge. If Messrs.
Mendenhall and Hartley were not opposing the bill, why would it be necessary to arrange a compromise with them?

The News-Tribune says that the Republicans who voted for a Democrat for United States senator in North Dakota
are "traitors" and urges that if Congressman Johnson be renominated Republicans should bolt his candidacy. The News-Tribune should keep cool. The Republicans of North Dakota are running the show to suit themselves and need no outside advice.

It is stated on the authority of the Pall Mall Gazette that Mr. Gladstone smokes cigarettes. It is safe to say that "the grand old man" does not buy them ready made but rolls his own cigarettes
out of first class tobacco.

Maj. McKinley denies that he intends to resign the governorship of Ohio. Evidently Mr. Kohlsaat, of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, was "talking through his hat."

Congress sat all last night, just as if it could not do enough mischief during the regular hours. But its days are numbered,
and this is a consolation.

The Republicans had thirteen majority in the North Dakota legislature, and yet a Democrat was chosen senator. Unlucky thirteen!

If the break in Reading would also cause a break in the price of coal, the public would not mourn.

There has not been even a whisper
from Ket Clarkson since the senate confirmed Judge Jackson.

The sentiment in favor of continental union is steadily making headway
among the Canadians.

The Terrified Antis.
Detroit Journal. The anti-annexation-ists in Canada betray every sign of fear that they will go to bed some night and wake up in the morning to find themselves citizens of a country that will make their provinces as prosperous and thriving as any of the commonwealths
on this side of the line. They seem almost wild with terror.

Steel Barges for Rivers.
New Orleans Picayune. Every new improvement in the construction of ships, barges and boats of metal is a step in an evolution which must one day bring great changes in the vessels which carry merchandise on our Western rivers. The wooden barge has for years been a most important factor in the river trade, and its change into one of steel is only a matter of time. The need of free waterways will constantly increase under the requirement for cheap transportation,
and inventive genius must apply itself
to build steel boats to fulfill all the requirements of such conditions.

Contemptible, Indeed.
Superior Call: That was a contemptible attempt on the part of the Duluth News Tribune to deal a blow at Superior. The man who wrote the lie about the Freeman mill must have known that there is no difference between the formation of the water front in Superior and that on the Duluth side. The News Tribune can not build up Duluth by lying about Superior.

Tough on the Nerves.
Atchison Globe. So many dry goods stores are having linen sales that a modest man can't look into a dry goods store window without being badly shocked.

A Great Benefactor.
Educators are certainly the greatest benefactors of the race, and after reading Dr. Franklin Miles' popular works, we cannot help declaring him to be among the most entertaining and educating of authors. The New York Daily Herald is not a stranger to our readers, as his advertisements appear in our columns in every issue, calling attention to the fact that his elegant work on nervous and heart diseases is distributed free
by our enterprising druggists. Trial bottles of Dr. Miles' Nerve and Brain Tonic are also being distributed showing that it is unequalled for nervous prostration, headache, poor memory, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, hysteria, fits, epilepsy.

The funeral of Mrs. Chas. G. Traphegen will take place Tuesday at 10 o'clock, at her late residence, Lester Park. Friends are invited to attend without further notice.

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand,
which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the worst case of scrofula they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla.
Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars. Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A dozen more per cent? Yes, many thousand.
Before I could do so work. I know not what to say strong enough to express my great gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for my per-cure." GEORGE W. TURNER, Farmer, Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y.

THE CHARGE IS PLAIN

The Jury in the Elias Johnson Murder Trial
Went Out at Noon Today.

Judge Ensign Says That it Must Be Murder in the Second Degree or Nothing.

He Tells the Jury Johnson Must Not Be Made to Suffer As an Example to Others.

The arguments in the Johnson murder trial were commenced yesterday afternoon. County Attorney's speech to the jury occupied about an hour. Attorney Baldwin, for the defense, commenced at 5 o'clock and at 5:30 suggested an adjournment which was agreed to by Judge Ensign. This morning he resumed his argument and spoke forty minutes, making a strong plea for Johnson.

At the close of Mr. Baldwin's address County Attorney rose up and said that some unscrupulous paper had reported that the witness, Marston, had left the city and could not be found. This was entirely wrong as he had told the witness that he probably would not be needed again, and that the witness was in the court room listening to the balance of the trial all yesterday afternoon. Judge Ensign's charge to the jury occupied 55 minutes and was very clear and forcible. In opening he said: "Heretofore as members of the different juries at this time of court you have passed, in your capacity as jurors upon matters of life and death, and cents were concerned. Now the burden is a weightier one—life and liberty of a human being are at stake. A crime has been committed, a life has been taken; the law imposes a punishment upon the criminal. With regard to the defendant the law says if he is innocent, he must be acquitted; if he is guilty he must be punished. He must not suffer by reason of the frequent murder cases committed in this county. You are to decide upon the merits of this murder case, not any other murder cases. He is on trial for this murder; not other murders. We will not consider the charge of murder in the first degree; there is no evidence of premeditation or deliberation. The court instructs you that if the defendant is guilty he is guilty of the murder in the second degree and nothing else."

The jury retired at 11:10 o'clock and were still out at 3 o'clock. The next case was the larceny case of the state against A. C. Varrington and John Coughlin. T. J. McKoon, defense attorney, and J. T. Watson, for the state, presented the case. The latter, who is a prisoner, stole a coat of silk from Janitz's tailor shop early this month. The jury was drawn at noon and is made up of the following people: Emil Schmied, H. J. Atwood, C. O. Nelson, W. S. Albertson, Thos. A. Sheridan, James E. Fisher, H. P. G. H. Kemp, Bert Johnson, Anthony Johnson, M. Fitzgerald, A. C. McDaniels.

Before Judge Brown, in room 2, the cases of Andrew Buckram and Andrew Nyler vs. Eugene T. Merritt were continued until tomorrow morning. The case of Leopold Brody vs. Nannie McLachlin was stricken from the calendar on the ground of non-appearance. The case of Beret Paulson vs. the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway is on and will be continued tomorrow morning. Judge Brown adjourned court until tomorrow at noon.

The matter before the estate of E. L. Emery has been placed on the list of court cases.

THE ANNUAL INSPECTION.

Duluth Commandery of Knights Templar Visited by the Grand Commander.

The annual inspection of Duluth commandery Knights Templar, was made last evening by Grand Commander T. W. Hugo accompanied by his staff. The grand commander was received by the local commander and visiting knights and the temple degree was conferred on a candidate.

Following this a banquet was given in Masonic Temple hall. Local commander McMullen was at the head of the table with Grand Commander Hugo at his right and Rev. C. S. Starkweather, of Superior, at his left. A fine lunch was served and was followed by informal speeches. Nearly all members of the Duluth commandery were present and twenty-five members of the Superior commandery were over. Other commanderies were also represented. Grand Commander Hugo and staff will inspect the St. Paul and Minneapolis commanderies within a few days.

THE DULUTH BOYS WON.

The Superior Polo Club Succumbed to the City Dwellers.

The Duluth Polo club demonstrated last evening at Superior that they can play a stiff game of polo, for they played against a remarkably strong team, one containing four of the fastest men in Wisconsin. The Duluth boys played an aggressive game, and their team work on this occasion was wonderfully improved over that of last Friday evening when they played the Henriettes. The score was 1 to 0, in favor of Duluth. The goal was scored in eight minutes and a half, and after that, in spite of the strenuous efforts of each side, neither could make a goal.

THE PITTSBURG ELECTIONS.

Returns Coming in Slowly and Favorable to the Democrats.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 22.—Returns from yesterday's municipal election reach the prothonotary's office very slowly today. The latest figures on the mayorality contest give McKenna (Democrat) 15,488; Lambie (Republican), 14,127; Beinhart (Citizens' Alliance), 3,100; Kerr (Independent), 250.

For city controller the vote stands: H. I. Courtney (Democrat and Citizens) 17,030; Mercer (Republican), 15,313. For city treasurer: Jos. F. Denniston (Republican), 16,588; Fleming (Democrat), 14,270; McWilliams (Citizens), 1,885.

In Allegheny Mayor Kennedy had a walk-over. The vote was much smaller than was anticipated, but his election is assured.

The election in the First ward of Pittsburgh will probably be followed by suits in court. Both sides are claiming fraud, and the election officers are under a fire of inquiry. In the thirty-five other wards of the city there was no disturbance, and while the vote was unusually heavy there were few political discussions around the polls.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A Double Tragedy in a Hotel at Altoona, Pa.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 22.—A double tragedy was committed here yesterday. James Benson, aged 20, was employed as hostler at the Ingold hotel, at Fourth avenue. Some time past he has been ailing with St. Anthony's dance, which it is believed made him at times insane.

Several days ago he had borrowed fifty cents from Emma, the 14-year-old daughter of the proprietor. Between 3 and 4 o'clock he offered to pay her, providing she would accompany him to his room. When they had arrived at the second floor he suddenly drew a 32-caliber revolver and fired without a moment's warning, the bullet crashing through the young girl's brain and instantly killing her. He then sent a bullet into his own brain. He was taken to the city hospital where he now lies in a hopeless condition.

TO GEORGE'S MEMORY.

The Legislators Had a Celebration at St. Paul This Morning.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 22.—The majority of the places of business and all the public offices were closed today in memory of George Washington's birthday.

Celebrations were given by nearly every organization in the city, including the G. A. R., orders and the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. The Sons of Veterans and W. C. T. U. celebrate tonight, in conjunction with the Women's Relief Corps.

The event of the day was the celebration at the state capital, all the representatives and senators being present. Speeches were made by Hiram F. Stevens, Hon. Albert Edgerton and others.

All the schools are closed, and exercises are being held in most of them. The day is being more generally observed than ever before in St. Paul.

STARTED IN A LAUNDRY.

Several Fine Buildings in a Pennsylvania Town Burned Today.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 22.—Jeanette, Pa., was visited by fire this morning, destroying property to the value of about $50,000. The flames originated in the Chinese laundry of Lee Chu in the basement of a fine three-story building, corner of Clay avenue and Fourth street.

This building was entirely destroyed, and the flames spread to Gump Brothers' dry goods store, Knappenberg's meat market, Wm. Meyers' plumbing shop, Joseph Diebold's grocery and the large hotel belonging to E. J. Vinton and occupied as a billiard room and public hall. The insurance on the property destroyed will not exceed $20,000.

MET WITH WINCHESTERS.

A Mob of White Caps in Kansas Was Forced to Retreat.

FORT SCOTT, Kas., Feb. 22.—Last night a mob of citizens went the residence of Rev. C. C. Goins, a colored Baptist preacher and ex-member of the board of education, with the intention of whitecapping him.

The mob were met at the door of the parsonage by a number of Goins' friends armed with winchesters. They threatened to shoot and the mob retired. In the excitement Goins escaped, but today surrendered to the authorities and asked protection from the mob. He is accused of intimacy with a colored school teacher.

RETALIATION SUSPENDED.

The Order for Tolls on Canadian Vessels at the Soo Revoked.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The president today issued a proclamation revoking the tolls levied on Canadian vessels and cargoes in the Sault Ste. Marie canal, in consequence of Dominion government adopting an order in council removing the discrimination against American vessels passing through the Canadian canals.

In President Hayes' Memory.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 22.—The Indiana commandery of the Loyal Legion held a memorial meeting in honor of the late ex-President Hayes in Plymouth church this afternoon. Rev. Dr. Haynes read a memorial paper prepared by Col. Starr, of Richmond, who is confined to his house by sickness. Rev. Dr. Lucas read a poem by Mrs. Starr. Judge Martindale, a friend of the ex-president, spoke and brief addresses were made by others.

A BIG STRIKE PROBABLE.

The Switchmen in Chicago Demand a Big Increase in Wages.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—There is a very uneasy feeling among the switchmen of this city, and a strike on all the roads within twenty-four hours is not at all improbable. The first move in the direction of securing better pay during the World's fair year was made by the men employed by the Belt line this morning.

They demanded an increase amounting to nearly 50 per cent. They were met in a friendly spirit by the officials of the company, but the increase was too great to grant without time to give the matter due consideration.

An adjournment was taken this morning for two days because of the inability of one of the Populists' attorneys to be present. The court declined the request, but did adjourn the case until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

In the meantime the Populist house and senate are holding sessions day and night and rushing the favorite Populist measures through by the wholesale. It is generally believed that the Populists intend to pay no attention to the supreme court, but to adjourn their house as soon as the court decides the Republican house legal.

THE MICHIGAN REPUBLICANS.

Justice Hooker Will be Renominated For the Supreme Court.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 22.—The delegates to the state convention were slow in assembling in Harmonia hall this morning, and it was 10:15 o'clock when Secretary Blutes of the state central committee arrived to open the convention.

He said he was glad to be able to congratulate the Republicans of Michigan on having since the last convention wrested the control of its affairs from the Democrats.

It is understood that Justice Hooker will be renominated for the place on the supreme bench. Of the university regents Dr. Hal C. Wyman, of Detroit, will capture one of the places on the ticket.

TIME REQUIRED TO CURE CATARRH.

DEPENDS ON THE KIND OF CATARRH AND THE FAITHFULNESS OF THE PATIENT.

"How long does it take to cure catarrh?"

This is a proper and important question, and in answering it a great many things have to be taken into consideration. First, the kind of catarrh. Is it hypertrophic or atrophic, moist or dry, ulcerative, foul smelling, etc?

It is purely local, is it, simply confined to the nose and throat, or has it extended to the eyes, ears, lungs, stomach, bowels, causing severe inroads upon the general health?

Again, a great deal depends upon the peculiarity of the patient. Some patients are peculiarly susceptible to the catarrhal poisons, some yield readily to treatment while others do not. Some take their medicines with clockwork regularity and take good care of their general health, while others do not.

As much depends upon the faithfulness of the patient as on the skill of the physician.

As a general rule, it takes about three or four months to cure an ordinary case of catarrh where all the conditions are favorable. Some aggravated cases require a much longer time, five or six months, and even if cured in one year the patient should be very happy and grateful.

There is one thing Dr. Copeland and his associates desire to impress upon their patients, and that is that continuous and persistent treatment is necessary. The more experience they have the more convinced they are of this fact. Catarrh, or, in fact, any other chronic or long-standing disease, cannot be cured in a month. Under their method of treatment the results are often so rapid a patient will sometimes feel so well at the end of a month that he imagines he is cured, and does not need any more treatment, but such a one often has to return in a year, or at the approach of cold weather, and resume treatment again.

"I Have Come Back Again!"

Is an expression frequently heard by Drs. Copeland, Hunt & Drenning. "I wish I had taken your advice and continued throughout the full course, but I felt so well I thought I never would be sick again. I see now that you were right, it takes time to bring the tissues to a perfectly healthy condition, and I am going to follow your advice implicitly and stay under treatment as long as you dictate."

Evidence of Systematic Treatment.

Mr. Gilton has been a resident of Duluth for three years, for the last year and a half he has been an efficient member of the police force of this city. Being well known for truth and veracity his statement cannot fail to carry conviction to the hearts of his many friends.

Mr. Gilton says: "I have been treating at the Copeland Medical Institute for only six weeks and in that short time my rapid improvement was a surprise to me and to the attendant physician. The reason for my rapid progress is that I took the treatment in a regular systematic way as laid down to me by the doctor. My greatest trouble, said the gentleman, 'was with the nose and stomach.'

The latter organ would blow up and I could belch up sour matter and gas at night and rushing the favorite Populist measures through by the wholesale. It is generally believed that the Populists intend to pay no attention to the supreme court, but to adjourn their house as soon as the court decides the Republican house legal.

ALL NIGHT SESSION

The House of Representatives Was Kept In Session Until This Morning By The Filibusters.

The Car Coupler Bill Was the Bone of Contention and Both Sides Fought Bitterly.

Private Agreement That Wise Will Be Recognized on Monday And The Bill Be Passed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The house was in session all night. Some time was devoted to the consideration of the post-office appropriation bill, the debate on which was confined to the special service provision, but the "car coupler" measure was the one which met with determined opposition. Mr. Richardson (Democrat, Tennessee) led the opposing parties, and by parliamentary maneuvers prevented any action being taken on it. The incidents of the night session were similar to those which were on every such occasion. Wit and humorous repartee were prevalent, but occasionally a harsh word uttered either intentionally or unintentionally, would stir up strife among the members and would lend a somewhat dramatic effect to the proceedings, or rather the lack of proceedings.

As the hours passed away the members became less aggressive and more sleepy. The floor of the chamber was strewn with papers, large papers, small papers and scraps of papers of almost infinite small proportions. Members lounged in their chairs, reposed on the many sofas or congregated in the cloak rooms to enjoy a cosy chat and a fragrant cigar. Occasionally the loungers became, to a certain extent, interested in the proceedings; occasionally the occupants of the sofas were aroused by the tones of angry voices; occasionally the smokers left the cloak room fires to turn an attentive ear to what was being done in the house.

Towards the small hours, Allen (Democrat, Mississippi), made one of his characteristic humorous speeches, mainly directed toward the occupant of the chair, (Bailey, of Texas). It was appreciated by the members who were in attendance, for it was in his best vein, but at the same time it excited some resentment. In fact, the resentment was so strong that subsequently, Crain, (Democrat, Texas), moved that it be expunged from the record. But objection was made. Then Crain asked unanimous consent that all the proceedings of the night, relating to the excuses, be expunged from the record.

To this Tracey (Democrat, New York) objected, but there was a general feeling that the proceedings of the day were not creditable to the national house of representatives. But the fight is a stubborn one, the more stubborn because it is not political. The advocates of the car-coupler bill showed a stern determination to pass the measure, and their opponents put up equally as strong a face against its enactment.

Finally at 6:30 o'clock the house adjourned. There was a private agreement that Wise should be recognized on Monday to suspend the rules and pass the bill.

TO DECIDE ITS LEGALITY.

A Case Before the Kansas Supreme Court to be Bitterly Fought.

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 22.—L. C. Gunn habeas corpus case, the decision of which will determine whether or not, in the opinion of the supreme court, the Republican house is the legally organized house of representatives of the state was begun in the supreme court yesterday.

The best legal talent in the state was arrayed on both sides and it was evident at the outset that the case was to be fought closely and that it would be long drawn out.

Gunn the petitioner, a Democrat, was arrested last week on a warrant issued by Speaker Douglas of the Republican house, charging him with contempt for having refused to respond to a summons to appear as a witness before the house elections committee.

He prays his release on a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that Speaker Douglas has had no authority to order his arrest, alleging that he is not the speaker of the legal house of representatives. The court decided at the beginning that it would listen to no arguments on points of law until after it had heard all the testimony which each side had to offer.

BEAUREGARD'S FUNERAL.

The Dead General Will be Honored by the Veterans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 22.—The family of Gen. Beauregard has yielded to the request of the public not to hurry the funeral of the dead soldier and thereby afford the public and the veterans an opportunity to pay fitting respect to the memory of the dead general.

It has been decided that the funeral will be public, taking place at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The city council met and offered the council chamber as a place where the remains may lie in state. All the veteran organizations and the state militia will probably participate in the funeral ceremonies, the arrangements for which are in charge of Gen. John Glynn.

Lynchings in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 22.—Last night the sheriff of St. Clair county was en route to Asheville with Dick Mays, aged 15 years, the negro who outraged Mrs. McBoyer at St. Clair Springs last Sunday. When within half a mile of his destination the sheriff was overpowered by a mob of masked men and the prisoner hanged to the limb of a tree. Mays confessed his crime. The body was riddled with bullets while suspended in the air.

ICE IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

Ferry Boats Unable to Move Through the Unbroken Ice Field.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The waters surrounding Manhattan island are once more ice-bound. The ferry service is irregular and several mishaps have already occurred. The North and East rivers are filled with ice, and the upper bay resembles an Arctic sea.

In an unbroken field the crystal mass, capped with hardened snow, extends from shore to shore. During the night the ice came down the North river in giant floes and was swept down the bay by a strong ebb tide till it reached the narrows. There it met a check on its course to the sound.

Huge cakes formed a field. The pressure exerted by the mass behind packed it still firmer, till it reached from side to side, an almost impassable barrier. Yesterday the situation at this point was slightly relieved, but when an incoming steamer succeeded in passing the icy portals to the locked waters beyond, it was generally unable to proceed further.

Over toward the Staten Island shore the ice has been carried by the wind and tide till layer has been forced upon layer and the surface resembles a snow-clad prairie. From the battery to Governor's Island the ice is very solid, and it is with extreme difficulty that the south ferry boats can force their way through it.

The Barclay street ferry to Hoboken is experiencing much trouble with its side-wheel boats. The screw ferry boats were able to make better time, but had to fight their way almost inch by inch. Along the river front lighters and railroad floats are frozen in; tugs are vainly trying to extricate them.

Although this city is enjoying a breathing spell from the storm, it is still blowing great guns all along the coast.

McKINLEY'S INDEBTEDNESS.

His Name Is on Paper Aggregating Over One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 22.—The statement was furnished yesterday as a result of the investigation into the affairs of Robert L. Walker, showing that the amount of paper on which Governor McKinley is endorser is fully $100,000 and may reach $150,000. Experts say that the total amount for the governor will not exceed the latter figure.

The statement startles the friends of the governor, as it was not believed at any time that he was on to exceed $50,000. Arrangements are being made to promptly pay all the McKinley paper.

Robert Walker yesterday resigned as president of the Farmers' National bank of Poland, and the Girard savings bank. Both institutions are perfectly solvent and have experienced no excitement among depositors since Saturday.

Will Not Resign.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 22.—Governor McKinley, who is in Cleveland, was asked if there was any truth in his rumored intention to resign the governorship on account of his recent financial reverses. He said: "The report is absolutely without foundation. I have no intention of resigning and never have said anything that would justify the starting of such a rumor."

connected Paine's celery compound with success that the name itself has become a perpetual letter of recommendation.

Every year, as it adds to the on a ring of growth, adds a new circle to those who tell their friends their faith in this wonderful remedy, the product of the most advanced scientific study of this generation.

It is good not only for the old, but for the young and middle aged, who now, after their fall and winter's labors, closely confined to business, are too often overworked with work and worry. James W. Foster, writing from Bath, N. H., where he is one of the best known men in town, says:

"I have been one of the many sufferers from indigestion, sick headache, costiveness of the worst kind, weak nerves, and nervous affections. No one who has not had these troubles can appreciate my sufferings. I tried sarsaparilla, nervines, and physicians' prescriptions but could not get cured. I commenced taking Paine's celery compound. One bottle completely cured me! My nerves are strong, and I am better than I have been for years. The compound is a wonderful medicine, and I recommend it to every one I meet."

Mr. E. Dwyer, a well known young druggist of Cambridge, Mass., had been sick for six months when he began to use Paine's celery compound, and it "made him well," he says, "as ever he was in his life." To quote his own words, "I have used Paine's celery compound, and it has entirely cured me."—a statement that thousands before him have made and thousands more will make. For Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine, a sarsaparilla, or an ordinary tonic. It is as superior to them all as the diamond is to cheap glass.

Prof. Niel, Government chemist, writes: I have carefully analyzed your "Royal Ruby Fort Wine," bought by me in the open market, and certify that I found the same absolutely pure. This wine is especially recommended for its health-restoring and building-up properties; it strengthens the weak and restores lost vitality. Be sure you get Royal Ruby; $1 per quart bottle. Sold by S. F. Boyce, druggist.

GREAT CURLING MATCH

Four Rinks Coming From St. Paul on Saturday Next to Play the Duluth Boys.

George Nettleton and Alex. McCulloch Winners of International Trophy Will Be Here.

A Juvenile Rink Will Also Come From the Twin Cities—Nine Hours of Curling.

Curling is a popular amusement in Duluth and there have been many matches here which stirred up considerable interest but there has never been anything to equal the tournament which has been arranged for next Saturday to be played at the new Glen Avon rink,
the building of which has given a great impetus to winter sports.

Four rinks from St. Paul will be up here on that day, two of them headed by George Nettleton and Alex. McCulloch who won the great international trophy
and four gold medals at Winnipeg at the recent series of games there. This establishes them as the great curlers of the continent. They are to play a match between themselves in St. Paul soon to determine which one shall have the trophy.
Nettleton is also the winner of the Walkerville trophy and four medals.

H. H. Harvey will lead a juvenile rink which is coming. All are boys except Harvey himself. Tom Hastings, a veteran Minneapolis curler will lead another rink.

The Duluth men will make up some strong teams. They have several old St. Paul curlers, among them Dr. Fullerton, George Dinwoodie and Alan Black.
The different rinks here will be headed by Donald MacLeod, R. J. MacLeod, R.
R. Macfarlane, W. O. Smith and Dr.
Fullerton.

The games will be played between the hours of 9 and 12 a. m., 2 and 5 and 7
and 10 p. m. It is quite possible that no admission will be charged although this is not definitely settled.

Duluth Board of Trade

some building.

Board of Trade building upon a site

bonus.
Offers of bonus must be made in the name of persons of known responsibility or accompanied by ample guarantees.
Within reasonable bounds the building will be placed in the loca-

sota division. In effect March 1, 1893.

Mr. Greene remove two of the oldest superintendents from the service of the company. Mr. McCabe, it is said, goes into the service of the Great Northern railroad at a greatly increased salary,
with greatly increased powers on the Pacific coast. Mr. Greene has not relinquished railroad life by any means.

superintendent of the Lake Superior
division of the Northern Pacific road.

MADE MONEY EASILY.

But the Law Got After Him and He Must Pay
the Penalty.

Bartolo Zovzi was arrested in this city yesterday for uttering false checks. His swindle was operated by filling out blank
checks, signing his own name and then tendering them in exchange for small purchases made from the merchants of Tower, Ely, Biwabik and other towns on the range, always receiving the difference in cash.

That proved such an easy way to make money that he attempted to cash a check of $100 at the bank of Biwabik.
The bank people were suspicious, hence advanced only a portion of the face of the check, giving a receipt for the balance. Numerous checks were found on his person and the police think they are on the trail of the instrument with which figures on the paper were perfor-
mated.

The arrest was due to the good memory of a Mr. Burdick, who came down from Biwabik as a witness in the Wethers case and discovered the swindle as soon as he got off the train. Deputy Sheriff Bates, who was also present, at once made the arrest. The Security bank of this city finds that it has some of Zovzi's checks in its possession.

Oldest "See" Lockman Dying.
James Silos, the oldest lockman on the St. Mary's Falls Canal, is now lying at death's door at his home in Sault Ste.
Marie. He is about 90 years of age.
He was employed on the old Independence,
the first steamer that plied on Lake Superior, in 1850, and left her to join the canal force. It was the intention of the government to send him to the World's Fair at Chicago with the propeller wheel
of the Independence, but it is unlikely that he will live to fulfill the mission.

They Cannot Agree.
President Truesden, of the board of public works, this morning received a letter from City Attorney Smith, who is still at St. Paul in the interests of charter revision for Duluth. The tunnel and assessment bills are in good shape but Minneapolis will under no circumstances
accept a board of public works, while St.
Paul insists on the old method of appointment. The matter is being argued in Duluth at a school board meeting with the council as is now the case in the Twin cities. It is not unlikely that a general and complete "bust-up" will be the outcome.

FOR ANOTHER JUDGE

The Petition of the Bar of the Eleventh Judicial District Presented in the Senate Today.

Markham's Bill for Taxation of Railroad Lands Made a Special Order For Next Wednesday.

Leavitt's Measure To Tax Iron Ore Three Cents After Five Years Recommended For Passage.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 23.—[Special to The Herald.]—In the senate today Mr. Daugherty introduced a petition signed generally by the St. Louis county bar for a law creating an additional judge in the Eleventh judicial district. Two reports on Mr. Markham's bill taxing railroad lands were presented this morning from the judiciary committee and the minority report prevailed that the bill should be placed upon general orders and made a special order for Wednesday afternoon.

The Duluth tunnel bill was reported back this morning and recommended to pass by the proper committee. The judiciary committee of the senate reported Mr. Leavitt's bill taxing iron ore three cents after five years, with a recommendation that it pass.

The following bills were introduced: By Eaton, a bill to amend the law relating to interest making the legal rate 6 and 8 per cent; by Eaton, a bill relating to appeals from boards of county commissioners; by Allen, a bill to amend the law relating to trial by jury; by Allen, a bill relating to appeals from the district court; by Wood, a bill for an act to amend the law relating to the appointment of school monies so that a small local tax shall not affect it; by Streisguth, a bill to validate bonds issued by county commissioners, and also a bill to provide for construction of ditches or water courses and making assessments therefor.

Governor Nelson sent in a communication asking that legislation be passed to relieve the crowded condition of St. Cloud reformatory and with it a bill providing that the same plan be applied to the penitentiary at Duluth.

The following bills were introduced in the house this morning: By George Willson, authorizing county commissioners to locate posts of the government surveys when they are destroyed; by Fuller, repealing special laws relating to county printing in five counties; by Dunn, an act defining what shall constitute a legal newspaper, making its size at least four pages of five columns and 17 1/2 inches long, etc.; by Tyler, a bill amending the law relating to intoxicating liquors; by Walsh, a bill defining murder by degrees; by Boggs, a bill for giving a lien to merchants who furnish supplies to contractors or loggers upon the product of the latter's work; by Cotton, a bill allowing religious corporations to be sued and to sue in all courts, and to hold and recover property; by Langum, a bill to prevent deceptions in sale of dairy products and preserve the public health.

Many petitions were introduced in the house this afternoon against religious legislation. A communication was received from the governor in the house, stating that he had refused the invitation to visit Chicago and to inspect the Minnesota building with the state legislature.

A bill passed the senate this morning exempting parsonages from taxation. Mr. Severson got a resolution through the senate calling upon the attorney general for a report on the petition of Mr. Markham's railroad taxation bill. He is understood to have pronounced an opinion in its favor.

FORGERY AND FRAUD.
Grave Charges Made Against Business Men in London.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—James W. Hobbs, of the firm of J. W. Hobbs & Co., limited, and Henry Granville Wright, solicitor, were today committed for trial along with G. Newman, of G. Newman & Co., limited, on charges of forgery and fraud in connection with the ruin of the Liberator Building society. The evidence showed that for about ten years past Hobbs & Co. had conducted, with the cognizance and assistance of Wright, a system of fraud upon the Liberator Building society.

George Charles Kent, who has been for many years cashier for Hobbs & Co., explained the methods which had been followed. False bills were accepted by Hobbs, purporting to be drawn by merchants who supplied the timber and material to Hobbs. It was not intended to pay the money on the bills to the firms whose names were used, and these firms were unaware of their existence. The bills were accepted by Hobbs and given to Wright, and the amounts paid by the Liberator Building society, which financed the business of Hobbs & Co.

Another method of defrauding the Liberator society was by increasing the wage sheet and thereby receiving a larger amount from the society each week to meet the expenditure for wages than was actually necessary. Kentish did this by the direction of Hobbs, to whom Kentish handed the greater part of the amount overcharged. Although the amounts involved in the actual charges against Hobbs, Wright, and Newman are comparatively small, the amount of loss to the Liberator society through mismanagement and fraud in various forms probably exceeds $2,000,000, although the amount cannot be ascertained with exactness.

The vast amount of property on much of which the Liberator society holds third and probably worthless mortgages is disposed of. The defendants were committed without bail.

A REFORMED TRAIN ROBBER.
But He Must Serve Time for Holding Up a Train Years Ago.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 23.—Bud Powell, alias Charles Thompson, who pleaded guilty before Judge Maxey of the federal court at Austin on Tuesday last to the charge of train robbery, has been confined in jail here during the past six months.

He, with five others, held up a Southern Pacific train near Flatonia, east of here, in 1887, robbing the Wells Fargo Express of $35,000 besides securing a large amount of money and valuables from the passengers. Four of the robbers have since been killed while resisting arrest. The only one of them sentenced yet for the crime is "Bill" Reeves, who is serving a life term in the Detroit Penitentiary.

Powell proceeded immediately to Montana after the robbery, gambling all of his ill-gotten wealth away on the journey. Arriving at Helena, Mont., he determined to better his ways. He attended a college there, where he was graduated with honors. He then entered the church and became a zealous worker. Three years ago he became superintendent of an extensive ranch near Border City, Mont. He went under the name of "Thompson" because he became the suitor of the daughter of one of the ranch owners. A few weeks before the date of his proposed marriage United States Marshal Frick arrested him. This was six months ago.

Powell has been a model prisoner during his confinement here, and says he is determined to live a Christian life. The wealthy ranchman's daughter, to whom he is betrothed, has remained true to the proposal of marriage. Powell's term in the penitentiary is completed. Sentence is to be passed upon the prisoner tomorrow. It is expected that he will get off easily.

GRAVE ROBBERS CAUGHT.
The Dean of a University and Four Other Men Arrested.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 23.—A party of grave robbers were arrested between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning coming out of the center street entrance to Woodlawn cemetery. The party consisted of Dr. J. W. Overton, dean of Drake university medical department; John W. Shafer, of the United States signal office; John E. Sloan, son of Liveryman Sloan, and J. W. Martin and W. E. Burris, laborers.

They had the corpse of an unknown man in a bag. The party was known by Officers Morgan and Butin. The officers got wind of the probable heist by snatching through a backman who refused to accompany the party. They went to the cemetery with Supr. Robinson and there they found a lack. They searched the backman with a revolver and made him keep quiet.

The grave robbers came up one by one, the last two dragging a corpse by ropes. The others put four men and the corpse in the back, one in the seat with the driver, and brought the whole crowd to the city and lodged all of them in jail.

Overton, Shafer and Sloan gave bonds this morning and the others were released. The body was identified as Wm. Case, a county clerk, who died last week. The college authorities deny that they have ever taken anything but paupers' bodies. The affair caused a great sensation, as Overton stands high in the medical and social circles.

THE SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE.
It Does Not Appear to be Very Successful at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—The eighty switch-tenders and townsmen of the Belt line, who went out on strike last night, are still out. They are not, however, receiving any considerable backing from the switchmen's association and their places are being rapidly filled.

President Thomas said this morning that there was no doubt that the company could resist the attempt of the switchmen to tie up the road and that no overtures would now be considered. He expects that by tomorrow the places of the strikers will have been filled.

Railroad Changes.
TOLEDO, Feb. 23.—Walter R. Woodford, who recently tendered his resignation as general superintendent of the Erie, Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, has accepted the position of general superintendent of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad, to succeed Frank M. Townsend, Master of Transportation.

W. D. Sherwood and Chief Train Dispatcher David Morris have also resigned to go with Mr. Woodford.

Embezzled County Funds.
DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 23.—A special to the News from Grayling, Mich., says: Charles M. Jackson, ex-treasurer of this (Crawford) county has been arrested on a complaint of the supervisors, charged with the embezzlement of county funds during his term of office. It is said the shortage will amount to over $10,000. Jackson had a preliminary hearing this morning, and was remanded until March 8.

Never Heard of It.
BOSTON, Feb. 23.—Regarding the statement made at the Harvard club of Washington, that the Harvard college is to receive a bequest amounting to $5,000,000, and possibly $10,000,000, President Eliot says he knows of no such gift to the university in contemplation. Such a gift may be intended, but the corporation of the university, which would naturally be notified at once, has as yet heard nothing of it.

Could Not Agree.
TOLEDO, Feb. 23.—The gentlemen who came here for the purpose of forming a trust among the heating and ventilating concerns of the country have departed without accomplishing anything in that direction. They found that they could not agree on anything. In fact they were mortally afraid of each other. Consequently each concern will continue to conduct its affairs in its own way.

WAS AN EASY VICTORY

Santa Anna in Brazil Has Fallen Into the Hands of the Federalists Without Bloodshed.

They Will Now Begin a March of a Probable Series of Victories to Porto Alegre.

The Haytian Revolutionists Are Trying to Get Up Another Uprising to Overthrow President Hippolyte.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Herald's correspondent at Valparaiso cables the paper as follows: No repulse has so far marked the march of the Federalists toward Porto Alegre, in Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil. Advices from Antigua are to the effect that Santa Anna has practically fallen into the hands of the Federalists.

It is a bloodless victory which the Federalists' commander, Gen. Tavarez, will win at Santa Anna. The head of the federal column reached the outskirts of that city Tuesday afternoon and by night fall the entire army of 4000 men was camped around the town.

With this important town as his base of operations, Gen. Tavarez will begin his movement against Porto Alegre, the capital of the state, and it is believed the march will be a series of victories. News of victory of Gen. Savara in the interior has been confirmed. He captured a large number of prisoners and arms from the Castillistas. Three hundred of the Castillista soldiers deserted and joined the Federalists and turned their guns against their late friends.

These desertions from the forces of Governor Castilho are so frequent that they indicate a general sentiment in the army against him.

Unless the promised reinforcements arrive soon from Rio Gancero, the revolutionists will announce their intention of marching to Porto Alegre and ousting the governor. The authorities in the town of Santa Cruz and the Comandante Bolivi have asked the governor for troops to protect them from Indians.

HAYTIAN REVOLUTIONISTS.
They Are Trying to Get the People to Overthrow Hippolyte.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Sun this morning says: The Haytian revolutionary party is taking advantage of the Hawaiian annexation proceedings now going on at Washington to urge the people of the black republic to arise and overthrow President Hippolyte.

Gen. Manigat, who is now the recognized leader of the revolutionists, is in Jamaica. Ever since the negroes of Hayti were freed from slavery, they have had a dread of being annexed by a foreign power and again becoming servants of the white men.

Gen. Manigat has agent in this city who printed several hundred copies of a proclamation, which are to be scattered broadcast in Hayti. The proclamation reviews the recent uprising in Hayti, it declares, was provoked by the American element in the islands to give the United States an excuse to annex them. The proclamation says Hippolyte is ready to give up Hayti to the United States.

These proclamations are to be distributed to all the military leaders and in the garrisons, in the hope of arousing them to such a point that Manigat and the exiles may land on the island and lead a military revolt against Hippolyte.

HARDWARE DEALERS ASSIGN.
A Chicago Firm in Difficulty and Forced to Suspend.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Lenham & Co., hardware dealers at Nos. 663 to 667 Van Buren street, made an assignment this morning for the benefit of their creditors. The assets and liabilities are each estimated at $100,000. The immediate cause of the failure was the action of a Chicago bank in throwing out some checks drawn by the firm.

Among the creditors are the Washington bank of Minneapolis, the Detroit Store works and the Erie Store works. The assignee says the firm will be able to pay all claims in full and resume business, given a chance by the creditors to do so.

Canal Sign in Canada.
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 23.—The police have been instructed by the police magistrate to arrest or order out of town the Corbett-Mitchell party. Hotel Proprietor Bamfield will decline to permit articles to be signed on his premises.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—While John Haley and Daniel O'Leary were drinking together last night at the house of the latter at 2635 Adaline street an old quarrel was renewed between them and in the fight that followed Haley stabbed O'Leary to death. Haley was arrested.

He Stirred Parliament.
OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 23.—Mr. Tarte caused a stir in parliament by declaring that two-thirds of the counties of Quebec would declare in favor of union with the United States if the vote was taken now.

Slightly Improved.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 23.—Archbishop Kenrick's condition is slightly improved. Yesterday he sat up for a short time and partook of a light repast.

WHERE DO THEY STAND?

Mr. Cleveland Inquiring About Silver Views of the Democratic Congressmen.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Herald's Philadelphia special says: President-elect Cleveland is determined to have the Sherman silver law repealed. The manager of his campaign is making inquiries as to the attitude of members. A private letter has been sent to senators and representatives by Chairman Harrity, acting for the Democratic national committee. The letter is as follows:

"My dear sir: An analysis of the vote in the house of representatives, Washington, upon the Andrew Cate bill to repeal the Sherman act shows that there are fourteen Democrats, members of the present congress, who have been re-elected and who did not vote on Feb. 9, 1890, on ordering the previous question, and that there are seventy-six newly-elected Democratic members, thus making ninety Democrats who will sit in the house of representatives of the next congress who never voted upon the measure looking to the repeal of the Sherman act. It is important to know what the public attitude of these ninety Democratic members is toward a similar measure when offered next congress. Will you kindly obtain this information, giving it as accurately and correctly as possible, and forward same to me on enclosed blank early as possible. Please be good enough to treat this correspondence as confidential. I annex a list of ninety Democratic members whose position on the bill it is desired to know. Yours respectfully,

Wm. F. HARRITY."

Enclosed is a list of the Democratic members of the house of representatives of the next house, whose probable attitude toward a bill to repeal the act of congress known as the Sherman act it is desired to know and also a blank form for the answers.

HE HAS A SOLUTION.
Allan Thurman Thinks He Has Solved the Financial Problem.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—Allan W. Thurman has thought of a plan which he thinks will solve the financial problem and dispose of the currency question to the satisfaction of all. His proposition is that silver dollars shall be the basis for national bank circulation.

The banks are to be required to deposit in the United States treasury 100 per cent in such dollars, upon which they are to be permitted to issue 100 per cent of the notes. These would always insure payments and give the banks a profit on their circulation which they do not now enjoy.

Mr. Thurman argues that silver and gold would, with free coinage and this amendment to the national banking law, be at a parity in twenty-four hours and the strife cease.

THE PANAMA CANAL.
Panama Business Men Favor Granting An Extension of Time.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Herald's cable from Panama says: A majority of members of the chamber of commerce of this city are favorable to the granting of an extension of time to the canal company.

At the meeting to be held under their auspices they will probably express confidence in Monchicourt's ultimate success in his efforts to reorganize the company and will petition the government at Bogota to grant an extension of a year's time. There is a strong native element here which is opposed to extension and they threaten to attend the meeting and interrogate the French agents.

The preservation gangs along the line of the canal have been informed that their wages have been reduced to 40 cents a day and they have struck.

HE RETURNED TO LIFE.
Colored People Terror Stricken By a Corpse Reviving.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 23.—Peter Johnson, an aged colored man, died a few days at Elkton and friends watched over the corpse until yesterday. One of the women who were watching the corpse procured a towel and some cold water and began to bathe the brow of the supposed dead man.

She was startled to see signs of returning life, and all the colored people were thrown into a state of terror by the negro raising his head and exclaiming: "What in de debil is you doin' honey?" The dead darkey was taken from the coffin and is rapidly gaining health.

To Encourage Immigration.
CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 23.—The recommendation made by President Diaz in his late message to congress, that steps be taken toward encouraging immigration, is being carried out by the general government and a number of the individual states. A decree has just been promulgated by the state government of Campeche, under which $10 in state bonds will be given to promoters of immigration for each immigrant over 10 years old, being members of a family. The stipulation is that the immigrants will remain two years in the state.

Made a Governor.
LONDON, Feb. 23.—Robert William Duff, Liberal, M. P. for Banffshire, Scotland, has been appointed governor for New South Wales, as successor to the Earl of Jersey, resigned. He is 57 years old, was junior lord of the treasury in 1882-83 and civil lord of the admiralty in the Gladstone administration of 1885-86.

HEIRESS TO A THRONE

The Princess Kaiulani of Hawaii Has Sailed From England For America to Present Her Claims.

Fears Her Case Is Hopeless and That the American Government Is Determined Upon Annexation.

Prefers a Regency For Three Years, At the End of Which She Would Be Crowned.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The Princess Kaiulani, heiress to the throne of Hawaii, sailed yesterday for New York on the steamer Teutonic. The princess is accompanied by Theophilus Davies, wife and daughter, and by Miss Whartoff. Her residence in England has hitherto been kept secret, but Mr. Davies, after repeated questions, consented to permit the correspondent to have an interview with the princess at his residence, called Sandown, Hesketh Park, Southampton, where the young lady has been residing.

Mr. Davies received the correspondent and eagerly asked for the latest news from America. He said that he had had no reply to his recent request to the commissioners of the provisional government of Hawaii to lead negotiations until he could bring the princess to the United States to plead for her rights. He feared, he said, that the commissioners were hurrying to complete the deal before her arrival. He was confident that if Americans could see the princess, who was a simple, Christian girl, her throne would be saved.

The princess spent her holidays at Sandown as one of the family and was treated like a daughter. The correspondent noticed that Kaiulani appeared to be treated, since the Hawaiian crisis, with greater honor than accorded to other members of the household.

The princess is tall and slender with a more thoughtful, deliberate air than might be expected in a school girl. She is a brunette with the eyes of a gazelle and features that suggest just a suspicion of Kanaka origin. She was somewhat nervous during the interview. She said that she had nothing to add to the appeal which she had addressed to the American people, and she expressed her thanks that her appeal had been forwarded to the American newspapers.

She said, she said, no definite plans, but would be guided by her guardian, Mr. Davies. She proposed to spend two days in New York and then visit Boston, where she would remain until after the inauguration of President Cleveland. The princess added that she had no friends in America except the friends of Mr. Davies. She timidly expressed a hope that she might gain the sympathy of the American people.

"What do you think of President Harrison's message regarding annexation?" asked the correspondent. "I prefer not to express any opinion on the subject," replied the princess.

"Would you accept a pension or other compensation, should Hawaii be annexed?" asked the correspondent.

"As to that, also, I prefer to say nothing," was the reply. "It was apparent to the correspondent that the princess fears her case to be hopeless and that the American government is determined upon annexation. It is also evident that Princess Kaiulani is moved by the advice of her guardian.

In answer to other questions, the princess said that she would be entirely opposed to the policy of the queen, especially in regard to the bills which the queen is reported to have signed and which gave rise to the queen's death. The princess said she did not want Hawaii to be under a protectorate of any sort. She wished Hawaii to be independent. She believed that America and Hawaii would be warm friends. She had never seen an English official and did not believe that England would interfere in Hawaiian affairs.

When asked if she would return to England after her present visit in America, the princess answered: "Yes, if I am successful. I will be of age next year and then I will carry out my original intention for which the Hawaiian legislature voted $1000, which was to visit Queen Victoria, then to visit the president of the United States and then to proceed to Hawaii and assume the position to which I am entitled."

The princess said that she favored the proposition made by Mr. Davies to the provisional government of Hawaii that a regency should be appointed for three years, with S. B. Dole as the head of the provisional government, as president, the princess to be crowned queen of Hawaii at the termination of the regency.

The princess excused herself on the ground of hurry in the packing for the journey to America. As she rose she said in a pathetic tone and with sudden spirit: "I want to do all I can for my people and to be an honest and true leader to them. I simply want to do my duty to beloved Hawaii."

The princess shook hands warmly with the correspondent and thanked him for sympathy shown with her cause and asked him to convey her thanks to the American press for the hearing given her. The princess and friends were then photographed in a group in the conservatory. The party departed on the noon train, alighted at Bootle and drove to the steamship dock where they boarded the Teutonic. Although the name of the princess was on the passenger list, her identity was unknown at Southampton and elsewhere.

Blew Out His Brains.
ANNISTON, Ala., Feb. 23.—At 9 o'clock yesterday a stranger entered the gun store of the Anniston Arms company and asked to see some revolvers. He was handed a Smith & Wesson 32-caliber revolver, and after loading it placed it to his temple and blew his brains out. He was about 35 years of age and had no papers on him by which he could be identified.

Four Rounds Sufficed.

SWINDLED THE COMPANY.

A Clever Scheme to Obtain a Large Amount of Insurance Money.

OMAHA, Feb. 23.—Nearly a year ago a stranger died in this city, and during his brief illness Dr. King, ex-county physician, attended him. The name under which this man was known by the doctor, the detective and Dr. King refuse to divulge, but it was that of a wealthy man and one who had his life insured for about $100,000.

The physician signed the death certificate and it was accepted by the insurance company and the money was paid to the man's heirs in Chicago. A man saw the heavily insured after his alleged death and funeral in Omaha and notified the insurance company, which also placed the matter in the hands of detectives.

The body was exhumed and was found not to be that of the man to whom the insurance was issued. A detective found the supposed dead man was in Omaha and is now endeavoring to ascertain the real name of the man who died and was buried here.

MR. CLEVELAND'S CABINET.

The Two Remaining Positions Have Been Filled by the President-elect.

EXCITEMENT RUNS HIGH.

A Murder in Pennsylvania Causes Talk of Lynching.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 23.—At Leechburg, Pa., special says: Excitement over the murder and attempted bank robbery is still high and talk of lynching is freely indulged in. Two of the gang have been captured and are now in jail. The third is still at large. The man who shot his way out of the bank is now being sought by the police.

The case now pending which will determine the legality of the Republican house. The general belief that the Republicans will be successful by the adoption of the resolutions to it means war and an utter disregard for it by the Populists.

THE KANSAS MUDDLE.

The Senate Declares the Supreme Court Has No Right to Decide.

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 23.—The state senate last night adopted a resolution declaring that the supreme court had no jurisdiction in the house muddle and therefore no right to decide as to the legality of the house of representatives. This is regarded as due notice to the supreme court not to render a decision in the case now pending which will determine the legality of the Republican house. The general belief that the Republicans will be successful by the adoption of the resolutions to it means war and an utter disregard for it by the Populists.

Engineers Protest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—In connection with the hoisting of the stars and stripes on the New York, there is a howl of protest in the marine engineers' association and that of steam boat pilots. They have received a telegram saying that each engineer on the New York would be retained special license having been granted them. The association held a joint meeting yesterday and appointed a committee of three to lay the matter before congress.

A Big Defalcation.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 23.—Bank Examiner Williams is here, and assumes charge of the City National bank today. The bank will not open its doors. The latest developments put the amount of the defalcation of Cashier Redwine at $300,000. A man at New Orleans suspected to be Redwine proved to be someone else.

News from Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—The steamer Peru arrived from Japan last night bringing advices to Feb. 6. Two hundred fishermen were blown out to sea by the gale of Dec. 25 and given up for lost. They reached Hachijo island safely. The court of inquiry into the Chishima wreck finds Commander Kaburaki blameless.

A second street lady spent a dime to good advantage yesterday, when she bought a package of diamond dye fast black for wool. With this she had the color of a Henrietta so that the gown now looks like new. These simple home dyes are very easy to use, and will color almost anything. Their standard shades are non-fading, and guaranteed not to crack.

THE GERMAN FARMERS.

An Agricultural Congress Which May Have Important Results.

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—The formal opening of the agricultural congress in Tivoli hall, this city, took place yesterday. The initial opening occurred on Saturday last. There are present nearly 400 delegates from all parts of the empire. Great interest is manifested in the deliberations of the congress.

The attitude of the agrarian party in the reichstag toward Chancellor Caprivi's commercial treaties is also a matter of deep interest and it is believed that one of the results of the congress will be to further accentuate the hostility of the agricultural population toward these treaties. The agriculturalists of Germany believe that the effect of these treaties will be to ruin their industry.

Von Mantuffel, the leader of the agrarian party in the reichstag, preside. Over the congress. Before his opening address he called upon the assembly to give three cheers for Emperor William and the other German monarchs. They were given with a will amid much enthusiasm. Von Mantuffel in his address said he was rejoiced to hear that Emperor William had renewed a reputation from the Eastern Elbe agrarian association. This fact, he declared, gave some hope for the future.

Herr Von Heide, Prussian minister of agriculture, domains and forests, also addressed the congress. He urged the supporters and believers in the principle advocated by the agrarian party to combine and organize.

AN INDIAN MASSACRE.

An Insult to an Indian Maiden Wiped Out With Blood.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 23.—Stanley Smith, who arrived here from Balla-coola, a few days ago, brings word that a massacre of Indians took place in a district of a terrible Indian massacre that took place a few weeks ago on Sorrow Island.

Some River Inlet Indians went there to hunt otter. On the island were some of the Kikatalas tribe further north also hunting. The story is that a River Inlet man insulted a Kikatala girl. Her tribe avenged the insult by killing the offending man. A general fight ensued and the River Inlet men were vanquished.

All were killed, with the exception of three chiefs, who were spared because of their rank. These chiefs were imprisoned in a hut of the victors. The Indians held a pow-wow and it was decided that if the River Inlet chiefs were allowed to return, their tribesmen would avenge themselves, so they were shot to death. The story was told to Smith by some Indians. He also heard it mentioned by several of the crew of the steamer Coquitlam, which had just returned from a fishing cruise in the locality.

The island is quite distant from any trading post and it is probable the news of the massacre will not become generally known until some time in the future. The Indian agent at Alert Bay has been notified of the matter and he is making an investigation.

ORANGEMEN WILL FIGHT.

Ulster Irishmen Will Resist a Home Rule Parliament by Force.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—It is reported that the Orange societies in the north of Ireland are preparing for forcible resistance to a home rule parliament. It is being arranged that the Irish opponents of home rule shall simultaneously withdraw their deposits from the postoffice savings banks to purchase arms, to be used in case physical force should be necessary to prevent the assertion of Irish home rule in Ulster.

Inquiries are already being made with a view to contract for a supply of the latest improved weapons. An Orange club at Dungannon has received an offer from a Birmingham factory of 1000 Martini rifles. Excitement is running very high among the Ulster loyalists and many of them declare that, in the event of an enactment of home rule, civil war will inevitably ensue.

SHE PROVES IT.

And the Proof is Just What Our Readers Want.

Of How It Began She Hasn't the Slightest Idea.

But Concerning Its Ending She is Explicit and Exact.

We never know just how a thing begins.

But we are always certain of the results which are left.

These reflections were called out by the fact that it is so easy to drift into anything. In this world we must keep our eyes about us or we shall constantly find ourselves drifting into trouble.

We call to mind an instance in which a most estimable lady unconsciously and without knowing when or how, allowed herself to drift into what became to her a most serious matter and caused many years of anxiety and suffering.

This lady is widely known—Mrs. Mary Jane Foster of 327 West Twenty-first street, New York city, and what she says are true and exact facts, as can be easily and readily ascertained by anyone. If experience is of any use, hers is certainly a revelation to be heeded by all.

Without knowing their meaning she had a dull feeling, head, dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, especially after meals, and a general feeling of languor and exhaustion. After a time the appetite became irregular, there was a fullness or bloated feeling after meals, risings of gas, sour stomach, biliousness and constipation—such symptoms, in fact as people frequently experience during the stages of the year.

Some River Inlet Indians went there to hunt otter. On the island were some of the Kikatalas tribe further north also hunting. The story is that a River Inlet man insulted a Kikatala girl. Her tribe avenged the insult by killing the offending man. A general fight ensued and the River Inlet men were vanquished.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Feb. 23.—An area of low barometer covers the country from Minnesota north to Lake Superior in the form of a narrow trough extending along the Mississippi river and valley, and affecting all the country except the southwest where there is an area of moderately high pressure. The temperature remains nearly stationary in all sections, no readings below zero being reported, the lowest at Fort Smith, Ark., 10° below. Light snow is falling all across the upper lakes and the surrounding country, and has been confined to this section during the past twenty-four hours.
The indications are for light snow in this section and clearing this afternoon, with slight changes in temperature today, for Friday it will be fair and probably colder, but owing to there being no high barometer to the north of here it makes temperature forecasts uncertain.
The snow fall here since last night amounted when melted to .25 inch, and amounted to 2 inches, which is the heaviest fall reported. The highest temperature was 25, and the lowest last night 15.

Duluth, Feb. 23.—Light snow followed by clearing this afternoon and fair Friday; slight change in temperature today; colder Friday; winds shifting to west and northwest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: For Minnesota: Generally fair Friday; clearing in western portion tonight and western winds; warmer in northwest; colder Friday morning in southeastern portion.

Continental Union.
The movement in favor of continental union is growing rapidly in Canada. The advocates of political union with the United States are hampered to some extent at present by certain people of unsavory records, who, keen to appreciate the strength of the movement and hoping to profit politically by attaining notoriety at the outset of the campaign, have made themselves conspicuous at the continental union meetings and in the newspapers. These barnacles must be removed, and that speedily, and this duty will be attended to by the earnest Canadians who are at the head of the movement.

While the presence in the movement of the class alluded to is a serious drawback, there are people and newspapers on this side of the line that are constantly putting obstacles in the way by talking glibly about "annexing Canada" and "gobbling up the debt-ridden Canucks." Such talk is eagerly seized upon by the Tories, who use them with telling effect among the people who have given the subject no study and are easily persuaded that "the Yankees" are desirous of swallowing them at one gulp and wiping Canada out of existence by one fell blow. It can be easily seen that such talk is impolitic as well as senseless and untrue. The people of the United States have no desire to seize the Dominion against the will of its inhabitants, but they look forward with confidence to the day when from Hudson's bay to the Gulf of Mexico, the people dwelling within that vast stretch of country will be under one central government and enjoying the privileges and blessings of one political constitution granting equal rights to all and a full voice to every section in the control of the vast and prosperous nation.

It is a favorite statement of the Canadian Tories that there are comparatively few people in the Dominion in favor of continental union, and that the feeling in favor of the existing confederation was never so strong as at present, but the facts are fast sweeping away the groundwork of their assertion. We hear much from the Tory organs of the loyalty and patriotism of the people, but a little inquiry will soon show that there is no patriotism in Canada. There is nothing but provincialism, outside of the sentiment in favor of union with the United States. The Ontario man is for Ontario first and last. The Canadian flag is but of little consequence to him, if he even knows that it has an existence. He has seen the "Union Jack" floating to the breeze, and upon special occasions has worked himself up to a small degree of enthusiasm over it. Quebec has no sympathy with Ontario, and it is generally engaged in a struggle with the federal government on some question of constitutional rights. There is no Canadian patriotism among the Frenchmen of Quebec.

Go into the maritime provinces and where is the loyalty to Canada to be found? The Nova Scotian is a Nova Scotian still. The New Brunswicker has not changed his identity, and the people of Prince Edward's Island think not of the Dominion government save to protest against some feature of the tariff policy that prevents them trading with their New England neighbors. The people of these three provinces still refer to Ontario and Quebec as "Canada," while they retain to this day a lingering hope of a Maritime union, including New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward's Island, in preference to remaining in the Dominion. They have a warm feeling for the United States and would welcome political union instead of their present condition.

If there is any extreme patriotism in Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest, it has hidden itself out of sight of the ordinary observer who lives in Winnipeg or the surrounding towns. The papers of course, talk of loyalty to Canada, but the people talk differently in private conversation. They realize that political union would be the making of their country and would result in its rapid settlement and development, but few have the courage to stand up like men and openly declare their views.

British Columbia is so far removed from the rest of the Dominion that it has little sympathy with the other provinces. Thus it is seen that the confederation of the provinces is like a loosely connected chain, a veritable chain of sand liable to be dissolved in a moment, should extreme dissensions arise. There is no general feeling of patriotism. There is nothing to inculcate such a feeling. The country is burdened with debt, its population is almost at a standstill, owing to the young men emigrating annually by the thousands to the prosperous nation to their south.

The country is filled with former Canadians, who are here amassing wealth that they could not have secured at home. They have no desire to return to Canada with the existing conditions, and their earnest hope is that those they left behind them may speedily realize the benefits that would be derived by the Dominion from continental union.

Meanwhile, the movement across the line needs a leader. There is a pressing demand for some man of ability, in whom the people generally have confidence, to lead the continental union hosts. The time is ripe for a general advance, but the general is lacking. That he will soon make his appearance cannot be doubted. The occasion will produce him.

Losses By Fire.
According to the New York Commercial Bulletin, which makes a specialty of keeping records of losses by fire, the fire loss in the United States during January last was larger than that of any January since 1882. It amounted to $17,058,400, as against $12,564,000 in January, 1892, and $11,230,000 in January, 1891. The lowest January loss since 1882 was in the year 1889, when only $5,836,700 worth of property went up in smoke. The heaviest fire during last month was the Boston wool blaze, which destroyed $1,000,000 worth of wool, from an insurance point of view. But the Boston Commercial Bulletin says the salvage on the damaged wool will amount to fully $300,000.

The weather is primarily responsible for the heavy fire loss of the initial month of the year. It has been continuously cold throughout the country, and people have had difficulty in keeping their houses and business blocks warm. In their efforts to do so they have assumed risks which in many instances were followed by the penalty of carelessness. In a recent issue of the Engineering Magazine, Barr Ferree has a noteworthy article on the origin of fires. He ridicules those who ascribe the origin of fires to "fire fiends," poorly equipped fire departments, improper construction of buildings, etc., and says: "Doubtless all are responsible in a measure, yet it seems one of the strangest things in the world to fasten the responsibility of a number of fires in any one city upon its fire department. He is equipped with the best of equipment. A deficient fire department may help the seriousness of fires by not rendering proper service, or in not being provided with adequate apparatus, but it can have nothing to do with the number of fires. Neither is it fair to censure the architect and builder. Brooklyn's epidemic is a recent one, though the city is by no means new. A more satisfactory explanation, certainly in the instance of domestic dwellings, is the unutterable carelessness of people with fire and flame."

There is much truth in what Mr. Ferree says. The number of conflagrations can only be reduced by the exercise of care in preventing them, but their spread can be restricted by a well managed fire department equipped with plenty of first-class apparatus. A department cannot justly be condemned if fires are numerous. That is the result of carelessness. The department is only subject to censure if it fails to restrict the area of the fires in proportion to the appliances at its command.

Mr. Cleveland's selection of a secretary of the navy is excellent. As chairman of the house naval committee, Congressman Herbert has obtained a thorough knowledge of all the questions arising in the department, and will be able to take up the work of Secretary Tracy and carry it forward without delay. Mr. Herbert has always been outspoken in favor of improving the navy as fast as possible, and his selection by Mr. Cleveland is an indication that the president-elect is in sympathy with that policy.

The selection of Richard Olney of Boston as attorney general was a surprise reserved by Mr. Cleveland for the last announcement of his cabinet. Numerous papers yesterday declared that George A. Jenks of Pennsylvania had been chosen for this position, and Mr. Jenks came in for many words of praise. Mr. Olney is said to be an exceptionally fine lawyer, who has never held a political position.

Mr. Cleveland seems to be fixed in his opinion that the United States silver purchase law should be repealed. There are ninety Democratic members of the next congress who have not declared themselves on this question, and Mr. Hartley is now endeavoring to find out their position, for the president-elect's information. An early extra session will probably be the result.

The Orangemen in the northern part of Ireland are reported by today's dispatches to be contemplating armed resistance to a home rule parliament. Yet it is hard to tell why they should be so excited, in view of the careful manner in which their interests are protected by the home rule bill drawn by Mr. Gladstone.

The Kansas Populists are credited with an intention of disregarding any decision of the courts affecting the legality of the rival legislatures. This is not surprising, as throughout all the trouble the Populists have shown an utter disregard for law or justice.

The young Hawaiian princess, Kaiulani, who is on her way to America, to plead her cause, will receive much sympathy, but under existing circumstances, a pension is the most that she can expect.

AMUSEMENTS.

"U and I" Tonight.
Geo. P. Murphy, who is said to possess in a marked degree the faculty of keeping audiences in a roar, will be seen at the Temple Opera house this evening. As a vehicle for his powers, the comedian has chosen the musical satire entitled "U and I" with new songs, new business, everything new. The comedy is said to embrace an interesting plot, interspersed with extremely funny situations and a variety of new and catchy music. E. J. Heffernan, who plays the opposite part to Mr. Murphy, will have a tendency to create no little merriment. "U and I" is a satire on New York flat houses and houses constructed for laughing purposes, and as Professor Ungerblot Mr. Murphy has found it the greatest character in his life. He is supported by a company of comedians directed by George W. Lederer. Miss Kitty Kurale, who for a long time has been the leading subterfuge of Donnelly and Girard's "Natural Gas" company, has been especially engaged to play a similar role in "U and I," and has made a decided impression, her singing, acting and dancing being admirable. Miss Edith Newton, a first-prize graduate of the New York Conservatory of Music, and only 20 years of age, is the leading vocalist of the company. Harriett McDowell, the funniest of all comedy players, is the wily copper, and Edward Lawrence, who is also well known, illustrates the trials and tribulations of a New York flat house janitor.

The Maro Combination.
On Friday evening the Edward Maro combination appears at the Temple under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Maro is a prodigious talent of great ability. In sight of hand he is wonderful. He has with great care prepared and adapted his program, practicing admirably the Lyceum platform, and has appeared repeatedly under the auspices of various associations. His forty-five minutes of music with the orchestra, the entertainment never fails to fill the audiences with wonder and amazement.

Supporting Professor Maro is Edwin L. Barker, humorist of him the press of Beatrice Kahn, says: "Mr. Barker is a talented performer, and as a comedian and impersonator is very magnetic, so that he can hold the spell over his audience at will and with deep feeling. With his varied display of talent we predict a famous career for him, as he adds years to the life of his high intelligence and successful comedy drama called 'Gentleman Jack' at the Temple Monday evening next. All the scenery and effects used in his play of 'Gentleman Jack' were especially designed. In the third act an opportunity will be given to see the gallant young Hercules in training."

The Only Protection.
It has been truly said that the industrial insurance companies are the only value to the great mass of our population than the ordinary life companies are to the so-called middle classes and wealthier people.

To the latter a life policy is only a supplementary provision for the family when the bread winner is removed; it is not the only thing they have to rely upon; it is giving something to people who already have something; they might, in fact, get along without it.

But to the immense majority of our people industrial insurance is about the only protection they can be sure of; it is all they can leave to their only possible means of keeping the wolf from the door. It is now so cheap, so convenient, so sure that not to get a policy is an inexcusable act.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance company of New York, known as the leading industrial insurance company of America, has recently opened an office in this city at rooms 422 and 403 Chamber of Commerce building. C. H. Koppel, superintendent, where information respecting its plans will be cheerfully furnished.

A Chinese banker, Han "Quay," is reported to be worth the almost inconceivable sum of $1,750,000,000.

President Diaz is said to own shares in every railroad, telegraph, telephone and electric light company in Mexico.

Governor Hogg of Texas is a man of good physical proportions. He is only 30 years of age, but he weighs 275 pounds.

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge was as bright and witty as ever on his 71st birthday, which occurred not long ago.

M. Stambloff, prime minister of Bulgaria, is a crack shot with stones and rarely fails to hit a moving object at a distance of over 50 yards.

Edwin Gould has a collection of 20,000 newspaper clippings on the death of his father, which, combined, constitute an obituary six miles long.

John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, is about 50 years of age. If he lives until 70, his wealth, it is estimated, will amount to nearly $300,000,000.

The cheapest dress made by Worth, the Parisian man milliner, even if of cotton, does not cost less than $150, and this he calls his "parvate costume"—the poor girl's dress.

Mr. John Lister of Passaic Falls, N. J., figures as the oldest active bicyclist in the country. He is over 60, a veteran of the war and once rode 180 miles on his machine in two days.

One of the oldest of British noblemen is the Duke of Northumberland, who is nearly 90. He has been a member of five cabinets and sat in parliament for 20 years before he succeeded to his title.

Ex-Speaker Reed is reported to earn $2,000 a year by his pen. It is this income that insures him the comforts and luxuries of life, for he has no other income besides his salary as congressman.

Ex-Senator Ingalls has discarded the slouch hat for a somewhat antique plug, the flange red necktie has been replaced by one of decorative black, and hanging loosely about his shaven form is a cape ulster.

The chief dissipation of the young Earl of Craven, who is to marry the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin of New York, is said to be that of smoking tiny cigarettes in an amber holder studded with diamonds.

Lieutenant Perry is credited with the feeling that no relief expedition to bring him back from Greenland was at all necessary, and he gives it out distinctly that he does not want any sent for him the next time he goes to the arctic regions.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker of London has come out on a platform akin to spiritualism, or divine spiritualism, as he calls it. He prays to become the medium of messages about business, politics, etc., that shall be of real service to the world.

General Trochu's opinion of Prince Bismarck is that he might have become a great man had he not become only a great Prussian. Bismarck's estimate of Trochu is a matter of history. "He knew enough to know that he didn't amount to much."

Mr. Gladstone, within the most exclusive official circles in the English government, is known as plain "Mr. G." Thus John Morley will tell Sir William Harcourt what "Mr. G." thinks about it. And it's generally understood that what "Mr. G." says goes.

M. Clemenceau is one of the few men who cannot be interviewed. When a reporter goes to see him and asks, "What do you think of such and such?" M. Clemenceau always answers, "Let me hear what you think first." And the conversation usually stops there.

RAILWAY RUMBLE.
The new union station at St. Louis will cover 32 trains and cost $5,500,000.

The number of persons carried by the railroads of the United States the last year was, in round numbers, 600,000,000.

The Raleigh and Western has a lady official in the person of Estlinette Wain, secretary. The road is 47 miles in length.

The Richmond and Danville has the distinction of being the only southern road that has a woman in its management, namely, Mrs. Wain, secretary.

Recent measurements, it is stated, show that the Walrus, with its new line, has a route between Detroit and Chicago 17 miles shorter than either of its competitors.

The Nickel Plate road has not as yet proved a very profitable investment for the Vanderbilt family, after paying operating expenses and fixed charges for two years, has been but $21,423.

When asked if he had got through making changes in the Big Four, President Vail is quoted as saying that whenever the heads of departments worked in harmony changes would cease.

Talk!

Never since the reign of Napoleon has there been such a bewildering profusion of artistic creations in dress materials—excellent is the word, they are enchanting, deliciously enchanting to all those who have an eye for the beautiful, and to many who do not.

How to Properly Advertise

Dress Goods, a very practical difficulty. The difficulty is peculiarly unique without precedent. It is created by the always increasing and expanding magnitude of our dress goods business. Many of these creations seem to say, "my face is my fortune," and you say an envious fortune.

They Are Exclusive Here Only!

This season more than ever it is our privilege to control and offer a collection of Paris Dress Stuffs, that surpass our own best past. As the activity of trade gradually causes the counters to become filled, it presents a mass of beauty, showing the sublime skill of the artist and the perfectness of manufacture. The Dardinares, the Epilicns, the Oriental Figures, the Bengalines, the miniature figures, the Two Tones, the plain and refined, the characteristic and genteel. The counters bear a mass of such beauty, which is being added too each day. The impulse to adequately describe these goods is intense. The way to do it is hedged by the beauty of the goods themselves. Among them are Featherweights, Solid Stuffs, Elastic Stuffs, and we candidly say the appreciation of our efforts is gratifying to note, the vastness of our Dress Goods stock is thoroughly known and the moderation in price is thoroughly appreciated, the fine touch of perfect taste and wise choice that gives character to the whole is recognized not only in this city, but generally.

JOHNSON ACQUITTED.

A Verdict Returned By the Jury Yesterday Afternoon After Being Out Four Hours.

Accused Not Unexpected After Judge Ensign's Charge—Vol's Murder Will Probably Go Unpunished.

Two Personal Damage Cases For Large Amounts Commenced in the United States Court.

Elias Johnson, who has had the charge of murder hanging over his head since Dec. 31 last, is a free man. The jury in his case which retired shortly after 11 o'clock announced about 3 o'clock that a verdict had been reached. The jury filed in before Judge Ensign and the verdict of not guilty was read.

Johnson understood it perfectly and was a very happy man, to say the least. Attorney Baldwin, who defended him, received many congratulations for the manner in which the case was conducted. It is now almost certain that the man who caused Matt Vol's death, whoever he may be, will go unpunished. The three men, Johnson, Lampania and Mattson, were the only ones present and if the combined testimony of the two last named could not convict Johnson it is extremely unlikely that the crime can be fastened on either of the others. The verdict was not unexpected, in fact, after the judge's charge it was generally agreed that the chances favored acquittal.

The order for the discharge of Johnson was issued this morning at 11 o'clock and a few moments later the man, around whose neck the shadow of a hangman's noose had fallen so heavily, breathed his first free air for two months and walked out of the jail a free man. The witnesses Mattson and Lampania were also paid off and discharged from further service and the three will journey to Ely together this afternoon.

PERSONAL DAMAGE SUITS.

Two Individuals Who Want Cash For Their Wounds.

Two personal damage suits were commenced in the United States court yesterday. William A. Beattie wants to recover $10,000 from the Paine Lumber company at Carlton. He alleges that he was working in the defendants' mill, and that on Nov. 27, 1888, he was engaged in doing this the wheel started up, catching him and seriously injuring him in various portions of his body. He also claims to have been ruptured. For this and his expenses he asks a verdict for the amount named.

Samuel Gillis sues William St. Amour for $200. He was working for the defendant, he alleges, digging piles for the Duluth railway on Dec. 13, 1892. He was ordered to go under the driver and grease some portions of the machinery. While engaged in this a roller on which he was lying was moved by order of the man in charge and this caused the infliction of serious wounds, which he thinks are worth the sum asked.

GOT A CONTRACT.

Samuel Grant Will Build the Winnipeg Ore Dock Extension.

Bids were opened yesterday for constructing 100 feet of additional dock room at the Duluth & Winnipeg ore docks on Allouez bay. A large number of bids had been put in but the contract was awarded to Samuel Grant, of Sioux Falls, son of Donald Grant.

That part of the elevated dock which comprises the present ore pockets is 600 feet long and with this new addition will contain 1600 feet of ore pockets. The contract specifies that work shall start at once and it is expected that the addition to the dock will be finished in time to ship ore at the opening of the coming season of navigation. A force of several hundred men and a large number of pile drivers will be put to work next week.

To Extend the Line.

The transferring of the Duluth, Red Wing & Southern line to the Central Trust company of New York, in consideration of the trust company's issuing of bonds for the railway company at the rate of $20,000 per mile for each mile of the road completed, is a move to extend the line as soon as possible. The management of the company is not in the least affected by the new deal.

On Duty This Morning.

Agent J. N. Fulton, of the Western Railway Weighing Association and Inspection Bureau, has established his office in the same rooms with General Agent Vance, of the St. Paul & Duluth railway, in the Union depot. Weighers and inspectors of the association were placed on duty this morning at every railroad depot and scales at the head of the lakes on both sides of the bay.

Mendeloff Returns.

Victor Mendeloff returned to Washington last evening and will at once commence work on the profile map. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the chamber of commerce at which various details were settled. The map is to be "Y" shaped and will show the city from Thirtieth avenue east to Spirit island. It will contain 268 square feet. The map will be constructed so as to admit of its being taken apart and put together again at any time.

The sum required to purchase the map has nearly all been raised and the ladies committee will now endeavor to raise another $1000 to be used in getting photographic souvenirs to be given away at the fair.

The New Omaha Office.

Assistant General Passenger Agent McCullough, of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha line, was here yesterday looking over the new office of the Omaha line and attending to other matters. He says the fittings of the new office will be the finest in the Northwest, with perhaps the single exception of the ticket office in the West hotel at Minneapolis. The fixtures will cost between $5000 and $10,000, and all will be of quarter sawed oak. The desks and furniture, except the ticket case, will be of oak. The ticket case will be what is known as a 1200 form case and will be constructed of cherry. It is one of the largest in the West.

Another Contest Entered.

The filing of a contest in the United States land office something under a year ago by W. H. Hearn against the homestead entry of Annie St. Amour in 58-18 will be remembered. The matter was heard by the local offices and the papers in the case were transmitted to Washington, the contest being made on the ground of fraud in the entry. No decision has been rendered as yet and now another contest on the same piece of land has been filed by a man named Green who alleges abandonment. The land in question is said to be very valuable.

THE SAME OLD FRAUD.

Thomas Steers, the Old Time Speculator in Asbestos Mines, Has Been Caught in Chicago.

Duluth and Minneapolis Men Who Once Were Caught Will Recognize His Adroit Methods.

Tried to Work the Same People Twice in Chicago on a Great Pine Land Deal.

A few Minneapolis and some Duluth people will remember the individual referred to in the following from the Chicago Tribune as an enterprising speculator in asbestos mines. He appeared here with a satchel filled with samples of asbestos which he claimed were from a mine he had discovered somewhere out on the Northern Pacific. But while he was trying to land a fish or two in Minneapolis he also tried the same game in Duluth and the Minneapolis people caught him at it. This is the story the Chicago paper tells of his recent operations there.

"Obtaining money under false pretenses is a very hard charge to prove," said a gray-bearded old man looking out between bars at the Central station last night. "They say I have been working this scheme all over the country for the last ten or fifteen years. Well, what are they going to do about it? I know Sir John A. Macdonald, the late premier of Canada, from early boyhood and my brother is now an official in the Canadian government, but I don't want my family involved in this disagreeable matter."

The man behind the bars was Thomas Steers, and he was locked upon a charge of swindling preferred by a German, E. Dick, vice president of the A. B. Dick company, manufacturers' agents, with offices at No. 154 Lake street.

"I am a sucker," said Mr. Dick yesterday, "and I frankly admit it. I am telling my story for the benefit of the public. Back in April, 1891, a friend of mine in the real estate business introduced me to a man named Thomas Steers. Steers was apparently about 60 years old. He wore an iron-gray mustache and a fashionable suit of clothes, and was a man of fine address. Mr. Steers had on a scheme and he proceeded to take me in—on the ground floor."

He stated that he was the surveyor of the Northwest Territory in Canada and that for years he had been in the employ of the Canadian government. He had discovered a huge tract of standing pine situated in the northwest part of the Province of Ontario. It comprised 50 square miles of territory and he estimated that the standing pine would yield 12,000,000,000 feet of lumber. Of course it would excite suspicion if he should file an application for the land. He wanted to find Chicago capitalists who would go in with him on the deal.

"I asked him for references and he gave the name of Sir John A. Macdonald, then premier of Canada, among others. "I immediately sent the following telegram:

"Sir John A. Macdonald, premier of Canada, Ottawa: Have been referred to you for standing and character of Thomas Steers of Port Arthur, engineer. Please wire reply quickly."

"In response came this message: 'OTTAWA, April 14.—H. E. Dick: Have not seen Thomas Steers for some years. Believed to be a man of integrity and good professional standing than that of the evening if that is possible.'

"JOHN A. MACDONALD."

"On the strength of this endorsement I introduced Steers to a party of Chicago capitalists. This was rendered necessary by the fact that it would ultimately require $100,000 to handle the project. Steers impressed us all by his bearing. After the necessary preliminary had been arranged it was agreed that a stock company with $200,000 capital should be formed. Meanwhile A. B. Dick and myself as trustees entered into a contract with Steers. He was to go back to Canada and carefully look over the land, we to advance his expenses."

"We gave Steers $15 and he went to Toronto. Later he wrote for $150 more. It was sent. Then he suddenly stopped writing and I began to think that we had been swindled."

"Finally I went to Canada on a tour of investigation. I found that Steers had been living in great style. He gave the same old scheme to his old-time friends as he described existed. Sir John Macdonald explained that the man he had recommended was the father of the present Thomas Steers. I found also that his brother was a high official in the Canadian government and that he was known as an old-time swindler, though for some years had been in the employ of the government."

"Since that time I had been waiting for Thomas Steers to show up where I could lay my hands on him. I have carefully preserved all the contracts and other documents relating to the case and have patiently bided my time. Today it came."

"Besides my connection with the A. B. Dick company I am secretary of the Washington Cedar Shingle company, with an office in the Unity building. I was sitting up there this morning when the door opened and a man walked in. In spite of the fact that he had grown a full beard I recognized him at once as my old friend, Thomas Steers."

He was looking for J. R. Chandler, president of the company, who, strangely enough, was the first man he had approached on his former trip to Chicago, told Chandler that Steers, who had swindled us two years ago, was waiting to see him and that now was our time to catch him."

"Make a date with him for 2 o'clock this afternoon," I said.

"Then I went out and swore out a warrant for Steers' arrest and got Detective Strum to serve it."

"Meanwhile Steers, who recognized neither Chandler nor myself, told the same old scheme to his old-time victims. He was put off on a plea of pressing business and agreed to come back at 2 o'clock. He came, and is locked up at the central station as a consequence. We found on his person copies of the same old maps and charts of the supposed pine lands which he used on us two years ago."

"The way in which a man as shrewd as Steers happened to make the mistake of calling on the same man he had swindled before is amusing. He got a program of the entertainment given to visiting lumbermen by the Chicago trade last night, and on it was the name of Washington Cedar Lumber company. He happened to pick it out and failed to recognize the names of officers as his old-time friends. Hence his arrest."

"ROMEO AND JULIET."

The Travesty Club Wins a Great Success at the Lyceum.

No local entertainment ever given in Duluth has been more thoroughly successful or aroused greater enthusiasm than did the operatic burlesque "Romeo and Juliet" as presented by the Travesty Club at the Lyceum last evening. The audience was large and fashionable and theater box parties were numerous. Applause was frequent and the acting was excellent and decidedly bright and clever. The selection of music was excellent and all the numbers were catchy and popular.

The honoree undoubtedly carried off by Ernest Hannegan and G. V. Quillard, Jr., as the apothecary and nurse respectively. Mr. Hannegan's singing was excellent and his manner easy and totally devoid of the self-consciousness so usual with amateurs. His "Molly O" and "My Green" solos brought enthusiastic accolades. The "Tom Cat" episode in the third act brought down the house. Mr. Quillard is always good, and as the nurse made a great hit. His facial expression, especially, was inimitable. He has none of the stage fear or constraint, but was just a little overcome when, at the close of one of his solos, an admiring friend presented him with a magnificent bouquet of sunflowers, and later of evergreens.

Mr. Quillard's singing deserves more than passing notice. His solos "Why Don't You Sleep, My Baby" and "True Love" were especially fine, and were greatly appreciated.

F. W. Maynard made a charming Juliet, as gentle and shy as could be desired. His singing found great favor with the audience. The quartet by Blue Sea and "Farwell, My Own" were loudly applauded. F. E. Austin as Capulet, W. F. Mercurio as Mercutio, and J. H. Powell as the Friar, and Joseph Davis as the apothecary's slave were all good and Fred Reynolds as the policeman was consistently bringing laughter.

C. H. Burdette took the character of Romeo in a pleasing manner and sang well although his voice is hardly strong enough to fill a theater. The quartet by Juliet, the nurse, Romeo and the apothecary was one of the gems of the evening.

The chorus was truly a surprise for no finer male chorus has been heard here among professionals or amateurs. It is a pleasure also to say that this was appreciated for the numbers were liberally applauded. There is another individual to whom must be given great credit, whose part is not prominent to the audience, but who everything to do with the success of the performance—the musical director, Prof. A. M. Custance.

It was under his careful and persistent direction that the unusual excellence of the chorus was attained and the smoothness with which the musical program moved testified to his ability. Arthur E. Thomas Steers of Port Arthur, engineer, entitled to share in the general praise, both for the manner in which the performance moved and for the handsome staging of the piece.

The house was crowded at the matinee in the afternoon and the audience was even more enthusiastic than that of the evening if that is possible.

RICHEST ON THE CONTINENT.

The Sultana Gold Mine at Lake of the Woods is a Wonder.

The Americans who are developing gold mines on Lake of the Woods in Ontario are striking it rich. The stamps in the Sultana's mill which had gotten out of order, were repaired recently and as a test to find if they were in a satisfactory condition the stamps were started up last week and worked steadily for thirty-six consecutive hours.

When the stamps were stopped it was found that the rock operated upon by only ten beads had yielded the extraordinary amount of 72 ounces of gold amalgam while a similar amount covered the mortar. The concentrate are worth $200 per ton.

The stamps were stopped just the ordinary vein rock stamped just as blasted out of the 20 foot vein. This proves the Sultana to be the richest gold mine on the continent.

The Highland electric cars are running regularly from the head of the Incline through the prettiest tract of land at the head of the lakes.

HE TAKES AN APPEAL.

A Philadelphia Engineer Will Not Accept the Award of the Tunnel Plan Prize.

He Informs the Board of Public Works That He Will Appeal and Wants Payment Suspended.

He Gives no Information as to Whom or What He Will Make His Appeal.

The board of public works today received a telegram from H. M. Chance of Philadelphia, one of the civil engineers taking part in the contest for ship canal tunnel plans, in which he announced his appeal from the award of the prize to Mr. Conklyn and asked that the payment of the $1000 awarded be suspended until his appeal can be heard. President Truelson says that the award has been made and confirmed and he cannot see to whom or from whom the gentleman residing in "the city of brotherly love" can appeal. The board looks upon the matter as an odd joke. To whom or to what body Mr. Chance will appeal is rather vague and remains to be explained. In any event he will probably obtain some notoriety and be more or less advertised through the columns of the Engineering Record.

THE DISTRICT COURT

The Case of the State Against Yarrington and Coughlin Given to the Jury
This Morning.

Lizzie Weathers, the Colored Biwabik Murderess, Placed on Trial For Her Life This Morning.

Charles Peterson Dismissed on Motion of County Attorney Tear—Civil Cases
on Trial.

Before Judge Ensign this morning, in the district court in room 1, the grand larceny case of the state vs. A. C. Yarrington and John Coughlin reached the jury a little after noon. The impression is that the former defendant will be found guilty and the latter not guilty.
They are accused of stealing a lot of silk cloth from a tailor shop.

Later—The jury returned shortly before 3 o'clock with their verdict. Yarrington was found guilty, while Coughlin was acquitted.

The case of the State vs. Charles Petersen indicted for assault in the second degree was dismissed on motion of the county attorney. A couple of attachments were issued for absent jurors and witnesses.

Before Judge Brown, in room 2, the case of L. H. Grieser vs. M. O. Hall was taken from the court list of cases and placed on the jury list. It will be tried later on. The case of Leopold Bros. vs.
Fannie McLochlin will be heard to-morrow morning. The case of Joseph Allard vs. the West Duluth Light and Water company was dismissed as per stipulation. Attorney Jenswold's damage suit of Beret Paulson vs. the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic is on its second day's siege and showed no signs of ending at the noon adjournment.

The murder case of the State vs. Lizzie Weathers, the colored woman who killed a Finlander at Biwabik a few weeks ago, commenced this afternoon. Judge Holcomb presides for the defense.

PREPARING AN EXHIBIT.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Will Make One
at the World's Fair.

The Northern Pacific is constructing two specially adapted cars for the display at the World's Fair of exhibits of the products and resources of the country along its lines from Lake Superior to the Pacific coast, and R. A. Eva, general agent of the company at this point, has charge of the work of compiling the exhibits from this section. All parties having anything of interest showing the natural products of the country particularly tributary to the head of the lakes should communicate with him. Such exhibits should be put in as compact a form as possible and will be expressed through free of charge to the World's Fair grounds.

What it Meant.
Manager Jacob Litt, of Milwaukee,
and also manager of the popular-priced theaters in St. Paul and Minneapolis, took advantage of Manager Condon's absence in New York looking for his Northwestern circuit, and attempted to secure control of the West Superior and Eau Claire houses. Manager Condon
now controls more theaters in the Northwest than any other manager, and his friends believe that Mr. Litt and some of the other managers are beginning to feel that Mr. Condon is securing too strong a foothold on the theaters in the Northwest. His Northwest circuit comprises Duluth, West Superior, Ashland, Eau Claire and La Crosse.

been filed in court and consequently no
figures are yet obtainable.

Securities Declining.
DUBLIN, Feb. 23.—The financial agitation in Ireland on account of the dread among security holders of the effect of home rule is increasing. Bank of Ireland stock today shows an advance of 1/2, and Guinness company stock 1/10, while the stock of the Great Northern railway of Ireland shows
a decrease of 1/2 a share.

Balloting in Montana.
HELENA, Mont., Feb. 23.—Today's ington's birthday. His trial has been set for 2 p. m. tomorrow. Donald Mc-Dougall, found guilty of inebriety, was given a suspension of sentence. John Stone, charged with the same offense,

him tomorrow afternoon. Andrew Pier-

CAN FIND NO EXCUSE.

Senators Who Are Opposing the Railroad Land Taxation Bill are in an An-omalous Position.

St. Louis, Lake and Cook Counties are Likely to Get Two Senators and Five Representatives.

Fears that the Committee on Municipal Charters May Not be Able to Reach an Agreement.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 24.—[Special to The Herald.]—Anti-capital and pro-free market petitions were received in large numbers in the senate this morning. The following new bills were introduced: By Guderman, a bill to provide that county commissioners can drain wet and malarial lands; by Little, a bill relating to incorporation of villages; by McHale, two bills amending the law relating to deeds, mortgages and conveyances and amending the law relating to the service of summons in civil actions; by Graff, providing for annual inspection of steam boilers; by Tawney, a bill to amend the law making all elevators at terminal points public warehouses. Senate file No. 238, amending the general law
for the incorporation of villages, passed under suspension of the rules. A resolution was passed making March 3 the last day on which to introduce appropriation bills and March 30 the last day on which bills may be reported from committee.

The strongest opposition to Markham's railroad land taxation bill comes from Senator Leavitt, who has been regarded heretofore as a friend of people against the railroad companies and monopolies.
There are some other strange anomalies
in the standing of certain senators on the measure, who can find no excuses for their opposition to this meritorious bill.
The sub-committee of the joint committee of the house and senate on railroad taxation have adopted a report, giving the senate 33 members and the house 119, but these figures will probably be changed to conform with the present representations of 54 and 114. The districts as arranged last night, except in one or two instances, where a satisfactory adjustment could not be made, are as follows:

The committee on elections of the house has reported in favor of the indefinite postponement of all three bills on regulation of primary elections. It looks as if nothing would be done this session toward reforming the present caucus system.

Mr. Boggs offered a resolution that the house extend to Capt. Vansant, the lately elected senior vice commander of the state G. A. R., its congratulations, which was carried.

Mr. Bleeker introduced a resolution calling upon the judiciary committee to investigate the railroads, which have transferred their right to take grants by selling out the same on mortgage foreclosure and to report a bill directing the auditor to place their land grants upon the tax lists and directing the attorney general to take the necessary legal steps.

The following bills were passed by the senate this forenoon: Smith's bill to prevent docking of horses' tails;
O'Brien's, allowing corporations to alter
their powers; two bills of Smith's relating to cruelty to animals; O'Brien's bill relating to bonds and obligations.
Daugherty's bill relating to correction
of irregularities of incorporation by publication, applying in particular to a Duluth bank; Morse's bill relating to reports by all county officers of fees
monthly to county auditors.

It is not improbable that Minneapolis
may withdraw from the charter commission. The members from that city cannot agree to the plan of government favored by St. Paul and Duluth, and rather than give up one of their cherished features the Minneapolis men threaten to withdraw, have their attorneys draw up a charter to suit themselves and attempt to get it passed on the floor of the house. This, of course, will leave St. Paul and Duluth no alternative, but to accept it, provided it succeeds, and the Hennepin members appear to believe that they have strength enough to carry it through, especially if they can create the impression that the St. Paul men are filibustering and objecting without reason, which they say they believe they are. They claim that some of the members of the St. Paul delegation do not want a charter enacted
this year, but want a commission appointed,
which others want the mayor to be a sort of monarch, with all the power of the ancient kings.

The house committee on judiciary yes.

terday heard Judge Devore and Dr.
Rockwell upon the Merritt and Nelson
bill curing a defect in granting a franchise to the West Duluth Gas and Water company by the village council. These acts are to legalize ordinances of villages
granting franchises to companies to supply them with gas and water when such franchises are given under the law of 1887. Mr. Merritt, J. H. Mullen and Senator Stevens talked as well as the West Duluth people. Senator Stevens represented the St. Paul Title, Trust and Insurance company, which has advanced $10,000 upon the bonds of the Gas and Water company. West Duluth people wanted the bills indefinitely postponed
and the council of that village allowed to settle the matter with the gas and water company. The committee voted to indefinitely postpone the Merritt bill and recommend Nelson's bill, which is nearly an exact copy, to pass.

LOOKS LIKE A MURDER.

A Husband Escapes From His Burning Home.

But His Wife Perishes.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Feb. 24.—A coroner's jury has investigated the burning of the house of Adolph Neise, in which his wife and one child, a 9-months-old baby, were cremated. The neighbors have been telling stories which look dark for the husband, who seems grief-stricken over the awful affair. Neise escaped from the house with three children and was dressed entire, even having had his overshoes on when he left the house, it is alleged, and yet his wife and baby in the
their mamma was burned to death.

What adds color to the rumors of foul play is the fact that his wife had her life insured for $500, although Neise is but a poor man. It is also alleged that he was very much devoted to his wife's sister, a younger woman, of voluptuous figure, and very pretty, and that the dead woman had had many quarrels with her sister concerning his alleged infatuation.

The theory on the surface is that the lamp exploded in Mrs. Neise's room and that she was burned before she could make any outcry. Neise himself says that he would not have been burned had he not been in the house. He says that with the other children but for the fact that one of the children wanted a drink
and awoke him about that time, and that he had put on his clothes for that purpose when he discovered the blaze.
On testimony of his children and others, Neise is already in a paranoia. He is locked up. Neise was taken to Burlington for fear of a mob. The children said they knew about the fire before it broke out. Neise was burned to death while the flames burned she was lying on her face at the foot of the bed. They told the neighbors that their father said that if he had been in the house he would have a new mamma and $500 to build a new house. Miss Paul is in jail here.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION.

Plans for a Building to be Erected in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The greater portion of several sessions of the second congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was reading reports from state regents and papers read by the persons of the revolutionary period.
Bernard R. Green, one of the Sons of the revolution, was present at one of the sessions and showed the ladies a plan of a building which that organization proposes to erect in this city. The Daughters
also contemplate erecting a building
here, and it may be that the two will unite, thus insuring the construction of a more elaborate edifice.

Nominations for officers of president
general were made yesterday to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs.
Harrison, wife of the president. Mrs.
Cable, vice president general of the society, and Mrs. Stevenson, wife of the vice president-elect, were the nominees.
The election will be held today.

ALLAN MANVEL IS DEAD.

The President of the Santa Fe Road Died
This Morning.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 24.—Allan Man-
vel, president of the Atchison, Topoka
and Santa Fe railroad, died at the Hotel Del Coronado, at an early hour this morning. Mr. Manvel arrived here with his wife about three weeks ago.
He had been in poor health for some time, and his death was not entirely unexpected. It is believed that his principal malady was Bright's disease.

Yesterday Mr. Manvel complained of severe pains in his back and abdominal regions. He retired early and shortly afterwards the hotel physician was summoned. At midnight it was apparent that he was near death. The doctor informed the wife of the dying man that he could not survive until morning.
Mrs. Manvel carried herself with composure and did everything possible
to console her husband in his last moments. Mr. Manvel died peacefully and without apparent pain at about 4 o'clock this morning. Mr. Manvel was formerly general manager of the Great Northern.

In Beauregard's Memory.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 24.—At a meeting of the R. E. Lee camp of Confederate veterans held yesterday, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Gen. Beauregard. It was also ordered to drape the camp rooms in mourning. The United States flag and Confederate battle flag were both in conspicuous place. The flag from the court house was also flying at half-mast last evening for the same reason.

The New England Road.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 24.—President Clark and Vice-President Tuttle,
of the New York & New Haven road,
were asked last night the probable reasons for the resignation of President Parsons, of the New England road. Both said they thought that Mr. Parsons had grown tired of carrying the burden entailed on the president of a road which had no future, and they were surprised that he had clung to his exacting position so long. Both Messrs. Clark and Tuttle and Clark declared strenuously that no one connected with their line
has a dollar's interest in the New England or wanted one.

Still No Choice.

HIPPOCRA, Feb. 24.—A ballot for United States senators today resulted as follows: Mantle, 31; Clark, 25; Dixon,
8; rest scattering. No choice.

SURE TO TAKE PLACE.

Representatives of Mitchell and Corbett Will be on Hand Tomorrow to Arrange the Match.

Mitchell's Stake Money is Now Posted in the Hands of a Prominent Sporting Man.

All Parties Concerned Are Rather Reticent,
for Fear of the New York Police Authorities.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The Herald
this morning says: A reporter saw W.
A. Brady at the Coleman House at 11:30
last night. He said: "The Mitchell-Corbett fight is now certain to take place."

"How is that?" was asked. "A hint is as good as a kick," said he, mysteriously, and then added: "There are people at police headquarters. I am going to the Grand Central depot now,
where I take the midnight train for Boston." Brady then showed a check for $10,000 drawn on the bank of Metropolis, which he said he would deposit with Dave Blanchard today. From Boston,
Brady said he would go to Niagara Falls and would be on the Canadian side at noon on Saturday, prepared to keep his agreement with Mitchell.

"Do you think Mitchell will be there?"
"I see no reason why he should not."
He has agreed to do so.
"Did he say he would not be there?"
"No, he did not."
The reporter then went to the Hoffman House, where he found Mitchell and Squire Abington. Mitchell said:
"I met Brady at the Gedeny House at 7 o'clock. Brady said to me, as a starter,
'I know that you want to fight, Mitchell,
and there's no use being bad friends.'
We agreed to meet in private later."

"Have you already signed to fight?"
"I am not prepared to say whether I
have, or whether I have not. I will say,
however, that my stake money of $10,000
has been posted with a prominent sportsman."

"What's the stakeholder's name?"
"He's not going to give that to you now,"
said the fighter.
"Is the match, in your opinion, a certainly?"
"Yes," replied Mitchell bluntly, and then he refused to talk further.

Squire Abington corroborated all that the English champion related.

When the reporter told them that Brady had gone to Boston both appeared surprised and Mitchell said: "If that is
surprised and Mitchell said: 'If that is down again a statement that "Charley" refused to explain. "Are you going to Canada?" asked the reporter.
Mitchell smiled slightly, and said with emphasis, "no."

The Evening Sun says of the fight between Mitchell and Corbett: It will take place in the second week in December. The exact date is to be fixed upon by the club under the auspices of which the fight will take place. The articles of agreement were drawn up,
and although not signed, the principals
and their witnesses each have copies.
Brady left for Boston on the midnight
train last night.

On the same train were the representatives of the English pugilist. Each man has a certified check in his pocket
for $10,000, the amount of the stake money. Both checks will be handed over to Dave Blanchard at Boston today.
He is selected to act as stakeholder.
The articles of agreement will also be signed in the presence of Blanchard by the representatives of Mitchell and Corbett.

The Money Posted.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The $10,000 representing Corbett's stake in his match with Mitchell was posted this morning in the shape of a certified check, by W. A.
Brady, Corbett's manager, to Dave Blanchard, who has been agreed upon as final stakeholder. All that will be necessary to complete the match is the putting up of $10,000 by Mitchell.

Mr. Brady arrived from New York
this morning, accompanied by Howard H. Hackett. When asked about signing articles Mr. Brady said: "I can't say anything about that. When Mitchell's money is up, the match is made. We have got to keep very quiet about this whole affair, as you know about the trouble given us by the police in New York."

"Will you go to Niagara to sign articles?"
"No; nor to any other place. As I said before, the match is made as soon as Corbett's money is covered, and that is all I can say. It is illegal under the laws of New York to go out of that state for the purpose of arranging a match. It does not make any difference whether we should go to Canada or Honolulu."

"We took eminent legal counsel in New York yesterday and were so informed. I think the law could be defeated in the matter for it relates to a 'prize fight' and we maintain that this is a glove contest, and not a prize fight.
However, there is no use in getting into a row with the authorities when there is nothing to be gained by it. The easiest way is the best. Mitchell has had all the trouble he wants in this country."

"Have the articles been changed in any way from what was agreed upon in New York?"
"No, just the same."

"Have you any idea that the Mitchell
side will increase the stake as you proposed?"
"Oh, no; they will not do that. The stakes will remain at $10,000 each, but I assure you that if they undertake to 'bet $10,000' we will snap it up as quick as a flash."

"There will be some very heavy betting on the result of this battle, and I am not so sure that Corbett will be made the favorite. There is a disposition manifest in New York to boom Mitchell all along. He wins the United States warships Baltimore, Charleston, San Francisco and Yorktown, arrived here at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

their money. We will get that—that's all."

"How is Corbett?"
"He is laid up with a sore throat and is not playing."

"About what weight will the men enter the ring?"
"Mitchell will weigh about 175 and Corbett 183 pounds."

"Have you had any offer of a purse
from the New Orleans clubs?"
"Not yet. They are waiting until the match is concluded."

THE MILLING COMBINE.

How the Spring Wheat Millers' Trust Was Organized.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—A Sun special
from Mankato, Minn., says: The Spring Wheat Millers' association is now in operation. It has at present a membership of several hundred millers, representing a daily output of flour reaching into the hundreds of thousands of barrels. The states covered are Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Northern Illinois and the spring mill
wheat millers of New York state, at Bu-falo, Rochester and Niagara Falls.

The conception of a combine dates
from the organization of the Southern Minnesota Millers' association here
three or four years ago. The principal object of that association was to fix the minimum price at which flour should be sold. So successful were its workings that the majority of the great mills of Minnesota needed little solicitation to fall into line.

The agents were sent all over the country to work up the "trust" interests.
Three meetings were held in December,
two of them in Chicago, which finally got nearly every mill from Duluth to Boston
in the combine, including the big concerns at Buffalo, Rochester and other
New York state centers. T. A. Sammis, of Minneapolis, was made president. The headquarters of the association was in the Corn Exchange, Minneapolis.

The minimum rates of flour have already been established. A cutting of rates subjects the offender to a heavy fine. Efforts are being made now to induce New York and Brooklyn millers to join the combine. Should the spring wheat dealers combine prove a success,
there is little doubt that the winter wheat
dealers, who constitute an equally powerful branch of milling, would organize in like manner.

"Have you already signed to fight?"
"I am not prepared to say whether I
have, or whether I have not. I will say,
however, that my stake money of $10,000
has been posted with a prominent sportsman."

THE ATLANTA DEFAULTER.

His Flight Caused the Suicide of an Intimate Friend.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24.—The Gate City National bank was placed in the hands of Bank Examiner Campbell yesterday. There was a crowd of depositors about the bank doors all day and a meeting of creditors was held in the afternoon. A committee was appointed to represent the depositors in any action that might be taken.

The bank officers assert that there is no doubt of their ability to pay depositors in full. There have been several arrests of people believed to be Redwine,
the defaulting cashier, but the right man
has not been captured.

Thomas Cobb Jackson, a young lawyer, and one of the most prominent young men of the South, a son of Capt.
Henry Jackson, of this city, and grandson of Gen. Henry R. Jackson, committed suicide last night. No cause for the act is known.

He had been despondent for several days, and was largely due to overwork.
He and Lewis Redwine, the defaulter,
were warm friends, and it is supposed Redwine's troubles unbalanced Jackson's mind.

Redwine Caught.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24.—Redwine, the defaulting cashier of the Gate City National bank, who absconded with something like $60,000, was caught at 1 o'clock in the suburbs of this city. He refuses to talk and has no money with him.

GRESHAM AND FOSTER.

The Coming Secretary of State Confers With His Predecessor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Although both Judge Gresham and Secretary of State
John W. Foster, on their arrival in this city last night, denied that a conference between them was contemplated, the two statesmen communicated by telephone late in the evening.

Gen. Bristow spoke for Judge
Gresham. The result was that Mr.
Foster made an engagement to meet
Judge Gresham early today. Mr. Foster's private secretary, H. T. Smith, went to the Buckingham and gave the judge
Mr. Foster's compliments. Judge
Gresham spent several hours in conversation with Gen. Bristow last night.

BOLD ROBBERY IN KANSAS.

Three Desperadoes Rob the Agent at a Railway Station.

PARSONS, Kan., Feb. 24.—Wednesday night, just after the Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train No. 2 pulled out of Adair station, I. T., three desperadoes confronted the agent and robbed him of $700.

Eighteen citizens who appeared on the scene, were made to hold up their hands and were marched, at the point of the bandits' guns, to one of the principal stores in the town which was robbed of $300. The robbers then marched the men to the stockyards where their horses were hitched. They then mounted and disappeared.

THE QUEEN'S PROTEST

The Envoy of the Ex-Queen of the Hawaiian Islands Presents a Statement to This Government.

He Contends that Most of the People Yielded Because Minister Stevens Upheld the Revolt.

Claims that the Provisional Government Has Not the Moral Nor Physical Support of the Masses.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The World publishes the text of the precise on the Hawaiian situation, furnished to the state department by the ex-queen's envoy, Paul Neumann. He says: The wishes of the natives as to the alteration of the constitution were confined to the following points:

First—The restoration of the power of the sovereign to appoint a certain number of the nobles.

Second—The diminution of property qualification of electors.

Third—Restriction of the elective franchise to Hawaiian citizens, except as to such aliens who had granted to them the franchise by the constitution of 1887.

Fourth—Increase of the salary of the representatives.

Fifth—Reduction of the term of the justices of the supreme court, from a life tenure to a tenure for a fixed number of years.

The native population as well as a great number of foreign born taxpayers and voters yielded the power which they could have maintained, only because they believe that the movement of the committee of safety is upheld by the authorities of the United States of America. The events which caused this belief are the following:

First—The landing of the forces of the United States ship Boston against the remonstrance of the constitutional government.

Second—The assurance of the United States minister plenipotentiary that in case of a conflict he would espouse the cause of the usurpers. The landing of the United States troops was a measure entirely unnecessary. Neither excess of caution nor actual fear can excuse the landing of American troops in the afternoon.

He adds as to subsequent events: The provisional government declared martial law and armed, among others, the vigilant and criminal element in the population, proscribed free speech and discussion, suppressed native newspapers and established a practical censorship of the newspapers published in English, permitting only such statements as might be favorable to itself to appear, and disbursed large sums of public money without authority of law.

This state of things was only possible by the armed support of the United States troops ashore and the guns of the United States warship Boston in the harbor.

The usurpation of authority would not have lasted an hour without such armed support and encouragement by the United States minister.

As a logical sequence to these events, the lawless and criminal foreign element, armed by the usurpers and paid to terrorize the natives and law-abiding citizens, now displayed a mutinous spirit, and the provisional government was compelled to call upon the American minister to assume a protectorate and disband its armed force, which was accomplished on Feb. 1.

This fact alone demonstrates that the so-called provisional government has no strength of its own, either to preserve the peace or enforce obedience to its edicts. It has neither the moral nor the physical support of the masses of the Hawaiian people, who protest with their guns against a continuance of its usurpation and pray for a restoration of the constitutional government and sovereignty.

ANNEXATION DELAYED.

Ratification of the Hawaiian Treaty Not Likely Till After March 4.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—It is not thought possible now that the senate will ratify the Hawaiian treaty before March 4. A majority of the Democratic side will oppose action because they do not want President Harrison to get the credit for annexation.

Senator Allison has been stated as opposing action on annexation. Yesterday he stated that he did not oppose annexation but that he would not support the appropriation bills through the annexation of any new territory.

He says the senate can ratify the treaty when in special session after March 4 if it desires it.

HE HANGED HIMSELF.

A Man Suicides on Account of the Death of Two Friends.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—A special dispatch from Westchester, Pa., says: Postmaster Jesse Rogers, of Guthrieville, a few miles from here, drove to this town with Frank Elston, an old friend yesterday afternoon. He had been here but a few minutes when he dropped dead.

On his way, Elston was fatally injured by a runaway horse. This so preyed on the mind of Thomas Kitch, a friend of the two, that he hanged himself in his barn.

A Cannery Destroyed.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 24.—Turner, Beeton & Co.'s cannery, at Inverness, near the Skeena river, has been destroyed by fire. ### Favored Home Rule.

ROME, Feb. 24.—The pope, in concurring with Cardinal Logue yesterday, said that he approved of Irish home rule. Justice to Irish Catholics, he said, would tend to strengthen Ireland. The pope eulogized Mr. Gladstone, who, his holiness remarked, had his heart in the success of the scheme so dear to his good Irish.

THE FLOOR GAVE WAY.

Thirty Persons Were Injured at a Ball in Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 24.—A Masonic social was in progress at the Odd Fellows' hall at Weston Wednesday night, at which over 200 were present. Just as the guests were adjourning to the supper tables the floor gave way and precipitated the whole assemblage to a lower story.

Forsyth, of Parkdale, compound fracture of one of his legs; Mr. Frye, leg broken; Mrs. Frye, shoulder blade fractured; Mrs. Fred Hill, badly bruised and injured internally; Rev. John Locke, seriously fractured leg; Henry Pearson, leg broken; Albert Fritchard, right leg broken, in two places; Miss Bertha Reiman, of Woodbridge, leg broken.

TRACKS MUST BE ELEVATED.

No Surface Steam Railway Tracks to Be Allowed in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—With scarcely a word of discussion a comprehensive ordinance providing for elevation of steam railway tracks was passed by the city council last night. The ordinance requires the removal of all railroad tracks before January 1, 1895, from the surface of all highways within boundaries specified in the ordinance.

This district, as near as can be described, lies within a radius of about one mile from the center of the business part of the city. Two other districts are described, which must be cleared of all surface tracks by January 1, 1897, and January 1, 1899, respectively. When this shall be accomplished, the nearest surface tracks will be six or seven miles from the center of the city.

FIERY YOUNG SOUTHERNER.

He Denounces an Editor as a Liar, Scoundrel and Coward.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 24.—F. McCormack, editor of the Commercial, has been waging a fierce war on Judge Dubois. Yesterday the judge's son wrote McCormack a note, asking him if he meant to reflect on his father's integrity and honor.

Mr. McCormack referred him to the dictionary as a help to interpret the editorials. Young Dubois wrote McCormack another note, which was returned unopened, McCormack saying his business was with Judge Dubois.

Young Dubois then published his letter to McCormack as a band bill and denounced him as a liar, and a scoundrel and coward. It was distributed over town. Dubois is not over 21 years old.

Going to Florida.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—It is said in well informed Catholic circles that Archbishop Corrigan and his brother, the Rev. Geo. W. Corrigan, rector of St. Agnes church, will leave town today for Tampa, Florida. Near Tampa a brother of the archbishop, Joseph F. Corrigan, M. D., has a large plantation on the residence, which contains an oratory which has been used frequently for some years. The two prelates will be the guests of Dr. Corrigan, it is thought, for several weeks.

Summary Justice.

PHOENIX, Ark., Feb. 24.—A special received here yesterday from Disbee, near the Mexican border, states that Eduardo Lopez, a desperado, was turned over to the Mexican authorities under extradition. Mexican officials then took Lopez 300 feet upon Mexican territory, bound him to a post and shot him dead. Lopez had killed a score of men in Sonora and in this territory in the last five years.

Civil Marriage Favored.

VIENNA, Feb. 24.—The municipal authorities of Pesth, Komern, and other cities of Hungary, have adopted resolutions approving the ecclesiastical policy of the Hungarian government and demanding that civil marriage be made obligatory. ### Admitted the Facts.

Newspaper editors have to be very careful in opening their columns for statements. But aware that Dr. Miles Medical Company are responsible, we make room for the following testimonial from R. McDougall, Auburn, Ind., who for two years noticed a stoppage or skipping of the pulse, his left side got so tender he could not lie on it, his heart fluttered, he was alarmed, went to different doctors, found no relief, but one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure cured him. The fare from Chicago will be $17.50 for the round trip. These tickets will be sold from February 28th to March 3rd inclusive, and will be valid for return journey until March 31st inclusive.

The Baltimore & Ohio is the shortest route to Washington from nearly all points west. Its trains are vestibuled from end to end, and carry Pullman sleeping cars.

No railroad in America is better equipped than the B. O. to transport with dispatch, safety and comfort the large crowd which will visit Washington to witness the inauguration ceremonies. Its long experience in transporting crowds to former inaugurations, G. A. R. encampments, Knights Templar convocations and similar gatherings, on an extensive scale, will prove most valuable in arranging for the coming inauguration.

MILLIONAIRES' MONEY.

STRONG NERVES REQUIRED IN THE TERRIBLE STRUGGLE.

Thousands Break Down Completely—Colonels Hahn and Potter Tell of the Effects of Excitement—How They Are Able to Withstand the Strains of Wall Street.

"I have just come up from Wall street and I feel nearly dead."

The speaker looked it. He was a broker who had just passed through an exciting day with an excited market, says the New York World, and the lines on his face and the drawn corners of his mouth showed the strain that he had been through. What did he do? Resort, as many others do, to stimulants.

I was determined in my capacity as a reporter for the press to investigate Wall street and find out how the millionaires' money was kept from breaking down.

I noted a very general tendency on the street to do away with stimulants, which only have a temporary effect, and employ instead something which builds up and acts as a real food for the nerves. Here is what some prominent men said:

Col. G. P. Potter, vice president of the National Mutual Insurance company, on hearing the object of my visit, spoke of the terrible strain he had undergone in the management of a highly important business. "My trouble," he said, "has been chronic constipation and insomnia. One is bad enough; both horrible."

I thought that it might in my case, so I went to a drug store and bought two bottles. I'm on the second bottle now, and deriving much good from it. The 'compound' is giving me sleep. I'll persist in its use and even hope for better results than already attained."

I next called on Mr. William P. Green, who is secretary of the American Bankers' association, who told me with the following remarkable statement: "Having done a great deal of railway traveling I feel completely run down and knocked out. My curiosity was aroused by what I heard of Paine's celery compound and I resolved to test it. It acted like magic. I have a good appetite during the day, and a cheerful good feeling all the time. The idea occurred to me to mention it to some of my friends. I did so but almost all of them knew about it. This is true, particularly of President Van Allen, of the National Bank of Albany, who said, in the course of an interview: 'I have used Paine's celery compound, and after a trial, I say emphatically, it's good. You may infer my opinion of it from this circumstance: I earnestly advised my brother in Reading, Pa., to use it. He and I discussed it, and he said it was a headache and nervousness. He did use it and I know it helped him.'"

Mr. R. W. Peters held the responsible position of chairman or executive officer in charge of the members of the Consolidated Petroleum, Mining, and Stock Exchange. He said: "Paine's celery compound is the most charming remedy that I ever used. If it reduces my flesh as it did for Mayor Gilroy I'll laud it even louder. It regulates one most delicate life."

Mr. J. T. Anyon, who is well known in the vicinity of Wall street, said: "The hard mental strain to which I am subjected tells upon me. I am much brighter today from the use of Paine's celery compound. This remedy bears a fine character, I assure you, in many quarters."

It can be seen from the above, that notwithstanding the great strain that is necessary to follow upon the shoulders of those men who conduct large affairs, they may be, indeed are, able to withstand the strains, preserve the health, and prolong the life. The great discovery of which these men speak is not a cheap nerve, sarsaparilla, or commonplace medicine, but a discovery made by the late Professor Phelps of Dartmouth college, and stands immeasurably superior to any other blood, brain or nerve builder known at the present day.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, Minn.,
Feb. 24.—The storm that was over this section
yesterday has moved to the west over Canada,
generally falling in the afternoon and evening.
The snowfall has not been heavy, the highest fall having been along the upper lakes
and over Michigan.
There has been a general, but slight fall in temperature since yesterday, but only two stations report two and below, while the highest is only 40 at Memphis, Tenn.
An area of high pressure moving down from the Northwest will probably bring fair weather again to this section for the rest of the week.

The highest point reached by the thermometer
here yesterday was 15, the lowest last night was 12. The total amount of snow that fell during the storm was 4.5 inch when melted, or 3 inches on the level.

DULUTH, Feb. 24.—Fair, slight change in temperature, if any colder; winds from west to north.

B. H. BRONSON,
Local Forecaster Official.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: Fair, Minnesota. Light, foggy showers, followed by clearing weather; northerly
winds colder in extreme eastern portion Saturday morning, warmer in northwest portion Saturday evening.

A Result to Be Deplored.

According to the latest advices from Washington, the question of the World's fair Sunday opening is practically settled. The result, it must be said with deep regret, is adverse to those who desired to see the gates of the Jackson Park grounds thrown open to the thousands of people who will be in Chicago on Sundays, many of whom would thus be saved from evil temptations of a powerful character.

The advocates of Sunday opening labored hard to secure a reversal of the action of congress at the last session, and as a last resort tried to obtain a compromise, providing for the opening of the fair on Sunday afternoons, but in this they were unsuccessful. Everything was done that could be done, but the power of the church in working up the fears of congressmen who had hopes of re-election was too great and won the day. The fear of the opposition of the church was more potent than principle with the congressmen.

A Washington correspondent says that some of the most enthusiastic champions of Sunday opening are still disin-clined to believe that the end has come and that they will make an effort when the sundry civil bill comes back for discussion in the house, to secure the adoption of an amendment giving authority to the officers of the Columbian exhibition to open the grounds on Sunday,
though none of the buildings will be opened. The Sunday openers are expressing themselves as content with this promise to open the grounds alone. The general belief, however, is that they will be unsuccessful in securing the adoption of that amendment, and the opinion now is that if the fair be opened on Sunday
it will not be through any act or by the consent of congress.

The exposition authorities, however,
have not decided to close the fair on Sundays, even if congress will not relieve the situation. "There are more ways of killing a cat than choking her
with butter," said one of the directors.
"So, too, there are more ways of having the fair open on Sundays than allowing the machinery to run and everything else go wide open." The directors have not been able, because of the conditions
on which congress appropriated $2,500,000
in souvenir half-dollars, to make any direct effort to secure the repeal of the Sunday closing clause. They are nearly all, if not unanimously, in favor of keeping the gates open on Sunday, and will submit with very bad grace—if they submit at all—to any Sunday closing rule.

The national commissioners, with a few notable exceptions, also favor Sunday opening. Thousands upon thousands of signatures to Sunday opening petitions have been received since the obnoxious rule was passed. They represent all classes of people—ministers,
church-goers and others of less ostentatious piety, but of equal Christianity
with those who want the gates closed.
It is a fact that there are more people in the country who want the exposition gates open on Sundays than there are of those who want them closed, as the records in the secretary's office will show
and as congress well knows.

The effects of the result of the agitation at Washington are already seen.
The Chicago theaters are making arrangements to give performances every Sunday afternoon and evening during the fair, and several new theaters are in course of erection to secure a share of the great crowds that will attend the performances. Numerous variety halls are being fitted up, and the saloon men
are renovating their premises to handle the crowds. The visitors certainly would not be more contaminated by looking at exhibits on Sunday than by going to theaters, variety halls and saloons, but the success of the opponents of Sunday opening will compel them to expose themselves to any contaminating influences found in these places.

The advocates of Sunday closing were no doubt sincere in their movement, but it was ill-advised and opposed to the best interests of the nation and detrimental to good morals.

Legislative Junkies.

A dispatch to The Herald yesterday said Governor Nelson had notified the legislature that he declined the invitation to go on a junketing to Chicago to visit the Minnesota building at the World's fair.

The governor has adopted a sensible course that will commend itself to the people. The people of the state are tired of these junketings on the part of the legislators, to the neglect of important measures that are awaiting action,
and the governor has done well in serving notice that he will not lend his official sanction to the neglect of public business.

It is true that the trip will not cost
the state anything, the railroads having agreed to furnish transportation, expecting of course, that they will receive legislative favors in return for the commission in connection with the World's fair bearing the other expenses of the journey, but that does not provide a sufficient excuse for the junket.
There is nothing whatever to be gained by the state from such a visit,
and the funds expended in this manner
by the World's fair commission might be better devoted to improving the character of the exhibit to be made at the fair.

An Inhuman Proposal.

Mr. Furlong, who is sometimes a Democrat and at other times an Alliance man, just as the humor strikes him, has introduced a bill in the legislature providing that condemned murderers shall be imprisoned for one year before execution.

The state humane society should take
Mr. Furlong in hand at once. Possibly he might, with a little instruction in its principles, be induced to change his views which at present are woefully lacking in humanity. It would be a species of refined cruelty to keep murderers a whole year waiting for the hangman's noose.

The suspense caused by awaiting death
would be infinitely worse than the execution itself. It would be torture of the worst description, and it is hardly likely that a majority of the legislators will support such an ill advised measure.

The New Apportionment.

The first draft of the new apportionment bill gives St. Louis, Lake and Cook county two senators and five representatives. There is an increase of one senator and two representatives and will correspondingly increase the power of this district in the legislature.

All the other districts in the northern part of the state get increased representation, and the result will be that the north half of the state will have a majority of the next legislature in all probability. At the rate that this district is now growing, the next reapportionment
will undoubtedly double the representation now proposed.

Chicago has entered upon a movement that is of great importance to all large cities. It has ordered the elevation of all steam railway tracks within eight or nine miles from the business center of the city. This will result in removing a great hindrance to street travel and will settle the grade crossing troubles effectually. The numerous fatal accidents at grade crossings have caused this action.

By the appointment of a Democrat as United States senator from Wyoming,
the Democracy obtain absolute control of the next senate, having forty-five votes out of eighty-eight, with Vice-President Stevenson's casting vote in reserve for any emergency. The Populists will not hold the balance of power
as they fondly expected, and all their hopes have gone glimmering.

Indications are increasing that Mr.
Cleveland's return to the presidency will not be followed by any notable falling of official heads. The doctrine that "to the victor belongs the spoils" is not likely to find favor with the administration, although Carlisle and Lamont would not object to its adoption.

The South Dakota legislature has announced the divorce law so as to provide for a year's residence in the state
before service is made by publication.
This will probably end the divorce colony, and the business of the Sioux Falls hotelkeepers will fall off to almost nothing.

J. S. Van Antwerp, Washington correspondent of The Herald and the Minneapolis Journal, has been elected treasurer of the National Press club. The newspaper men at the capital have chosen a reliable and efficient officer for this important position.

People who rushed after the souvenir coins with the idea that they would soon
command a premium will be disgusted
to learn that the World's fair authorities still have a plentiful stock and the demand is poor.

The friends of "Horizontal Bill" Morrison were confident that he would be a member of the coming cabinet, but he remains in the ranks of the statesmen without jobs.

The prospects of a general municipal law being passed by the present legislature are gradually fading away.

AMUSEMENTS.

"U and I."

"U and I" somewhat revised since its last appearance here, was given a good presentation at the Temple last evening by the Lederer company, but it was hardly such as the Kelly and Williams put on. George P. Murphy as the German professor was good, but E. J.
Hafferman cannot approach John T.
Kelly in the character of O'Donovan Innes. Kittie Karslake's kicking and dancing made a great hit and certainly was very clever especially her imitation of Lottie Collins. Miss Edith Newton has a good voice and sang well. The usual amount of horse play was introduced and found favor with the audience.

Edward Maro Combination.
The Edward Maro combination appears at the Temple tonight under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association. Prof. Maro, who lends the combination, who has a great hit and certainly was very clever especially her imitation of Lottie Collins. Miss Edith Newton
has a good voice and sang well. The
usual amount of horse play was introduced and found favor with the audience.

In addition to Prof. Maro there is Edwin L. Barker, humorist, whose appearance everywhere has been followed with excellent commendations. The Orpheus trio, consisting of John W. King, Master George Lindner and Prof. Maro, give some excellent music.

James J. Corbett.

Champion James J. Corbett is not the only great feature in the rather clever play of "Gentleman Jack." Visitors to Gotham who have passed an entertaining evening on the gaily illuminated Madison Square garden, listening to the entrancing musical selections and drinking in the delights of numerous entertaining specialty acts, will readily recognize the scene in the third act of the above mentioned play. The most taking feature of this act is two Danish warblers, Dagmar and DeCelle, who render several songs of different nations,
and with each song appear in a change
of picturesque costumes typical of the nation of which the songs are characteristic.

Scottish Concert Company.

On Tuesday evening next at the Lycium the Edith Ross Scottish Concert company will give a concert under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association. This company comes with the highest recommendations and will undoubtedly give a concert of rare merit. Miss Edith Ross has appeared in Duluth before and met with an unusually favorable reception.
All the members of the company are artists in their particular lines and a fine entertainment is assured.

No Election On Now.

would after he was elected.

An Exhibit of Decorative Embroideries
will be open to the ladies of Duluth at Merchant's hotel, all day Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. This is a rare opportunity for seeing the newest
art fabrics as well as the latest methods of embroidering and should not be missed. The exhibit is in charge of a lady who will explain the different articles. No charges and nothing for sale.
As the exhibit will be open but one day longer ladies should come early.

ness, or where a strengthening cordial is required; recommended by physicians.

S. F. Boyce, druggist.

The North Galveston Brick Plant.

The kiln of red pressed brick that was opened a few days ago at North Galveston, Tex., revealed a quality of material which was pronounced by experts as fully equal in density, durability and color to the best St. Louis pressed brick. The North Galveston brick company is a pretty big concern. The machines, buildings, yards and general capacity equal
some of the best plants in the country.
More factories being built, a steady increase in population and an abundant influx of capital seems to be the present rejoicing of this thrifty young city. For particulars call or address R. C. Youngblood, 327 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn., the local agent, or ad-

by all who see them. That which is preserved through life
should be selected with the utmost care. All rings bought from our stock can be subject-

amination only establishes more clearly their claim to superiority.

THE WEATHERS CASE.

The Biwabik Murder Trial is Still Dragging Along and is Interesting Many Spectators.

James Larker, Companion of John Zinie, the Murdered Man, on the Stand
All Morning.

Proves to be a Sharp Austrian and Could Not be Puzzled on Cross-Examination.

Before Judge Ensign in district court room No. 1, the case of the State of Minnesota vs. Lizzie Weathers, charged with murder in the first degree for the shooting of John Zinie, at Biwabik, on Dec.
10, was continued this morning with the first witness, James Larker, on the stand.
The county attorney was assisted in the prosecution by Attorney Bureau.

The witness told the story of the visit to the den kept by Lizzie Weathers. He spent $2 there, and after he went home
found the balance of his money missing from his pockets. He went back with John Zinie to see if his money was on the pathway to the house, and afterwards visited the house. He told how Zinie and he approached the door and Zinie opened the door and just as it was opened the witness saw the flash of a gun and heard the report of a discharge and saw Zinie fall on the snow alongside the steps. He said to Zinie: "Are you hurt John?" and the injured man said
"Yes, I am shot and am going to die."
These were the last words the injured man said and he died almost immediately.

The attorney for the defense made a very lame attempt at confusing the witness on cross-examination and asked the witness "What was the first thing you did on Sunday?" The witness answered, "I got up and had my breakfast." Then came the next question, "What did you do next?" and the witness convulsed the people in the people in the court room by the answer,
"I sat around and waited for dinner."

The court at this time rebuked the laughter and said: "I don't want to speak
again about this unseemly levity, but I shall try to keep the jury from laughing and if the spectators don't keep quiet I shall order the room cleared; this is not a place for laughter."

The defense had a package of things brought in by a deputy sheriff. The package was done up in a red bandanna handkerchief
and the attorney took out a new revolver in a very dramatic way and said to the court, while holding it at arms length
"this is fully loaded your honor; I would like to have the shells extracted." Deputy Armstrong extracted the cartridges and brought the weapon back.

Then followed a vain attempt to make the witness confess that Zinie had the revolver, but the little Austrian stuck steadily to his story and made the defense drop that branch of cross questioning by remarking "I didn't see the revolver until someone took it out of his pocket after he was dead. I have known him several years but never knew him carry a revolver." The witness was asked how much beer he could drink without getting drunk and replied "Oh I can drink lots."

A long lot of interesting details came next and leading up to the exact time of the shooting. The defense relinquished the witness and the prosecution briefly questioned him at the close. Mr. Bur-wick, a Biwabik merchant, is on the stand
this afternoon.

Before Judge Brown, in room 2, the Dreda damage case against the Duluth South Shore & Atlantic railroad is still on trial but will be concluded this afternoon.

sponsibility or accompanied by

ity offering the largest bonus.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

A Few Drunks Get the Inevitable Punishment
For Their Waywardness.

In municipal court this morning when Alex Stewart and Dan McGowan filed in they bore the fagged out ends of a jag
and had dark brown tastes in their mouths. Judge Powell prescribed ten days rest and quiet at Sharvy's sanitarium.

Donald McDougall bobbed up in court yesterday morning after a night of intemperance. He seduced his honor's cars and judgment sufficiently to secure a suspension of sentence. This morning
he was in the same place for the same offense. A compound cathartic dose of justice was administered in the form of a commitment to the county jail for thirty days. John Stone yesterday morning denied that he had been drunk.
This morning he changed his plea to that of guilty and was given a ticket to the mansion of rest on the hill. Henry Johnson had his trial on the charge of being intoxicated set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

BROKE HIS LEG.

An Old Man Struck by an Iron Range
Train.

The noon train today on the Iron Range road brought in a man named Grossman with a broken leg. He is an old squatter who lives just the other side of Arthur side track, about seventeen miles from town. He is as deaf as a post, and persists in walking on the track in spite of many and narrow escapes which he has had.

Today he was as usual taking a constitutional when the Ely passenger train came along and struck him. Luckily
the train was almost at a standstill. Dr.
Magie met him at the Union depot and took him to St. Luke's hospital. The engineer can hardly be blamed as the old man has been repeatedly warned and also as it was impossible to stop the train.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Three Men Working On a Foundation Were Slightly Injured.

Three men were injured by an explosion of dynamite at the rear of the Saddle Rock restaurant at about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. An excavation for an addition to the restaurant is being made and dynamite is being employed to loosen the earth. It is supposed that some siftings of nitro glycerine were in a bucket of warm water which had been used to thaw out the dynamite and that some jar set off the unstable explosive.

The names, residences and injuries of the men are as follows: James Fitzgerald, foreman, Fourth avenue east, deep cut of some length in the left arm; William Deady, Fourth avenue east, cut over the left eye, Mike Kyle, 21 West Sixth street, right arm cut. The injured men were taken to Dr. Phelan's office and their wounds dressed. No bones were broken. Each man also has a family.

President Truelsen's Answer.

In response to the telegram from H.
M. Chance, the Philadelphia engineer, in which he announced his appeal from
the award of the prize for the most acceptable tunnel plans, President Truelsen has written a letter stating how and why the award was made. He then added that the award has been confirmed by the council, and that if the tunnel is ever constructed it will be in accordance with the Conklin plans.

IT PASSED THE HOUSE

The Bill to Give the Eleventh Judicial District Another Judge Passed the House Today.Better Prospects Today in the Senate for the Markham Bill Taxing the Railroad Lands.Mr. Boggs Has Introduced a Bill to Create the Office of Mineral Land Agent.ST. PAUL, Feb. 25.—[Special to The Herald].—The judiciary committee of the house last night agreed to report in favor of the bill for an extra judge in the Eleventh judicial district and to recommend its passage under suspension of the rules.A lot of road and bridge appropriation bills were introduced in the senate this morning. E. R. Smith introduced a bill amending the laws on education. Mr.
Leinart brought in a bill relating to appointment of money for public schools.
Mr. Geissel had a bill to provide for the creation and organization of new counties which must not contain less than 400 square miles. Portions may be detached from old counties.It looks much better today for the Markham railroad taxation bill. All the morning newspapers of the Twin cities,
except the Pioneer Press, have come out in favor of the measure and it is believed that at least thirty-five senators will vote for the bill to pass, unless undue and unfair influences are brought to bear at the last moment. There has been very hard work done in favor of the measure, its friends being legion,
and so just have been its provisions that no valid arguments could be obtained by senators as an excuse for opposing the measure.Another bill was introduced yesterday by Mr. Markham which will stir up the lumbermen on account of providing for taxation of logs on the upper Mississippi, so that the northern counties will get a benefit of such tax from half a billion feet of lumber cut annually.
The bill was introduced by Mr. Markham, which is now collected in Hennepin county, if collected at all.The senate judiciary committee has recommended the bill extending suffrage
to women in municipal elections to pass by a vote of 8 to 5.The senate committee on public buildings has recommended the bill to appropriate $150,000 for a new building for the historical society to pass.The attorneys present in the municipal bill have decided to allow five aldermen at large in cities of over 35,000 inhabitants, besides two from each ward.The following bills passed the senate this morning: Probstfeldt's bill allowing corporations to refund bonded indebtedness; Keller's bill relating to the before justices of the peace; McHale's
bill for erection of buildings on poor farms; Probstfeldt's bill to permit discussion to release taxes and steel firm of
the price realized today is $33,500 more
than that of the previous sale it is doubtful if even this bid will meet with the approval of the government officials.
Although there were a large number
present the bidding was confined to
three persons.FIVE HUNDRED MEN OUT.
A Mill in Pennsylvania Has Shut Down Indefinitely.PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 25.—The Ves-sus mill of Moorhead & Co. at Sharpsburg has shut down indefinitely, and all of the workmen have been discharged.
This wholesale discharge has caused consideration among all classes of citizens. Between 500 and 600 men are out of employment.One of the mill officials said that the mill would be closed at least until the policy of the new administration affecting the tariff had been outlined. Owing to the labor disputes, the plant has been operated very irregularly for a year or more.

ALL WILL QUIT WORK.

More Trouble With Workers at the World's Fair.CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Unless the demands of the striking electrical workers are granted today, all members of the building trades council, representing twenty-seven trades, will quit work at the World's fair grounds. This was agreed at the meeting of building trades council
at No. 167 Washington street last night.
This, the strikers say, will make it impossible to get the work done at the fair grounds by May 1. Seventy non-union electrical workers joined the strikers yesterday.

A CLERGYMAN IN TROUBLE.

He is the Central Figure in a Very Unsavory Scandal.WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 25.—A big sensation was caused in social and religious circles yesterday by a scandal in which Rev. J. F. Chenoweth is involved.
Mr. Chenoweth is pastor of the North street M. E. church, and is one of the oldest and best known members of Methodist ministry in West Virginia.He is charged with undue intimacy with a young lady of Fairmont, this state, and has resigned his charge pending a trial which he has asked for. The accused pastor is known throughout the South.

A Valuable Stallion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The famous stallion Monbars was bought back yesterday by his former owners, Richard & Leathers, from Maj. S. J. Dickinson at an advance of $25,000 over the price paid for him by Maj. Dickinson a few days ago.

Going to the Fights.

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 25.—"Bat" Masterton and seven other Denver sports
passed through here last night en route
to New Orleans to witness the fights.
They had $20,000 to bet on Hall and Goddard.

WAS BOILED TO DEATH.

The Horrible Fate Which Befell a Three-Year-Old Girl.PITTSBURG, Feb. 25.—Last evening
the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Wm. Grubbs, who reside at Sharpburg near the city limits, was boiled to death
in a kettle of scalding hot milk, which had been set out to cool preparatory to feeding some hogs.The small boy and mother were seated at the supper table. The child was playing about the floor. Unnoticed by them
she scrawled over by the kitchen door to the kettle, in which she fell head first.
Mr. Grubbs went in search of his baby.
His horror can only be imagined when
he discovered what had happened.
The flesh was boiled almost off the head and shoulders of the little one and life had fled. Mrs. Grubbs met him at the door and their grief knew no bounds.
The mother is demented, while Mr.
Grubbs is on the verge of insanity.

ON A FIVE WEEKS' CRUISE.

Mr. Whitney Will Not Attend the Inauguration
Ceremonies Next Month.JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 25.—Wm.
C. Whitney, ex-secretary of the navy, arrived here early yesterday morning in a special car direct from New York. With him are Col. O. H. Payne, of Ohio, Miss Whitney, H. P. Whitney and Payne Whitney, the three latter being the daughter and sons of the ex-secretary.
They are the guests of W. A. Hanna, the Cleveland O. millionaire, who has been here for several days with his yacht, the Commanche, awaiting them.
The party is quartered at the Windsor hotel. Next Monday the yacht starts on a cruise to the West Indies, Nassau, Jamaica and Port Trinidad.The whole trip will extend over a period of about five weeks. Mr. Whitney is in excellent health, but still shows signs of his recent bereavement. He desires no callers, and the party keep in retirement.

CRAZED BY ANARCHISM.

A Young Woman From Warsaw Declared to be Insane.NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Sophia Palpern,
the young Polish woman, who was arrested on the street yesterday in a semi-nude condition and screaming that she had been poisoned, was examined at the Bellevue hospital yesterday and officially declared by physicians to be insane.Miss Palpern is said to have come from Warsaw, where her father is a wealthy merchant, some six months ago.
Since her arrival in this city she has lived among the anarchists, and it is said she has preached spiritedly the doctrine of anarchy. When arrested she had nearly $2000 in her possession. The probabilities are she will be sent back to Europe.

A POSTOFFICE SITE SOLD.

But the Government May Refuse to Accept the Bid.PITTSBURG, Feb. 25.—The old postoffice site at the corner of Fifth avenue
and Southfield street was offered at public sale this afternoon.The well known iron and steel firm of Park Bros. was the purchaser for $443,- 500.This is the second time the property has been put up for sale, and although
the price realized today is $33,500 more
than that of the previous sale it is doubt-
ful if even this bid will meet with the
approval of the government officials.
Although there were a large number
present the bidding was confined to

BUNCO MEN'S BIG HAUL

A Trio of Sharp Swindlers Visited Hot Springs and Secured $100,000 From Prominent Men.Their Game Spoiled by Detectives From St.
Louis But the Birds Had Flown in Time.On a Blotter They Left Behind Were Found Imprints of Checks They Had Cashied.HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 25.—For some days considerable excitement has prevailed in this city over the bold operations of three bunco men, but their game was spoiled by detectives from St.
Louis. The men operated in a small cottage in the vicinity of the big hotels.
The leader of the gang represented himself as an agent of the Associated Press, and was known as H. D. Hazard.His pals were men named Leake and Winthorpe, the former being known to all detectives as a notorious confidence
man, while the other is equally well known as "Stool Pigeon" Howe, alias Hazard, alias Green. He is an Englishman and several years ago had one of the largest and best equipped gambling houses in New York city. The detectives made a raid on the cottage a few days ago but the birds had flown.The detectives secured several large sheets of blotting paper and several blank checks used by them.
On the blotters were imprints of checks filled out and signed by victims. Among the checks are the following: Check on City bank of Baltimore, in favor of H. D. Hazard for $2000, signed H. W. Hiltner; check on Minnesota bank for $2000, signed H.
Hackerway; check for $2000 on Arkansas bank, signed J. C. Hayes; check on Boston bank for $2000, signed John Miller;
check on a Chicago bank for $7500,
signed R. O. Prather; check for $5000
on the First National bank of New York,
signed John (illegible); check on a Helena, Mont., bank for $2000, signed J.
Oliver; check for $2000 on Park National bank, New York, signed J. W. Gawn.There were also two checks on the First National bank of New York city,
one for $5500 and the other for $5540,
the signatures on which could not be made out. Several of the supposed victims, whose signatures appear on these letters
and checks, are well known and prominent men, all visitors here. It is expected that the trio of buncoers have secured at least $100,000 from their victims.

SWINDLED LUMBERMEN.

Northwestern Dealers Deceived by a Clever Schemer.PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—Charles Wilson Rowe was yesterday convicted in the United States court for using the mails for the purpose of defrauding and conspiracy. Sentence was deferred.
Rowe's system was very comprehensive and he succeeded in swindling lumbermen throughout the Northwest of thousands of dollars before he was arrested. He represented himself as an extensive lumber dealer, and by referring the lumbermen to a fictitious trading firm
of this city as to his personal standing
he obtained large shipments of lumber,
which he sold and never paid for.

TRYING TO REVIVE GLADSTONE.

Attempt to Build up Gladstone as a Shipping Port.GLADSTONE, Mich., Feb. 25.—The announcement is made of completion of the organization of the Gladstone company, which has been quietly maturing
for several months past. Big money and big men are back of the organization, and it is proposed during the next year to build up Gladstone as a shipping and manufacturing center.The company is capitalized at $5,000,
and the branch offices have been established in Minneapolis, Boston and Gladstone. Co-operating with the organization are extensive railroad and steamship interests, so that it is evident
the new enterprise means much to this little port and to Minneapolis and St.
Paul.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Considerable interest attended yesterday's meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution. It was the closing day of the session. Mrs.
Stevenson, the wife of the vice president-
elect, was elected president general.
Mrs. H. V. Boynton, the present incumbent, was re-elected vice president in charge of the organization.

Served Him Right.

GREENADA, Miss., Feb. 25.—Thursday night a party of White Caps went to the house of T. A. Anderson in Carroll county with the intention of whipping
him. James McMahon, one of the party, entered the house, pistol in hand, and Anderson shot and killed him. The others beat a hasty retreat. Anderson had a preliminary hearing and was discharged.

Killed in a Duel.

BRENNAN, Tex., Feb. 25.—At Chappell Hill, Washington county, Thursday night, Constable George Routt and Charles Carlisle, both young men of prominent families, fought a duel with shotguns. Routt received a load of buckshot in his heart, dying instantly. He fired at Carlisle, but shot too high. The cause of the duel is unknown.Panton & Watson

DOWNWARD TENDENCY

In Board of Trade Parlance.—That seems to be the Condition of Society at Present.

This Must be Interpreted Literally in the Light of This Month's Rush to the South.

West Duluth Society Shares in the Lenten Dullness But Has a Few Card Parties at Least.

Lent is surely making its presence felt socially, if not in a strictly spiritual sense. To use the phraseology of the board of trade the "condition is dull and featureless with a downward tendency." The use of the term "downward" does not imply any lessening of the exclusiveness or elegance of social life, but should be taken literally in connection with the Southern and Florida begira which has been going on for the past month. With nearly 100 Duluth people, most of them social leaders, hobnobbing in Florida orange groves or laying up an improbable amount of tarpon catching and other fish stories for the edification of their friends here when balmy summer shall come again, and with half a hundred other well-known people wooing pleasure or health along the Mexican, Texan and Californian coasts the full sense of the term "downward" can be realized, and the extent of the inroad into our social life can be appreciated.

There have been a few little card parties and several gatherings of more or less note, but nothing of real prominence has taken place. The clubs have struggled along and had their usual hops and receptions at the generally observed intervals; the firemen had a very large turnout at their ball and utter stagnation has been avoided, but for nearly a month now the social whirl will practically succumb to a sort of steady march.

By the way, the people's observance of Lent is capable of many different interpretations. A young lady who likes to see a good performance at the theaters was heard saying some days ago that she never went to an evening performance during the Lenten depression, but that if the newspaper man she was talking to had "any spare matinee tickets," she "didn't mind going!"

WEST DULUTH SOCIETY.

It Shares in the Prevailing Lenten Depression and Dullness.

Specially speaking West Duluth has been exceedingly dull of late, particularly since the beginning of Lenten season. The only feature to break the monotony has been found in a few church socials. It has even been a long time between dances, hitherto considered an indispensable amusement for West Duluthians.

A few quiet card parties make life pleasant to a limited number. The C. P. Whist club meets each week and is said to be gaining in popularity as a social club. One of the latest acquisitions in the line of card parties are the ladies' afternoon pedro parties. These are given by a club which consists of twelve married ladies, each of whom gives an afternoon party with light refreshments, during which the members combat for prizes in the popular game of pedro. After the full round has been made the gallant husbands will treat their fair partners to a dance, which event will probably take place shortly after Easter. Weddings have been a thing of the past, but it is hinted that a prominent young man is showing his intimate friends a new suit of clothes of which he is very proud and which will soon be worn on a very important occasion.

Social Mention.

The Cecilia society had a Wagnerian discussion as a prelude to a very interesting musical at the Saturday club rooms yesterday. Mrs. W. B. Chapin championed the affirmative statement that Wagner was the greatest musician the world has ever seen, while Mrs. Dr. Stocker was equally eloquent in the negative position. The club promises a social in March, in which Professor Perry will be the leading attraction.

The Unity club had a fine meeting Monday evening. The Indian question was discussed.

The death of Mrs. Charles G. Traphagen at Lakeside was announced Tuesday.

A very pleasant surprise party was given to the Misses and Mr. W. N. Dalcor at 1702 West Third street Monday night. About forty people were present and music, dancing and refreshments filled out an enjoyable evening.

Mr. L. C. Carlton, of this city, was married at Brainerd last Monday to Miss Belle Graham of the city of the pines. They have returned to Duluth.

Mrs. George Davis, of West Duluth, entertained a number of lady friends with a pedro party Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Anna M. Nole was the leader in the Saturday club discussion this afternoon. "Munich" and the "Palaces of King Louis II of Bavaria," were the subjects.

The firemen's ball Wednesday evening was a big affair and considerably over two couples were in attendance. It was held in Turner hall.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lewis, of 430 First avenue west, gave a progressive cinch party Wednesday evening. About twenty guests were present. The first prizes were won by Mrs. J. A. Waterworth and Mr. Toomey, and the booby prizes by Mr. and Mrs. Reeve. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was passed.

M. Hammingsen and Mrs. M. A. Berry, of New Ulm, Minn., were married Wednesday evening at the residence of Dr. C. W. McFadden, Lakeside, by Rev. Mr. Heald.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McCormick, of West Duluth, entertained the C. P. Whist club Wednesday evening.

The engagement of Jacob Levine, of Levine Bros., to Miss Goldberg, of Chicago, was announced Thursday night. The wedding takes place in Chicago in a few weeks and the contracting parties, who are now both in the World's fair city, were recipients of numerous congratulatory telegrams from Duluth friends.

Deputy Register of Deeds Bergsved O. Lee, leaves Monday for Volga, Dak., where he will be married next week to Miss Cenia Hanson. He will be absent a week or ten days.

Today was art day at the Saturday club meeting and on Thursday evening, at the home, 1800 West First street, it being the occasion of his forty-fifth birthday. As a token of their esteem they presented Mr. Holding with a handsome cash chair. Refreshments were served and a happy evening was passed.

A DRAMATIC EPISODE.

The Scene When Elias Johnson Realized He Was Acquitted.

The trial of Elias Johnson for the murder of Matt Volki took place the early part of the week and resulted in the acquittal of the accused. But there was a dramatic incident—a denouement—that did not go into the court records.

The prisoner sat stolidly through the trial only raising his eyes as each fresh witness was placed on the stand and then allowing them to rest on the confines and shadowy nothingness of nowhere. He could not understand a word of the proceedings except when the Finlander, Matson and Lampman spoke in the Finnish tongue, but he knew the dreadful import of the congregated array of judge and jury, lawyers, court attendants and spectators.

He imagined that upon the decision of the motley dozen who occupied the jurors' seats his thread of life depended. He did not realize at the time of its delivery what the judge's charge that murder in the first degree could not be returned meant. He only watched and waited for the end.

He knew when the jury retired into the jury room that his fate was trembling in the balance and like an automaton he marched between sheriff's deputies between court house and jail. At last came the summons to come back into the court house to hear the verdict and the prisoner sat facing his judges. He did not realize a single word of the brief verbosity which followed and he was taken back to his cell.

On the landing at the top of the stairs leading from the court room he suddenly stopped and in the expressive sign manual which people of different tongues use, he turned to his guards and drawing his fingers around his throat he managed to convey the sign question "Am I going to be hanged?" The jurors made him understand that he was not going to be hanged; that he had been found not guilty and would be liberated on the following morning.

Then came the only show of feeling that he manifested. For a moment he staggered deathly white against the wall and bowed his head upon his chest; then the long restraint of hope of life was loosened and the hot blood mounting into cheek and neck diffused a color which had been strangely absent for days. It was only an instant and then with a gesture which an emperor might have envied he waved a "move on" to his guards and the emotional drama of the stair landing was ended.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Feb. 25.—The cold wave which is now over this section and the country to the north of here was not visible on the map yesterday morning, but has rushed down from the far North without warning. It was first seen last night over the country to the north of Minnesota, and has since moved southward, bringing with it a heavy snowfall and a sharp drop in temperature. The conditions are very unsettled over the country at large, three areas of low pressure being down the middle and one of which are of importance as yet, but any one may develop into a storm of great energy without much further warning. One of these areas is over Eastern Lake Superior, one over Iowa and Nebraska, and the other over Western Montana. An area of moderate high barometer covers the Southwest, and another is moving down from the far Northwest.

Light snow is falling at scattered places over all the country except the Southwest, where it is generally fair, but the fall has not amounted to much more than a trace in any section. The highest point reached by the thermometer here yesterday was 24, falling during the night to 14 below.

DULUTH, Feb. 25.—Fair today, possibly followed by snow tonight & Sunday; slightly colder today; warmer Sunday; variable winds; light snow; clearing followed by rising temperature.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair; Minnesota: Increasing cloudiness; probably local snows on Sunday; variable winds; clearing followed by rising temperature.

Local Forecast Official.

Notice of Removal.

It will be several days before The Herald will be comfortably settled in its new quarters, and any shortcomings during this trying time must therefore be pardoned.

The Bridge Question.

According to the latest advices from Washington, an agreement has been reached between certain parties whereby all opposition by Mr. Haugen is withdrawn to the Grassy Point bridge bill, provision being made in it for room for wagon and foot passengers whenever the secretary of war directs, while the opposition to a bridge from Rice's Point to Connor's Point will also be withdrawn. Provisions are contained in both bills, it is said, allowing the cities of Duluth and Superior to purchase the bridges at any time by paying the actual cost and 7 per cent interest.

It is hardly likely that, in view of the short life of the present congress and the many important general measures pressing for consideration, either of the bridge bills will be passed at this session. They will probably have plainer sailing at the special session in the spring, which now seems inevitable. In the meantime it will be advisable to carefully study the provisions contained in the bills. The four or five men who have been at Washington reaching an "agreement" on behalf of Duluth were not authorized to act by the citizens. In fact it is likely that, if the people selected a delegation to Washington on bridge matters, some of these gentlemen would not be found on it. Messrs. Men-donhall and Hartley were not in Washington to look after the welfare of Duluth or Superior. They were there to look after their private interests, and it is safe to say that in agreeing to any compromise measures they did not allow anything beneficial to the two cities to stand in the way of their private interests.

There should be some provision in the Rice's Point bridge whereby the cities can direct the cost of the bridge and its quality and other particulars while it is being built. The company granted authority to build there might put up a decidedly flimsy structure. The bridge should be first class in every respect and the bill should give the cities, both singly and jointly, authority to compel the building of a bridge in conformity to their ideas. It should also be provision that when the cities buy the bridge it shall be free to foot and wagon travel but that street car companies using its privileges shall pay a reasonable toll such as is charged on similar bridges in other places.

These tolls would recoup the cities for the expense of maintenance and repairs. There is no valid reason why a street car company should be given free use of a bridge purchased and owned by the city, and the bill should carefully cover this point. No doubt Maj. Baldwin will see that the interests of Duluth in this respect are guarded from the efforts of corporations that are always trying to get something for nothing.

Trying to Raise the Dead.

The dispatches today announce that another attempt is to be made to infuse some life into the almost defunct little Michigan town, called Gladstone. Once upon a time, Gladstone had a great boom, as many people then residents in St. Paul and Minneapolis will remember to their sorrow. The price of lots soared skyward. It was asserted Gladstone was to be a great shipping port and many manufacturers were to be located there. The gullible rushed in and purchased all the property that was offered, expecting to realize enormous profits.

It was predicted by the boomers that Gladstone was certain to be the greatest city on the chain of lakes. Duluth would not be in it with Gladstone, which was bound to outstrip Chicago within a short time.

Suddenly there was a crash. The bubble burst, the boom collapsed. The bottom fell out of the great future metropolis. Buildings that were partially erected were never completed but remained as silent reminders of the great "might-have-been."

The suckers who had been loaded with town lots at fabulous prices found they had an elephant on their hands. Gladstone lots were a drug on the market. Property that had been selling for several hundred dollars a front foot would not sell for that much an acre. The victims of the boom were in some cases reduced to bankruptcy and poverty. All their slender capital was wiped out in almost a moment.

Gladstone then settled down to its normal condition. Its pleasing dream of greatness vanished, and it became a sixth-rate port with a few vessels arriving and departing during the season. Even the Soo road was unable to galvanize any life into the corpse, and the little town has dragged along slowly, burdened by the weight of the boom that was so early spent.

Now we are told that Tom Lowry, Senator Washburn and a few other Minneapolis people who gaze with ill-concealed jealousy upon the rapid growth of Duluth, have combined to boom Gladstone again, hoping to make it a great shipping port and a rival to Duluth.

It may be true that "a sucker is born every minute," but it will be a pretty green sucker that will bite at Gladstone bait.

The North Dakota Situation.

The North Dakota Republicans do not take kindly, as The Herald predicted a few days ago, to the aspersions cast upon their Republicanism by papers and people in other states, because a Democrat was elected United States senator.

The outside Republicans who have been indulging in this roasting do not fairly size up the situation, according to the Grand Forks Herald. The Republican votes that elected Roach came mostly from men who have been the most earnest to elect a Republican senator. The arrangement had been made and it would have been carried out—that in case Mr. Roach failed to win on the sixty-first ballot, John D. Benton would win on the next ballot. This being the situation, through no fault of Grand Forks Republicans, they determined to select the Democrat. Grand Forks Republicans are as loyal as any in the land, declares the Grand Forks Herald.

The fact seems to be that the men in North Dakota who are busily engaged in denouncing Congressman Johnson and the Republicans who voted for Roach were really responsible for a Democrat being elected. They insisted on Casey or a Democrat. They would not support any other Republican. One dose of Casey was enough and his election was an impossibility.

Hoist With Its Own Petard.

The New York Voice is one of the most prominent prohibitionist organs in the country. It has probably done more to bring to the square inch in behalf of its party than any of the old party organs. In view of its support of the principles of the prohibition party, it is somewhat amusing to learn that the Voice is opposing the anti-option bill on constitutional grounds and asserting that is an open assault upon the federal constitution.

"It is," says the Voice, "a most flagrant use of the taxing power solely for the purpose of exercising the police power reserved to the states. It is not expected that the so-called tax will raise a cent of revenue—the purpose for which the taxing power was granted to congress." The Herald is not certain whether the Voice has been demanding the passage of a federal prohibition liquor law, but leading prohibitionists have done so, and the prohibition party has made such a demand. The objection raised by the Voice to the anti-option bill, as a violation of the constitution, would apply with equal force to a prohibition liquor law, if the objection were sound. If the Voice is correct, what excuse has the national prohibition party for living?

By the death of Allan Manvel, which occurred in Southern California yesterday, the railroad world experienced a serious loss. Mr. Manvel was a railroad man of great ability and he was an indefatigable worker, to which fact may be ascribed his demise at this time. When connected with the Manitoba road, he was President Hill's most valued assistant, and he repeated his success in the Northwest when he assumed the presidency of the Santa Fe road.

The News Tribune is making strenuous efforts to obtain the aid of Maj. Baldwin for passing the Duluth-Superior Bridge company's bill, and is now lauding him on every possible occasion. The major is not likely to be hoodwinked by such flattery. He has been long enough in the world to be suspicious of "Greeks bearing gifts."

This is moving day for The Herald, but in spite of the troubles and annoyances incident to the transfer of a newspaper plant from one building to another, it issues the best paper published in Duluth this week. A glance through the attractive and well-filled columns will show that this is correct.

Mr. Hatch declares there is a conspiracy in the house to prevent consideration of the anti-option bill and he proposes to fight all other business until March 4. It is therefore very likely that any other measures will have hard sledding at the present session.

Duluth's bank clearings for the past week showed an increase of 12 per cent over the corresponding period of last year. Minneapolis shows a decrease of 14.5 per cent and St. Paul a decrease of 17.7 per cent. Are the Twins drooping?

The threat of the north of Ireland to start a civil war if a home rule parliament is established leads to the suspicion that some men from Kansas have emigrated to the green isle.

It is amusing to read the talk about "annuals" these days. It is now asserted none are genuine unless the name is blown in the bottle.

The Herald is moving today into its new building on the south side of Superior street midway between Second and Third avenues west.

Municipal Councils of Panama and Colon Declare for Extension of Time to the Canal Company.

The War in the Argentine Province of Rio Grande is Still Going on Fiercely.

Awful Atrocities Against Non-Combatants Committed by Soldiers and Families are Fleeing to Paraguay.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Herald's special from Panama says: The municipal councils of Panama and Colon have sent a petition to the governor of the state of Panama to urge President

Suarez to grant an extension of time to the canal company, which was reorganized yesterday for the express purpose of taking up the canal question, made every possible effort to hold an enthusiastic meeting yesterday. The result, however, was rather tame and disappointing. About thirty foreign members of the chamber of commerce, principally ex-Canal contractors and loyal Monarchists and nine Columbians, including the editors and managers of Monchi-cour's Isthiama newspaper and other newspaper men, were present.

Sereno de Lator, of the Colombian, introduced a resolution making recommendations favorable to the extension of the French concession depend upon M. Manga's explanation of certain alleged crooked transactions of the liquidator. The resolution was promptly tabled, and the resolutions which had been prepared were adopted.

The resolutions urged the president to grant the extension asked for by M. Manga, and to cancel all government suits and claims pending against the liquidator, provided that he assume the control of the material, open the completed portion of the canal to local traffic and the Fox river to Caribbean seafarers.

The few Columbians who favor the extension of time think it should be indefinite and only revocable by Colombia when the funds in the hands of the liquidator are not sufficient to further preserve the material.

Fierce Battles Now Proceeding in the Rio Grande Province.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Herald's Valparaiso special says: From various sections in Rio Grande comes news of fighting. An army of 2000 Federals are besieging the town of Santa Anna. They are poorly armed and hence have made no assault on the town. A fierce battle was fought near Don Pedro yesterday and many were killed on each side.

One painful feature of the fighting is now going on in the province of Rio Grande is the awful atrocities against non-combatants of which the troops are guilty. Many families in the Argentine province of Corrientes are fleeing into Paraguay to escape from the brutality of the soldiers.

HOUSE NEEDS REPAIRS.

New Supports Will Keep the Structure Sound.

The Nerves Need Food, the Blood Needs Nourishment--Lucius Hayward's Recovery from Nervous Prostration Due to Paine's Celery Compound--Had on Two Occasions Employed Physicians--The Famous Remedy Made Him Well.

"The house is tumbling to pieces and the landlord refuses to make further repairs," says Mary a sick man who may be well.

The body is, to be sure, a house that is hard to repair. But new supports like real foods for the nerves and blood, can keep the structure sound. Such a well-seasoned prop and nerve food has Paine's celery compound proved, that but to name it is to praise it. Says Mr. Lucius Hayward of Campbell, Mass., whose portrait is given above:

"About three years ago I was sick with the chills. Dr. Hammond attended me through them, but I was not cured. I was so nervous nights that I could not sleep much. I could work some, but my nerves troubled me all the time. I finally took cold and was sick again."

"I then called Dr. Free-man. He pronounced it nervous prostration. I was sick for a long time, but I finally recovered and began to gain strength, and got so that I could work some. But I was still nervous, and took bromide to make me sleep at night. At the same time my back and kidney were sore and weak, and now and then I had to go to the doctor's and get a prescription. Whenever I took cold I went back again where I was before. My liver troubled me, and my kidneys were weak and my back lame."

"I changed to look over the Boston Journal, and saw a notice of Paine's celery compound, and determined that I would try it. When I had used one bottle I began to feel strong, and my stomach began to feel better, and my appetite began to come back, and my kidneys and back were stronger. I told my wife that that I felt more like myself than I had for a long time, and I continued taking the compound until three months ago. I have required none since, and work every day except the Sabbath. It made me well. I have recommended Paine's celery compound to my friends, and to all who have trouble with their nervous system."

Paine's celery compound is the prescription of one of the most eminent practitioners that medicine has had. It is the remedy that when work begins to be a bore, and the nerves are out of order, and sleep is not easy, should be taken at once.

AN INTERESTING CHAT.

People, Dentists and Teeth, A Little Lecture on Them All.

A reporter, who called on Drs. von Suesmuth and Day at their offices in the Hunter block, 31 West Superior street, in search of wisdom and information, was treated to a little informal lecture that is well worth preserving in print.

"Many people imagine," said Dr. Day, "that the filling of a tooth or the making and insertion of a crown is a simple matter and can be done as well by one dentist as by another. With this idea uppermost in their mind they seek for the dentist who will do the work for the least money. Now it is as true of the dental profession as of any other that cheapness in price of the work is generally an indication that the quality must be of a low grade. On the other hand, however, there are dentists who charge an enormous price for their services, a price far beyond the real value of the work done, only limiting the extent of their bills by the depth of their patient's pocket. These dentists catch a class of people who come to them because their prices are high their work must of necessity be something unusually good."

"Dental dental work cannot be done for nothing. A dentist's time is, of course, what he charges for mainly, although the materials he uses should always be, are very expensive."

It is very difficult therefore for an uninitiated public to avoid the "cheap" John dentists on the one hand and the extortionate practitioner on the other.

I saw a case the other day where a man had been visiting different dentists in order to get an estimate of a certain piece of bridge work which he wished to have done. The lowest estimate he received was $75 and the highest $200. Now the work could not have been properly done for the lowest amount named, and $200 was about three times what it was actually worth.

We don't pretend to compete with the "cheap John" dentists, for we do nothing but the best work, using nothing but the best material and charging a fair and honest price for it.

Our system of bridge and crown work invented by Dr. von Suesmuth and used by no other dentist in this city, has proved a wonderful success, and every patient who has had the benefit of its use cannot speak in flattering terms of its efficacy. We have also a system of making artificial teeth on plates by means of which we can fit the most difficult mouths successfully. We have made plates for people who have had plates made by half a dozen other dentists, and the plates we made wear, and made them successfully so that instead of being an irritation and annoyance they were a source of gratification to the wearers.

The teeth of the people of today are of a much poorer quality than those of our ancestors and it is a fortunate thing that folks are beginning to appreciate that fact and are taking care of them as they should.

I presume there are more maladies traceable to bad teeth than most people have any idea of. Even physicians are often ignorant of the ravages which a mouth full of bad teeth can do to the entire system. This being the case, and people appreciating the fact better and better every day as they are doing, it becomes the duty of the dentist to use every endeavor to keep up with the times. To seek out, to invent, to search for new and better methods, to use the nature's defects, and as the higher civilization causes the teeth of mankind to degenerate, to advance that which in the teeth of the organs of the body are being destroyed in the process of getting civilized.

Too much importance cannot be attached to the care of the teeth. In living, the proper cleansing of the teeth and mouth will do much to save them, but the services of a dentist are always required when decay has once commenced, and if these services are rendered honestly, conscientiously and thoroughly they are worth more than a mere money value to the patient.

In many of the Eastern cities there are lectures delivered to the children of the public schools, from practicing all professions and among the most important of all are these delivered on the proper care of the teeth.

We firmly believe in the proper education of our patients and to that end are working in our practice today.

HAVE A GOOD MINE.

The Snively Company Experts to be Shipping Ore Soon.

S. F. Snively, president of the Snively Mining company, and W. C. Sargent, one of the stockholders, came down from the Mesaba range last evening. They have been inspecting the Snively mine, which is on the northeast quarter of section 3, 5-18, and just east of the Mountain Iron mine. They are very enthusiastic over the prospects of this mine. The shaft at the principal test pit is down about 130 feet, ninety of which is in ore of a fine quality. A drift has been run northeast 181 feet all in solid ore and a further shaft at the end of this drift has been sunk about thirty feet which is bottomed in ore.

It is the intention of the company to put in machinery and a full force of men at once and work the mine to its full capacity and it will undoubtedly be one of the first shippers on the range.

Messrs. Snively and Sargent also visited, while on the range, the different mines near Mountain Iron and Virginia City and speak in the highest praise of the treatment they received from the various mining captains who took pains to show them around and explain the developments going on, especially at the Mountain Iron, Mesaba Mountain and Ohio mines.

THE WEATHERS CASE.

The Defendant Was Put on the Stand This Morning to Relate Her Story.

Her Testimony Would Indicate That She Has Not Been Informed of Her Husband's Death.

Claims She Was Threatened and That She Had No Intention of Shooting Zine.

The Weathers murder case was resumed in the district court this morning before Judge Ensign with the defendant on the stand. The woman testified that she is 23 years old and was born in St. Louis. She commenced living at Biwabik last September. Her husband's name is Jeff Weathers; she had heard that he was sick in Superior which was the reason of his non attendance at the trial. The house was located on Canton avenue at Biwabik. The witness ran a laundry at that place and named a number of her patrons. She remembered the day of the murder, and saw her husband for the last time at 7 o'clock in the evening. He went out of the house but did not say where he was going. People were in the habit of coming to her house for their laundry work. She did not know Zine, the murdered man, and never saw him before that Sunday evening.

The witness then detailed the visit of Larker and Zine to the house, their leaving and subsequent return at 9:30 o'clock, Larker carrying a club and lantern and Zine a revolver. She said that the former struck her and accused her of stealing money, and she ran into the front room. She declared that Zine three times threatened to shoot her. They went away and the witness locked the back door was getting ready to go up the street when the back door was kicked open. The witness started towards the kitchen where a lamp was burning dimly and saw Larker and Zine. Zine had a revolver in his hands and threatened to kill her.

The witness ran into the front room and the men pursued her, and Larker got between her and the bed. There were three Winchester rifles there lying on the floor near the bed, and the witness picked it up and went towards the kitchen. When the witness reached the kitchen the gun went off some way. Larker ran out the back door and Zine followed him. Zine did not fall in the kitchen and the witness saw him leave the house.

The balance of her testimony did not differ much from the other witnesses except that she reiterated that she was repeatedly threatened. She said that she picked up the gun to frighten them away.

County Attorney Tear was cross examining her at the hour of the noon adjournment.

Before Judge Brown the Breda damage suit finally reached the jury and it was still out. The consideration of the special term calendar was then taken up but scarcely anything was done before noon. There were nineteen cases docketed.

Judge Ensign has made the following resetting of jury cases for next week:

Monday—10, 21, 25, 48, 49.
Tuesday—72, 103, 75, 111, 73.
Wednesday—110, 91, 33.

Criminal cases will continue to be heard by Judge Ensign in room 1.

President McGregor was not present and no sensational or amusing happenings as the result of the late impeachment were produced, everything passing off quietly and in the usual manner.

A LAUGHABLE INCIDENT.

Supt. Greene Wrote to Himself and Then Deleted His Own Request.

There is going to be a new superintendent of the Union depot and the offices of division "chief" of the railroad and "boss" of the handsome union station will be held by different people hereafter. Well, it was to be expected, in view of a little incident which happened some months ago. It was something like this:

The Northern Pacific wanted some little alteration in depot regulations, and in order to have things go through the proper channel Francis Greene, as superintendent of the Lake Superior division, wrote to himself, as superintendent of the Union depot, making the desired request. Then he twisted around in his swinging chair and again facing his desk he took up the pen, not yet dry from the first letter and wrote, as superintendent of the Union depot, to himself as railroad superintendent denying the request.

It was a rather laughable experience but he could not do otherwise while the Union depot company upheld his decision, the railroad company frowned upon his diplomacy.

The Maro Entertainment.

The entertainment at the Temple last evening by the Edward Maro combination did not draw very well, only a small audience being in attendance. Professor Maro gave some very clever exhibitions of sleight of hand and magic and some of his tricks were very mystifying. He has not the dexterity of Hermann, but the latter has had years of experience, whereas Professor Maro is only a young man. The production of the flags of all nations, the meteoric ribbons and the incubation trick were all exceedingly clever. The musical portion of the program was very good and Edward L. Barker gave some impressive actions which were well received.

A Singular Coincidence.

It is a somewhat singular coincidence that Lizzie Weathers should be on trial in Duluth for murdering a man and that at the same time a man, William Lane, is being tried in Superior for the murder of her husband, Jeff Weathers. Both juries were drawn on the same day and the trials proceeded simultaneously. There are points analogous in the crimes. Both claim self defense. Lane was attempting to get a man from his house and Mrs. Weathers was keeping out an intruder.

A SLIM EXHIBITION.

A "Professor" Attempts to Show Something New in Spiritualism.

A small crowd of invited guests assembled in the third story of the Benz block last evening in response to the seductive announcement that something new in spiritual manifestations would be shown. "Prof." W. A. Hepford was the artist but between the disquieting influence of a Salvation Army on the corner below the room, and a too profuse perspiration on the part of the genial juggler of disembodied notions, the performance was not strictly first class.

The professor was led into a closet in lieu of a cabinet and was firmly anchored to the wall by Detective Thomas Hayden and was also harnessed to a gentleman selected from the audience. The professor said "lights" and the door was closed. Five minutes passed and the audience lit fresh cigars. Ten minutes rolled away and the silence was unbroken except by a Salvation lassie who was singing in a cracked old voice "Come holy spirit" on the street corner beneath.

Fifteen minutes were ushered into the great sea of the past and then came a few vigorous kicks on a banjo and then a heavy "phunk" of something on the floor. Again the professor called "lights" and the door was opened and he and the gentleman were discovered seated as before. The professor then did the old familiar ring trick and afterward announced that some other evening when he felt better he would give a better show.

THE POLITICAL COURSE.

That is What Maj. Baldwin is Quietly Pursuing in Regard to the Incoming Administration.

Not Likely to Approve the Cabinet Appointments, but He is Not Antagonizing the President.

The Major Has Mapped Out His Plan for the Coming Congress and is Fully Equipped.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—[Special to The Herald].—The timber that President-elect Cleveland has selected for his cabinet is not satisfactory to the Democratic masses. It would not be putting it too strong to say, in addition to this, that the majority of appointments for cabinet places are entirely unsatisfactory to the majority of voters in the party that has honored him with the presidential nomination for three successive terms. Dissatisfaction not only exists with the Democratic leaders in Washington but the same feeling is apparent in nearly every section. It is probable that if the opinions were obtained of the Democrats in Duluth, St. Louis county, and, in fact, take the entire state of Minnesota, it would be found that the vote would be ten to one against the cabinet as it is now made up. It is a fact, however, that not very many prominent Democratic leaders in Washington, or any other section of the country, are willing to go on record publicly as denouncing Mr. Cleveland for the action he has taken in appointing a man like Gresham for secretary of state, or for his old law partner, Mr. Blaine, for postmaster general, or Hoke Smith, of Georgia, who it is conceded is not a fit man to be placed at the head of the interior department.

Mr. Cleveland will probably find that he has made several serious blunders in selecting his cabinet, before four years have rolled around. The Herald correspondent is of the opinion that Maj. Baldwin would not go on record publicly as saying that he believed that Mr. Cleveland has taken the right course for the Democratic interest in other directions. Maj. Baldwin, however, is a good deal of a diplomat. He refuses to say anything whatever about Mr. Cleveland's course, either in making up his cabinet or in attempting to dictate to Democratic congressmen what they shall do as regards future legislation. It can easily be seen that the Duluth congressman is taking the right course in keeping quiet, provided they are not in line with Mr. Cleveland, as it is a ten to one vote, as a matter of course, that he is not thoroughly in line with the views of the incoming president.

Maj. Baldwin, being a new man in Washington official life, is keeping his vessel close to the wind, in order to secure the patronage for his constituents that he will naturally be expected to wish to secure for them. Like any other man, Maj. Baldwin does not care to jeopardize his own personal interests nor those of the Democrats who are depending on him for federal appointments, and any criticism, by him, of Mr. Cleveland would probably bring about the loss of the support of the party.

Maj. Baldwin will probably pursue the political course that he has mapped out for himself to the end of his term, and may so doing will be greatly increased by any trouble and thereby be able to do more for his constituents than would be otherwise the case.

As was telegraphed The Herald a few days ago, there is no indication, as yet, that any selections have been made for federal appointments for Minnesota, under the incoming administration. There are candidates galore, as is probably well known in Minnesota, and the number of applications for each federal place will probably be greatly increased between now and the time Mr. Cleveland, or those under him, will be able to give them any attention.

Mr. Cleveland has taken towards his party leads to the belief, by certain well posted Democrats, that he will be even more likely not to go for the heads of Republican office holders than he was during his first term in the chief executive chair.

Great fears are expressed by office seekers who are arriving in Washington, that Mr. Cleveland may allow a great many Republican officials to serve out their full terms before he makes any change. In the event that this is done, his administration will not be strengthened, and the enmity that will arise from his course in this respect is almost certain to endanger the Democratic party in future congressional and national campaigns. There are, however, some changes, of course, in some of the more prominent offices throughout the country at an early date, but that Mr. Cleveland will not hurry Republicans out of smaller offices is believed to be a fact. The supposition is general that there will be few changes in the post offices in the country before the terms of the present Republican incumbents expire. This, of course, will delay the appointment of a postmaster at Duluth until the term of Mr. Howard has expired. This leniency on the part of Mr. Cleveland will not be received with favor by old time Democrats, either in Duluth or any other section of the country where the conditions are similar to those which exist in the Zenith City at the present time.

The outlook at the present time seems to indicate that an extra session of congress is among the certainties of the future. Leading statesmen, who have closely watched events in the past few days, have arrived at the conclusion that it will be utterly impossible for Mr.

Cleveland to avoid calling congress together in extra session, even though he desires to do so. The opinion now is that an extra session will be called to meet on or before April 15, and there are many who predict that this extra session will last fully three months. One feature of the Sherman silver repeal bill, which Mr. Cleveland thinks should be put through early in the spring. There is no doubt whatever that the silver men will be nearly as strong in the next congress as they are in this.

The silverites successfully met every attempt to repeal the Sherman law at this session, and by the time that this congress adjourns, sine die, he will be as thoroughly posted as if he had served during the congressional session which will close on March 4. He has also been able to get into close touch with the different departments in the capital city, as well as everywhere else here, is waiting until he has accomplished The Herald correspondent can state that up to this time he has been very useful to his district by having remained here during the present winter.

The major is still reticent about what he desires to get from the next congress of necessity to his district, but he has mapped out his plan, and when the congressional battle finally opens he will be in a position to cope with anything that comes up. Of course, Maj. Baldwin is anxious to secure an increase for all waterway improvements that will benefit the great lakes, and further than this to secure appropriations to improve the harbors at Duluth and at other points along Lake Superior shores. The major, as well as everyone else here, is waiting until the inauguration of Cleveland, to find out whether it is true or not that an extra session will be called. In the event that no extra session is found necessary, it is probable that he will not return to Duluth until some time in midsummer.

THE COAL COMBINE SUED.
Hd Coal Yards at Milwaukee Attacked for a Claim.
MILWAUKEE, W. B. 25.—Suit was begun against the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company in the circuit court yesterday by the firm of Winkler, Flanders, Smith, Bottom & Viles, on a claim of $27,000 in behalf of the Brown Hoisting and Conveying Machine company, of Cleveland, Ohio.

An order of attachment was granted by Judge Johnson upon the company's coal yards in this city on Canal street and Muskegon avenue. This was served shortly before noon.

The suit grows out of the failure of the Philadelphia and Reading combine, the Brown company bringing suit for the value of machinery furnished, as far as can be learned. Winkler, Flanders, Smith, Bottom & Viles are acting merely as correspondents of the company's attorneys at Cleveland, from whom they await instructions by mail, having so far acted upon a telegram.

MET A HORRIBLE DEATH.
A Carpenter Crushed and Mangled in a Hog Scraper Vat.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 25.—George Heintz, a carpenter, lost his life in a horrible manner yesterday at Dad's slaughter house. Heintz was attempting to mend a leak in a hog scraper vat, a monster tub, filled with a sort of splasher with six arms equipped with sharp blades, which when in motion was designed to scrape the hair from the sides of the hogs.

Heintz concluded his work and the engine, supposing the vat had let the vat started the machinery. Hardly had the arms begun to revolve when a terrible shriek issued from the vat.

The machinery was quickly stopped and Heintz was found at the bottom of the vat with his head crushed and mangled and his neck broken. He died almost instantly.

It Caused a Sensation.
LONDON, Feb. 25.—A sensation has been caused in naval circles by the non concurrence of the lords of the admiralty in the acquittal of Vice Admiral Fairfax, of the British Mediterranean squadron and of Commander David L. Dickson, and Captain A. Hastings, of the Howe of the same squadron which stranded on November 2 at the entrance of Ferrol harbor, Spain.

How Does It Feel to be a Millionaire?
Was asked the other day of a rich man, "I never thought of that," he replied, "but now that you speak of it I believe that I am no better off, certainly not happier, than I was when I didn't have a dollar to my name and had to work from daylight to dark. I wore good suits of clothes then and I only wear one suit now. I relished three meals a day then a good deal more than I do three meals a day now. I had fewer cares, I slept better and I may add generally that I believe that I was far happier than I have been many times since I became a millionaire."

Lord Bacon was about right when he said that money was "like muck—no good use unless spread."

That is what the Metropolitan Insurance company is doing—spreading money. It is spreading it this year among 600,000 policy holders, the first year in which it has done so. It is spreading it in the form of a bonus, which is a bonus for the year ending December 31, 1892. It is spreading it in the form of a bonus, which is a bonus for the year ending December 31, 1892. ## IN UNCLE SAM'S NAVY.

A Duluthian Gives Some of His Experiences While in the Service of the United States.

Was on the Kearsage When She Gave Battle to the Alabama and Sank Her.

A Graphic Narrative of the Famous Naval Engagement—Some Stories of the Chinese.

One of the most memorable events of the dark days of the rebellion was the capture of the rebel privateer Alabama by the Federal man-of-war, Kearsage. One of the men who took part in that engagement and who swung his cap and sent lusty cheers across the waves when victory perched on the stars and stripes floating from the masthead of the gallant Union ship, now lives in Duluth. His name is O'Brien and he is on guard and custodian at the city hall.

A Herald reporter was recently fortunate enough to find Mr. O'Brien both in a talkative mood and with an hour of leisure at his command. The story of his six years spent in the United States navy and some facts concerning that welcome victory over the Alabama by the Kearsage was the result, as the following story will show:

"I entered the navy in 1872 when only 13 years of age," said the narrator. "I was placed on the receiving ship Vermont, then in Brooklyn navy yard. From that I was transferred to the Albatross, and then to the Hartford. In August, 1873, at Charlestown navy yard, I was drafted onto the Kearsage, Capt. Winslow commanding. I was a member of the old navy and a traitor to the Union flag, had ravaged the seas for two years and captured about sixty-six vessels, burned over fifty of them, and struck terror to the entire merchant marine of the United States. The rebel ship was looked upon as a pirate ship, and the Kearsage for her cowardly plan of attacking defenseless merchantmen and by combined aid of engines and sails escaping less than seventy miles so as to prevent the entire merchant marine of the United States. "Sunday, June 12, 1864, we laid at anchor in the harbor of Hong Kong. We received a telegram from the United States consul at Paris giving the information that the Alabama was in the harbor of Hong Kong. ## MR. HATCH WILL FIGHT.

Says There is a Conspiracy in the House to Prevent Consideration of the Anti-Option Bill.

He Does Not Propose to be Downed and Will Fight Other Measures Until March 4.

Rumor That the Anti-Option and Sherman Bills Will be Passed by Means of Cloture.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A pronounced anti-silver representative is authority for the statement that an agreement has been reached between Messrs. Holman and Hatch, whereby the anti-option bill will be taken up and the Sherman amendment to the sundry civil bill disposed of by means of cloture.

Mr. Hatch will aid Mr. Holman in the passage of the anti-option bill, and Mr. Holman will vote his friends to aid Mr. Hatch in taking up the anti-option bill. There is not a word of truth in it, or any foundation for it. I firmly believe that there is a distinct agreement and conspiracy between the opponents of the anti-option bill, the friends of the repeal of the act known as the Sherman act and the friends of the senate rider to a house bill which provides a new lease of life to the free silver Democrats. The consideration of the anti-option bill, in order that the measures may be adopted. This conspiracy and combination I propose to fight by every means in my power from now till 12 o'clock on March 4."

Further inquiry into the above noted agreement resulted in the disclosure of another agreement that makes it probable that there will be no fight in the house over the Sherman bond amendment, which the free silver Democrats have reported an agreement that the bill shall be sent to conference without the house first considering the Sherman bond amendment and then the Sherman bond amendment and acting on the same. It is understood that the house conferees will stand firm against the Sherman bond amendment, and that the senate conferees will come back there shall then be a vote on this amendment by the house.

The silver men say that they can make their fight then if the senate should refuse to yield, and that if they vote in advance of the conference it might happen that the bill would go into conference with the house concurring in the senate bond amendment.

TO THE ARCTIC ONCE MORE.
Lieut. Peary Will Probably Head Another Expedition.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—That Lieut. Peary will undertake another expedition to the Arctic regions, and under the auspices of the Geographical club of this city, is almost assured. The legislative committee of the club has considered the proposition of Lieut. Peary favorably, but the final decision will not be made for several days.

Peary proposes that the club shall raise $200,000 or $300,000 of the $200,000 or $250,000 needed for the expenses. The remainder is to be advanced from his own resources, but the expedition is to be under the auspices of the club. In return for this Lieut. Peary agrees to turn over to the club whatever collections of scientific value he may make. The expedition may require two or three years.

The object of the expedition is the determination of detached land north of the main Greenland, and the unknown portion of the east coast; the determination of the true profile of the Greenland inland ice cap, from Cape Bismark to Ingfield gulf, a detailed survey of the whole sound and Ingfield gulf, and further studies of the Arctic Highlands and a collection of natural objects of the region.

TRIBUTE FROM MR. HILL.
President Hill Speaks Highly of the Santa Fe's First President.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 25.—President J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern, says of Mr. Manuel: "He came to the Great Northern in 1881 as assistant general manager, and in eight years he rose to the position of vice president of the road. In 1889 he went to the Santa Fe road to accept the presidency. He was one of the most active, industrious, devoted men I have ever known, and his capabilities were phenomenal."

"He was a man who had come up over all of the steps in the ladder, and he knew all of the details of the business from the lowest position to the highest. He applied himself so closely to the minutiae, that not an incident connected with the road, or a detail in its management, escaped his observation. It was this close observation and application to business which, in my opinion, brought on his untimely death. He was a man of correct habits, and of magnificent character."

Creditors in the Lurch.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 25.—Morris Reiss, agent for D. H. Baldwin & Co.'s business, has left for parts unknown, leaving the company and many creditors in the lurch. Some days ago letters were sent out by the company to its creditors, stating that the company was in liquidation, and that a robbery would occur in a few days. All employees are carrying a brace of six shooters and a force of armed men sleep in the office at night.

CORBETT IS COMING.

The Great Pugilist Champion to Appear at the Temple Monday in "Gentleman Jack."

Edith Ross Scottish Concert Company at the Lyceum Under the Auspices of Clan Stewart.

Mrs. James Brown Potter and Kylie Bellw in a New Adaptation of a Dumas Play.

The theaters during this week have had plenty of attractions, but have not had very good houses. The Lyceum has fared the best. "Miss Helyett" despite the fact that Lottie Collins was missing drew a large audience, but the non-appearance of the Englishwoman kept many away. The Travesty club burlesque "Romeo and Juliet" drew good houses both at the matinee and evening performances.

The Temple did not make much off the MacLean-Prescott engagement, the two evening and the matinee performances drawing very small houses. This is undoubtedly due in a large measure to the fact that the company put on a new play here—an unknown quantity, "U and I," on Thursday evening, drew a fair audience.

On Monday evening the Champion James J. Corbett will appear at the Temple in "Gentleman Jack," and that the house will be packed from pit to dome is a foregone conclusion. On Tuesday evening the Edith Ross Scottish Concert company appears at the Lyceum under the auspices of Clan Stewart.

CHAMPION JIM CORBETT.

He Will Appear at the Temple Monday in "Gentleman Jack."

Next Monday evening, at the Temple Opera, Champion James J. Corbett will assume the roles of college student, bank clerk, professor of boxing and champion pugilist in Charles T. Vincent's play of "Gentleman Jack." All of these roles this somewhat remarkable young man has played in real life, as Dramaust Vincent took memorable incidents in Corbett's life and wove them into the play. Corbett was known as a college student while acquiring his education at the college of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco; he was known as a bank clerk while filling this responsible position as paying teller of the Nevada bank of San Francisco. He was afterwards professor of boxing at the well-known Olympic Athletic club of San Francisco, and on the twenty-fourth day of September was proclaimed the champion heavy weight pugilist of the world at New Orleans.

While in the employ of the Nevada

Bank, he often appeared in amateur theatrical performances in which he made a reasonable success, of the parts assigned him for interpretation. Manager W. A. Brady saw Corbett in an amateur performance, and realizing that he was an intelligent fellow with a handsome face and a pleasing stage presence, offered him an engagement with one of his numerous theatrical companies, which was accepted.

The several scenes in the play of "Gentleman Jack" present a view of the campus at Payne College, the Madison Square roof garden, Corbett's training quarters at Asbury Park, and the historical ring side of the Olympic Club at New Orleans. Assurance is given that all these scenes were especially painted from photographs taken on the spot. A careful selection was made by Manager Brady in securing the present company, the individual members of which were culled from such admirable organizations as A. M. Palmer, Augustin Da y and Daniel Frohman's stock companies.

A SCOTTISH CONCERT.

The Edith Ross Concert Company at the Lyceum Next Week.

The next attraction at the Lyceum will be the Edith Ross Grand Scottish Concert company which comes for one night, next Tuesday. It will be under the auspices of Clan Stewart, which fact alone is a guarantee of the merit of the company, but Miss Edith Ross is well known here having visited Duluth some time ago with an excellent company, and was enthusiastically received. This year's company includes Miss A. M. Thomas, soprano; Miss Nannie Baxter, soprano; Miss Edith Ross, contralto; Miss M. C. Reade, violinist; Miss Mary McNeill, Highland dancer; R. F. Shearer, tenor; James Black, baritone; James Lumsden, imitable humorist and character comedian; Patterson Cross, musical director.

A THEATRICAL REVIEW.

There Are No Offerings of Importance Now in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—There is a startling poverty of good new things at the theaters just now. There are of course some excellent holdovers, but no notable first offerings.

Mrs. James Brown Potter, who now calls herself plain Mrs. Potter on the playbills, and Kylie Bellw, who has shrunk on the programme to Mr. Bellw, are attracting large audiences to the Fourteenth Street theater, where they are giving the younger Dumas' 3-act comedy, "Francillon," under the title of "The Marriage Specter." It is conspicuously announced in a note preceding the printed cast of characters that the play has been specially adapted with the author's full consent and approval.

Like all of Dumas' plays, "The Marriage Specter" is principally told instead of acted by the people on the stage. It is not as had in this respect, however, as "Camille," for that is perhaps the most plitudinous drama ever written which has achieved success. "The Marriage Specter," despite its excessive talkiness and straining after bright quips, is intensely and unremittently interesting. This is the more remarkable in view of the fact that everything in the play has to do with a single episode, and not a particularly startling one at that. "The Marriage Specter" professes to port a moral, instead it is a disgusting exhibition of the depravity of human nature. The one sensitively and exquisitely pure creature of the play makes suggestive jokes, lies and does many other things which we have been taught to believe would not be proper in our mothers, wives and sisters. As long as Dumas sticks to women of the Camille stripe he paints with apparent fidelity, but it is impossible for him to use pure white successfully, for he invariably employs such ardent colors for his background that the picture is either sickly in appearance or conspicuously unreal. This is the case in "The Marriage Specter."

KYLIE BELLW.

At one moment the auditor is disgusted with Francine de Riverolles' ostentatiously advertised purity of thought and action, and the next moment he is aggravated by a remark which shows that she is at least cognizant of the fact that there is such a thing as wickedness in the world. Still, despite all its defects, as I have already said, "The Marriage Specter" is a really interesting play.

Stripped of its side coloring, which appears to have been introduced for the sole purpose of prolonging the entertainment to the proper limit, the plot of "The Marriage Specter" is about as follows: Lucien de Riverolles (Mr. Bellw) is the husband of Francine de Riverolles (Mrs. Potter). They have been married about one year and have a child. Lucien, who has decidedly peculiar ideas as to the sanctity of the marriage relation, has renounced his allegiance to a woman of questionable repute, to whom he had been warmly devoted prior to his marriage.

Francine suspects the true condition of affairs, and upon learning from her husband that he is going to a lurid bal masque begs him to take her with him. He laughs at her and refuses. Then follows a discussion as to the relative duties of husband and wife, which, although couched in beautiful and cogent language, becomes decidedly tedious. Francine warns Lucien that if she learns that he has been unfaithful to her she will within the hour resent the insult by forgetting her marriage vows, and adds that he shall be the first to learn of her sin and his disgrace. Lucien ridicules her, ignores the threat and starts for his club en route to the ball. His wife follows soon after and alone. This ends the first act.

The next morning Francine confesses to her husband that she had followed him to his club, thence to the bal masque and afterward to the maison d'or, where she had passed the night in a room adjoining the one occupied by Lucien and his companion in the company of an unknown man whom she had met at the ball. She gives her story verisimilitude by relating certain incidents and by showing a duplicate of the supper order given by her husband.

Lucien, a not very pleasant and uninteresting man, is thus proved to be such in this country, and it has already given way to another 3-act play. It deals with the adventures of a judge, who, hearing a noise, comes down stairs and is there captured by a burglar whom he had sentenced to imprisonment on many occasions. The breaker of law conceives the unique idea of having some fun with the administrator of law. He accordingly compels the judge to drink bad gin from an ill smelling bottle, to execute a song and dance and to do other absurd things before he ties him to a chair and escapes by the window.

I could easily devote a column to an exposition of the demerits and absolute inanity of "The Judge and the Burglar," but it is not worthy of criticism. When the curtain fell on it, much to the relief of the audience, there was to be a theatrical expression, "not a single hand." That tells the tale better than it could be told in words.

Succeeding "The Judge and the Burglar" was "The Sportsman," an adaptation from the French by William Leacock, the man who put "Jane" into English. The piece is announced as a comedy, but it is in reality a very farcical farce. There is not a single incident in it which is probable, and very few that are possible in these days. Still, after the first act it goes with a rattly bang, slam, bliff sort of dash that makes it a really agreeable entertainment.

JOSEPH HOLLAND AS THE SPORTSMAN, a suspiciously glib and uninteresting man, appearing to believe her story, specifically accuses her of infidelity the night before at the maison d'or and names the chief clerk of his notary as her companion. Then the real, true woman is supposed to come to the surface. Francine forgets momentarily the role she has assumed and indignantly denies the truth of her husband's accusation. The other characters walk on. Francine sees that she is entrapped and surrenders gracefully. Lucien does not promise to be good in future, but the author evidently intends the audience to believe that he will be. The plot, as will readily be seen, is as unoriginal as the enormous fortunes which are said to be lying in the Bank of England awaiting American claimants, but the air of circumstantiality and the attention to detail which Dumas has supplied serve to render the casual and obvious to its absurd deductions, impossible development and outrageously unattractive and stupid denouement.

Mrs. Potter has greatly improved during the few years she has been on the stage. There is no denying that. She is now an excellent actress of limited power and some mimeticisms.

Kylie Bellw of course cannot quit posing any more than he can cease to resemble Henry Irving. He is always a fair actor, and if circumstances had treated him less kindly he might have been a great one. But in "The Marriage Specter" Mr. Bellw, in endeavoring to depict repressed emotion, counteracts some scenes which should be intensely serious. His work vividly recalls Charles Coghlan—it is so different. Bellw is Bellw first, actor afterward.

I say a thing designated on the playbills as "An unconsidered trifle," by P. C. Phillips and C. H. Brookfield, entitled "The Judge and the Burglar," at the Standard theater a few nights ago. It is said that this certain raiser is now running at the Court theater, London, where it has made a great hit. "The Judge and the Burglar" is truly "an unconsidered trifle." At least it has proved to be such in this country, and it has already given way to another 3-act play. It deals with the adventures of a judge, who, hearing a noise, comes down stairs and is there captured by a burglar whom he had sentenced to imprisonment on many occasions. The breaker of law conceives the unique idea of having some fun with the administrator of law. He accordingly compels the judge to drink bad gin from an ill smelling bottle, to execute a song and dance and to do other absurd things before he ties him to a chair and escapes by the window.

GEORGE DREW BARRYMORE.

The plot of "The Sportsman" is exaggeratedly microscopic. Harry Briscoe, when he was married, promised his bride that he would never gamble again. And he doesn't for some time. But gradually he drops back into his old habits and becomes a member of the Bachelors' club. In order to explain his frequent all night absences from home he buys a shooting suit, gun and other paraphernalia and tells his wife that he goes to the country to shoot with his old friend Perkins. In reality he goes to the club.

Dr. Holroyd, a friend of the family and an erstwhile rejected suitor for Mrs. Briscoe's hand, first arouses that lady's suspicions by insinuating that perhaps her husband does not go shooting at all. In support of his theory he mentions that the sportsman, when he brings home hares and rabbits, and then cites the undeniable zoological fact that the pointer's is the only place at which these animals can be found together. Briscoe, however, who could easily put Ananias to the blush, explains away the insinuation and starts in his shooting costume for the club. Matters are still further complicated by the arrival of Perkins at this most inopportune moment. He nearly stuns Mrs. Briscoe by informing her that he never shoots, and that he has not laid eyes on her husband in several years.

Mrs. Briscoe goes for advice to Dr. Holroyd, whose apartments happen to be in the same house with the Bachelors' club. The opportunities for fun are then almost limitless, and the actors' efforts are rewarded with roars of laughter until matters are finally straightened out.

Joseph Holland as the sportsman and truth distorter, Harry Briscoe, was excellent. It is difficult to conceive any possible improvement upon his work. He dashes through his part with a vim that is irresistible and invents lies with a solemnity that is delightful. George Drew Barrymore was the alternately confounding and suspecting wife, and of course gave a creditable performance. A good "bit" was contributed by Miss Margaret Craven, who, in the part of a servant girl, was very May Kobonish. "The Sportsman" is not nearly so funny as "Jane," but it will probably serve to amuse for some time to come.

There will be grand opera in Italian next season at the Metropolitan Opera House, and Henry E. Abbey will have charge of it. That announcement is equivalent to saying that it will be first class grand opera. The details of the arrangement between Mr. Abbey and the gentlemen who have bought the opera house are unimportant to the public, but every person who has closely followed the case since the fire has known for some time that as long as a certain score of millionaires live in New York there will be grand opera on an elaborate scale, no matter what it might cost.

BOQUET OF THE BUDS.

A Glance at Some of the Interesting Debutantes at Washington During the Present Season.

They Were Not so Numerous as Last Season, but Were Very Charming and Attractive.

How the Daughters of Leading Men in Politics and Law Were Introduced to Society.

There were not so many blossoms added to the "rosebud garden of girls" this season as last, but they were very charming and attractive ones. There were more or less elaborate services to introduce them. No matter how much a girl has gone around, she is not considered "out," except by quite old-fashioned folk, until some such formal presentation has been made. After that she is invited by all her friends to assist in entertaining the busy throng of callers, and she can joys it immensely, pouring innumerable cups of tea and looking so pretty while doing it that the average man—and woman, too—is apt to drink more of the not always cheering beverage than is strictly healthful, just for the pleasure of looking at her. Almost all the debutantes are bloomed very fast. Sometimes two or three would make their bows the same afternoon.

It was at a very pretty tea that Miss Grayson Wendling, second daughter of the eloquent and well known lecturer, Mr. George R. Wendling, was presented by her parents to their large circle of friends. Her old Christian name is that of her mother's family—the Graysons of Georgetown and Virginia. For her I fancy, it is usually shortened into Grace, which is quite appropriate. She is barely 18, tall and well formed, with good features, clear, creamy complexion, light brown hair and lovely dark, brown eyes. She has been carefully educated, especially in music, and sings sweetly.

Her older sister, Frances, was introduced last year, but owing to illness in the family went out so little that she is almost as much a debutante as Miss Grayson. She, too, is tall and slender, has fair complexion, blue eyes and hair so dark that it is almost black. Among her accomplishments is the ability to speak several languages.

Miss Alice Delcamp, daughter of the late General W. W. Delcamp, was presented by her mother at another pretty tea. The pair made a lovely picture as they stood together, recollecting their many friends. Mrs. Delcamp is tall, superbly formed, dark haired and dark eyed. Her daughter is like her in height and shape, has her dark eyes and brows, with a profusion of golden hair, and complexion of purest pink and white. She is well educated, clever and accomplished in many ways, and a daring and graceful rider.

Miss Cornelia Day McLanahan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McLanahan, is a tall and graceful girl, with large brown eyes, clear, warm complexion and wavy, dark auburn hair, which is worn in a large coil at the back of her shapely head. She is descended from good old Revolutionary families of New York and Pennsylvania and has been carefully educated, chiefly abroad. She speaks several languages with ease, is a graceful horsewoman and an accomplished whistler. Her parents have a beautiful summer home on the Hudson and a handsome residence here. The tea given to introduce their daughter was an elegant affair.

Maude Virginia Peyton Walcott, daughter of Colonel William H. Walcott, U. S. A., retired, belongs to a musical family—father, mother and children all playing upon some kind of instrument. This young lady is equally at home with piano, drum, tambourine and one or two other instruments; so, very naturally, the tea given for her debut merged into a musical. Like most of her sister blossoms, she is tall and slender, has a fair complexion, fine teeth, hazel eyes and wavy chestnut hair.

SARA BAINBRIDGE SHIELDS.

A charming and cultured girl is Sara Bainbridge Shields, daughter of General George H. Shields, assistant attorney general for the interior department. She is well up for so young a girl in the best literature of the day, and speaks fluently French, German and Spanish. She was introduced at an enjoyable and largely attended tea. Mrs. Shields, an accomplished and agreeable woman, is corresponding secretary of the Daughters of the Revolution. This pleasant family will probably return to their former home in St. Louis soon after the coming of the new administration and will be missed by a large circle of warm friends.

To introduce their second daughter, Margaret Katherine, Senator and Mrs. Calvin S. Brice of Ohio gave a superb tea, followed by a dance, in their new home, the historic Corcoran mansion on H street. For months workmen had been beautifying the old house, and society was on tiptoe to see the result, to say nothing of welcoming another member of this popular family. Miss Kate, as she is usually called, though not one of the tall girls, is of fair height and good figure. She has dark eyes and soft brown hair, put back rather plaitly. Like her sister Helen, a great favorite here, she has been very carefully educated.

All of Chief Justice and Mrs. Melville W. Fuller's large family of girls are bright, pretty and attractive. One of the brightest, prettiest and most attractive is Katherine, the fifth or sixth—I am not sure which, as they all married and went away before society had much chance to become acquainted with them. She is not very tall, but so slim and erect that one thinks her taller than she is. She is daintily rounded, light and graceful as a bird. Her smiling gray eyes have a hint of blue in them, and her hair is crowned with short golden brown curls. Her manner is very natural and pleasing. She talks well and is altogether a charming young girl.

A pretty, well rounded little girl, with brown hair, laughing brown eyes and round, dimpled face, is Marie Williamson, daughter of Chief Engineer Thom Williamson, U. S. N., for whom a pleasant tea was given at the family residence on Rhode Island avenue. She is one of several accomplished sisters, is quite musical, playing the piano particularly well.

The usual programme was changed for the coming out of Miss Edith Morton, the vice president's eldest daughter. A dinner was given, with a cotillion afterward. There was no crowding, for the number of guests was limited—a difficult task, I should think, for Mr. and Mrs. Morton, who have such a large circle of personal friends. Miss Morton wore pink instead of the usual white gown of the debutante. Pink roses were everywhere in profusion, and the pretty favors for the women were pink too.

Miss Morton, one of the tallest of the new girls, is fair, with soft, pale brown hair, good features, a lovely expression and most charming and refined manner. She has been carefully educated, chiefly at home under her mother's eye, and is a credit in every way to her gracious and high bred parents.

Adelle Ashworth Enloe, daughter of Representative B. A. Enloe of Tennessee, is a charming type of the southern girl. Tall, slender and graceful, she has black curly hair, dark blue eyes and delicately fair complexion, with rose tints in the cheeks.

Another attractive girl, who graced out, as it were, without a formal announcement, is Valentina Mendonca, the youngest of the Brazilian minister's four daughters. She is a real Spanish girl in appearance, has dark eyes and hair, heavily pencilled brows and clear olive skin. She is a fearless and graceful horsewoman, as are her sisters, and speaks English as well as her native tongue, but then most of her life has been spent here, so why shouldn't she? Her charming stepmother is an American woman, but looks as much a Spaniard as any of her girls.

Miss Amy Lister, daughter of Colonel G. N. Lister, judge advocate general of the war department, was one of the attractive girls whose coming out was celebrated by an elegant tea. She is one of the tall buds, has soft, light brown hair, fair complexion, good features and gray blue eyes, is accomplished and very agreeable in manner.

Still another bud and a most charming one is Marion Gratz Crosby, daughter of Adair Gratz, whose home for many years has been in this city. She is of good height and figure, has brown eyes and hair, fair complexion and a sweet smile. She has been carefully educated and has a very refined and pleasing manner.

That by rubbing with a flannel cloth, dipped in whiskey, the brown discoloration may be taken off the cups which have been used for looking.

That a little powdered herax in help's bath water prevents the little one's skin from chafing, and he is not so liable to "break out with the heat."

Among the best and stylish models for house dresses for the early spring are the new French effects in thin, light green, garnet, red, purple, brown and other fashionable shades, with round waists of self-colored check in green and cream, brown and cream, red and purple, black and white, etc.—New York Post.

COL. SILLOWAY SPEAKS.

What a Colonel of Gen. McClellan's Staff Says.

He Saved President Lincoln From Capture.

He Was the Preserver Also of John Jacob Astor.

Col. William A. H. Silloway is 60 years old. He resides at Bellows Falls, Vt., and is connected with the Bellows Falls Times. He has something of the most vital interest to say to his fellow soldiers of the G. A. R., and to his fellow men the world over.

In "Rifle Shots and Bullet Shells," there can be found a sketch of Silloway, wherein it is shown that he indirectly saved the Union, when, in 1863, he prevented the capture of Lincoln by the Confederates. He also saved John Jacob Astor from a similar fate in 1862, in the Peninsula campaign. Col. Silloway served four years and eight months in the army and navy during the war, and from April 1861, to Feb. 1863, he served his country without pay or reward of any kind.

He knew all the Union generals and Secretary Stanton and Mr. Welles. He was lieutenant-colonel on Gen. McClellan's staff in 1862. Col. Silloway is a practical printer, engineer and linguist. He has set to work in Greek, French, Spanish, Latin and Hebrew. He was employed during five years at Oxford, Eng., on Homer's Greek bible, and there, in 1859, the degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him. His first wife was a daughter of Sir William Blackie and niece of Sir Richard Houghton. His present wife is a relative of Hon. William M. Evans, and a very gifted lady.

Col. Silloway is a very modest man, and only consented to talk to the writer after it was shown that it would be criminal for him to keep his knowledge to himself. He had taken two-thirds of his life's story as it fell from his lips. He saw it written out and he endorsed every word of it.

"On April 19, 1861, I enlisted in the army of the North. I weighed 162 pounds. After serving four years and eight months in the army and navy, and suffering from wounds and rheumatism I was discharged. I weighed the day I was discharged 100 pounds. Every year I had attacks of nervous prostration; shortness of breath, and loss of appetite were not the least of my misfortunes. I tried numerous things. Nothing did me any good.

While employed in Boston, I was compelled to resign my position on account of ill health. I consulted several eminent physicians and took their medicines. No use—I grew worse day after day. They told me I could not live. I could not walk alone in the street without falling or clinging to railings. Had spells of falling down in the office and on the street. In the house I had to lie down or drop down. Several times I believed I was at death's door.

I had been a commander of three different G. A. R. posts and my comrades advised me to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I bought a bottle and used it. I had taken two-thirds of my life's story as it fell from his lips. He saw it written out and he endorsed every word of it.

BEAUTY AND ENTHUSIASM.

Miss Grace Margaret Gould Possesses These Attractive Attributes. Beauty and journalism do not always travel together—in fact, there are some very clever newspaper writers who are not altogether fair to look upon. New York, however, is exceptionally fortunate in having nearly a score of really beautiful scribes whose work finds its way daily into the public press.

GRACE MARGARET GOULD.

Miss Grace Margaret Gould, formerly of Albany, but for the past year a resident of busy New York, may lay claim to being one of these. Miss Gould is tall, dark and very winning in manner, with eyes of warm brown.

But it is not of her appearance alone that Miss Gould may be justly proud, for she is one of a busy staff of bustling reporters, and her daily work is both arduous and varied. All sorts of topics come from her facile pen. She writes child's stories, does fashion in dress and in furniture, reports committee meetings and writes up balls, weddings and food exhibits.

The life of a New York newspaper woman is a busy one, and as Miss Gould declares, a woman must put all her time, her intellect and her character into her work, or she will not be a success.

At present, Miss Gould is writing a book on the life of a New York newspaper woman, and she is sure to be a success.

WOMAN'S WORLD IN PARAGRAPHS.

This Paragraph is Written Especially For Young Men to Read. Among my friends is a young woman who has lately refused three different offers of marriage. She is a strong, beautiful, quietly girl, who supports herself handsomely by a work she has chosen. She is attractive in society, and people wonder why she does not marry. She herself has no aptitude to marriage and would make one of the sweetest, noblest of wives. Why does she not marry? When asked that question by intimate friends, she answers simply, "I don't know anybody I would have."

With admirers in plenty she tells the literal truth. The young men who offer themselves to her are of a type which is lamentably common in all cities—just the ordinary, well dressed, undersized, scrawny, cigarette smoking, alcohol drinking youth who is proud of going on the "highway" of "vice," and who, whenever you would rather spell it, One of the three my young lady liked almost well enough to marry. But the tainted atmosphere of his past life followed him and clung to him in spite of himself, having him out forever from the pure home brought to him. The ordinary type of city youth whom girls meet is apt to be of the kind I mention. There is another type, somewhat rarer, thick necked, red faced, rather resenting the peevish habit. From these two classes the strong, beautiful, quietly girl whom our time is developing must choose a husband, if she takes one at all. The number of those who do not take any is increasing. Where is the ideal lover that all women dream of, the little, erect, manly, broad shouldered youth, with cheeks rose tinted by health and a clean life, with brilliant eyes and flashing white teeth, the boy of Frank, merry soul, with heart and brain full of noble aspirations? Undoubtedly there are such royal lovers still for our young American queens, but where are they? Answer me that. Bring them on the scene and take away three serious, tired young women with their muddy complexions, discolored teeth and mean little foxy ambitions! The 20th century woman is weary of the sight of them.

Mrs. Lynde Craig has been admitted to practice as a lawyer in all the courts of California.

A great step has been made in the higher education of women in Germany. Nine liberal minded professors of the University of Gottingen offer private courses to women students in various branches, ranging from church history to experimental psychology. That so many German professors in one university favor woman's education is encouraging indeed.

"Bachelor girls" are very much the fashion now. There is a great difference between a bachelor girl and an old maid. An old maid is a woman who missed matrimony and had no other resource to which to turn. A bachelor girl is an unmarried woman who earns her living in a merry, independent way and feels that she will never be left, whether she marries or not. There are not many old maids now.

The first woman to be elected assistant surgeon-general in a legislature is Mrs. M. A. Anderson of Little Rock, who was placed in her office by the Arkansas legislature. Her duties mostly consist in distributing mail among the members and sending their letters to the post.

Permit me to suggest the following as a question for discussion by women's clubs: What effect will learning the carpenter trade have on a man's career as a husband and father?

The Massachusetts farmers at their convention in Boston voted unanimously in favor of municipal suffrage for women. They did more. They passed a resolution asking the legislature to enact a law enabling women to vote for school committees on the same terms that men do.

At present, Miss Gould is writing a book on the life of a New York newspaper woman, and she is sure to be a success.

TIME REQUIRED TO CURE CATARRH.

"How long does it take to cure catarrh?"

This is a proper and important question, and in answering it a great many things have to be taken into consideration. First, the kind of catarrh. Is it hypertrophic or atrophic, moist or dry, ulcerative, foul smelling, etc?

Is it purely local, that is, simply confined to the nose and throat, or has it extended to the eyes, ears, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., causing severe moods upon the general health?

Again, a great deal depends upon the peculiarity of the patient. Some patients are peculiarly susceptible to the catarrhal poisons, some yield readily to treatment while others do not. Some take their medicines with clock-work regularity and take good care of their general health, while others do not. As much depends upon the faithfulness of the patient as on the skill of the physician.

As a general rule, it takes about three or four months to cure an ordinary case of catarrh, where all the conditions are favorable. Some aggravated cases require a much longer time, five or six months, and even if cured in one year the patient should be very happy and grateful.

There is one thing Dr. Copeland and his associates desire to impress upon their patients, and that is that continuous and persistent treatment is necessary. The more experience they have the more convinced they are of this fact. Catarrh, or, in fact, any other chronic or long-standing disease, cannot be cured in a month. Under their method of treatment the results are often so rapid a patient will sometimes feel as well at the end of a month that he imagines he is cured, and does not need any more treatment, but such a one often has to return in a year, or at the approach of cold weather, and resume treatment again.

"I Have Come Back Again!" Is an expression frequently heard by Drs. Copeland, Hunt & Drenning. "I wish I had taken your advice and continued throughout the full course, but I felt so well I thought I never would be sick again. I see now that you were right, it takes time to bring the tissues to a perfectly healthy condition, and I am going to follow your advice implicitly and stay under treatment as long as you dictate."

Evidence of Systematic Treatment. Mr. Gillon has been a resident of Duluth for three years, for the last year and a half he has been an efficient member of the police force of this city. Being all known for truth and veracity his statement cannot fail to carry conviction to the hearts of his many friends.

Mr. Gillon said: "I have been treating at the Copeland Medical Institute for only six weeks and in that short time my rapid improvement was a surprise to both me and the attendant physician. The reason for my rapid progress is that I took the treatment in a regular systematic way as laid down to me by the doctor. My greatest trouble," said the gentleman, "was with the nose and stomach. The latter organ would blot up and I would be sick after the shortest of meals. There was a soreness over the pit of my stomach, especially when empty, and felt as though two raw surfaces were rubbing together. A thin watery discharge was constantly passing from my nose that caused a continual application of the handkerchief, thus giving me no end of trouble. After the short course of treatment I have undergone I am comparatively free from the nasal discharge and my stomach is not the source of trouble and anxiety as heretofore. I can endorse the Copeland system of treatment as having done much for me in the short time I have been treating at that institute."

Notable Cerebralists. The location of the offices of the Copeland Medical Institute in the city of Duluth is a permanent one. Their leases and contracts are for a term of years. Dr. Copeland is a graduate of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College of New York City; was president of his classes in that famous institution, and, after thorough hospital training, and experience, devoted his entire time and attention to the special lines of practice named below. Passed through a similar course, Dr. Hunt and Dr. Drenning also devote themselves exclusively to the treatment of these specialties. Years of experience in their special lines, preceded by extensive hospital work, have fitted them in a notable degree for the practice of their profession.
